Locked Out: A Texas Legal Guide to Reentry is a project of Beacon Law, Texas RioGrande Legal Aid and Texas C-BAR (Community Building with Attorney Resources).

This Guide is intended to assist advocates and others who help people experiencing the often difficult transition from incarceration to mainstream society. It summarizes a few of the most burdensome legal obstacles caused by a criminal record and provides guidance on how to effectively manage these barriers to reentry. The resources referenced in this Guide are publicly available and can be accessed from any public library that offers internet service. We hope that the guidance and resources provided will be of use to practitioners in legal service and their clients, as well as criminal attorneys who hope to provide a more holistic defense and support for their clients.

Beacon Law gratefully acknowledges all of the work accomplished by Texas RioGrande Legal Aid and Texas C-Bar in the creation of the original Guide published in 2012 and especially the privilege they have generously given us to build on their work and produce these successive editions.

We welcome your comments and suggestions for improvements to this Guide.

INTRODUCTION

The United States has the highest documented incarceration rate in the world, housing nearly one-quarter of the world's prisoners.¹ Nearly one in every 100 adults in the United States is behind bars. One in 5 incarcerated people are locked up for a drug related offense.² When probation and parole are included, the number of adults under some form of correction supervision rises to one in 31.³

On any given day, Texas' massive state corrections system houses a daily average of 163,000 inmates in 110 state correctional facilities.⁴ Texas' 246 county lockups house an additional 41,000 prisoners each day. Over half of the people in the county jails (63%) are not serving a sentence and are being detained for other reasons. There are nearly four times as many prisons and jails in Texas (360) as there are university campuses statewide (94).

This represents an increase over data from 2010 but the count is not reflective of the landscape as a whole. Other reforms afforded courts more sentencing options for new offenders that permitted non prison-based sanctions for parole violations. In recent years, more inmates have been granted parole and for shorter terms.⁵ Fewer people are returning to prison for minor infractions and are suffering fewer sanctions for violating conditions of release.⁶

A positive trend is emerging.

The newly released are expected to return to their communities, contribute to the tax base and participate constructively in society. For many, successful reentry - meaningful participation in society – remains a myth. All too often, people with a criminal record find themselves locked out of employment, shelter, public benefits, access to health care – everything that might contribute to a successful transition into society. Outmoded laws and policies continue to penalize people who have served time.

Notes

Collateral consequences of criminal convictions continue to thwart the efforts of individuals to join society. In recent years, legal initiatives to remove or lessen the impact of these collateral consequences have been gaining momentum on both state and federal levels.⁷ In 2015, the Texas Legislature approved sweeping changes to criminal record sealing laws proactively and in 2017 made those changes retroactive. This increased eligibility drastically increases the likelihood that an individual who commits a crime of poverty will not be punished for the rest of their lives.

This publication addresses some of the current barriers faced by previously incarcerated people.⁸ It is intended to be a resource guide for advocates that assist previously incarcerated people who find themselves locked out of meaningful participation in society.

⁸ It excludes consequences of conviction as it relates to immigration status.

1. IDENTIFICATION

Unlike many countries, America has no true national identity card and no federal mandate that each citizen carry one. Valid proof of identity can be the key that unlocks the doors to housing, employment, education, medical care, benefits, transportation, driving privileges, voting, banking and other financial transactions, vocational and professional licensure -- in short, all services an individual requires to fully participate in society.

For individuals recently released from incarceration, key identification documents can be difficult to acquire because each may require proof of the other. For example, a certified copy of a birth certificate may be required to get a driver's license. A copy of a valid photo ID (usually a driver's license) may be needed to order a certified copy of a birth certificate, driver's license or state identity card, and a social security card. Of these, a driver's license or state ID is the most widely accepted form of identification. This section provides information on how to obtain a Texas driver's license, commercial driver's license and Texas identification card, as well as other important proofs of identity, including a certified copy of a birth certificate, social security card, and a passport.

1.1 LEGAL NAME

Valid identification must include a "legal" name. A legal name is the name given at birth that appears on a person's birth certificate. A nickname is not a legal name. With the exception of marriage, an adult cannot change his or her legal name without a court order.⁹ Though newer initiatives exist to provide releasees with state-issued identification, a person newly released from prison may not have any item of identification except their prison identification card. Others may have identification that conflicts with the name that appears on their birth certificate, which can create problems when applying for a driver's license or state identity card.

Accurate proof of identity is required in order to obtain a state-issued driver's license or identity card. In addition to being the most commonly accepted form of identification, a valid state-issued ID must be carried by anyone released to parole or mandatory supervision as a condition of release. According to the Texas Board of Pardons and Paroles, this requirement is to be "strictly enforced."¹⁰

1.2 DRIVER'S LICENSE OR IDENTITY CARD

¹⁰ 37 Tex. Admin. Code § 145.27.

In Texas, the Texas Department of Public Safety (DPS) is the state agency responsible for promulgating rules for and issuing driver’s licenses and identification cards.

1.2.1 Status of License

The application process depends upon the current status of the license: unexpired, expired less than two years ago, expired more than two years ago, or never applied.

Unexpired DL or ID	DL or ID Expired less than 2 years	No DL or ID, or expired over 2 years
Must notify DPS of change of address within 30 days of the change.	If expired less than two years before the application, the expired driver’s license or ID card may be used as proof of identity to renew.	If license or ID expired over two years before applying, must complete new application and submit proofs of identity accepted by the DPS.

1.2.2 Expired License

Note that an expired Texas driver’s license can be used as primary ID without the necessity of other documents IF it expired less than two years before the application date. An expired driver’s license or identity card from a state other than Texas is useful only as supporting documentation.

1.2.3 Securing ID Prior to Release

The Texas Department of Criminal Justice (TDCJ) is required to obtain electronic verification of the prisoner’s birth record from the Department of Health and Human Services (DHHS). Once verified, TDCJ is to forward the information to DPS along with a request to issue a legal identification card for the inmate prisoner, who can be charged for the actual cost.¹¹ The law, to be implemented through the Texas Department of Criminal Justice Reentry and Reintegration Division’s (RID) Program, can help an inmate secure ID in the following situations:

- If an offender’s driver license is eligible for renewal after release, they will be sent a letter noting their eligibility status. An application for a birth certificate will not be completed for them since the driver license is eligible for renewal.
- If the driver license is not eligible for renewal due to expiration or infraction issues, a birth certificate application will be prepared and submitted. If the offender was born in Texas, the agency will cover the cost of the birth certificate. For offenders born outside of Texas, the offender or family will be responsible for covering the cost.

- An application for a replacement social security card will be prepared and submitted for any offender meeting the eligibility criteria.
- For offenders who will be released with no supervision requirements, a state jail or flat discharge, the identification documents will be provided to the offender at time of release from incarceration. Offenders being released on supervision will receive their documents during their initial visit with a parole officer.¹²

1.2.4 Proof of Identity

Each applicant must submit proof of identity accepted by DPS before a license or photo ID may be issued. DPS categorizes acceptable proof of identity as “primary”, “secondary”, or “supporting”. The applicant who lacks “primary” identification must submit either two items of “secondary” identification or one secondary and at least two other “supporting” proofs of identification. The following chart lists the items currently accepted by DPS as proof of identity required to obtain Texas driver’s license or Texas identity card:

1.2.5 Texas Inmate ID Card

A Texas Inmate ID Card falls within the “supporting” classification of items that may be used to establish proof of identity for the purpose of obtaining a Texas driver’s license or identity card. The card is not considered reliable proof of identity because it reflects the name given at the time of arrest, which may not match the inmate’s legal name. Documents that fall within the “supporting” category cannot be used as proof of identity unless accompanied by another “supporting” item plus one “secondary” item (usually a birth certificate).

1.2.6 Green Card

A Green Card holder (permanent resident) is someone who has been granted authorization to live and work in the United States on a permanent basis. The government designation for a permanent resident card is US Customs and Immigration Services Form I-551. A valid permanent resident card is primary identification, and is therefore the only proof of identity that DPS requires for a Texas driver’s license.

1.2.7 Out of State License

A person holding an unexpired driver’s license from another state must apply for a Texas driver’s license within 90 days of arrival in Texas by appearing in person at a Texas Driver License office. If the out-of-state license is valid and unexpired, the applicant must surrender it to DPS in order to get a Texas Driver’s license. A written test or driving test is not required; only vision will be tested. If the license from another state is expired, the person must produce other acceptable forms of ID (see chart above), surrender the expired license, and pass the written, driving and vision exams.

1.2.8 New ID or Expired Over 2 Years

DPS provides the following instructions for first time applicants and for those whose Texas license expired more than two years from the date of application:¹³

1. Apply in person at a Texas driver license office.
2. Present documents that verify your identity.
3. Present documents that verify you are a U.S. citizen or have lawful presence. The information on each document must match. Additional documentation may be required to verify conflicting information, incomplete names, and date of birth.
4. Present proof of Social Security Number. If you do not have a Social Security Number, you must complete a Social Security Affidavit form available at the driver license office.
5. Present proof of your Texas residency.
6. Present proof of Texas vehicle registration and liability insurance on all vehicles you own.
7. Complete the application for driver license or identification card (PDF). You may type your information on the form, print it, and bring it with you

¹³From www.txdps.state.tx.us/DriverLicense/ApplyforLicense.htm

- to the office. If you don't have a printer, the form is also available at the office.
8. Consent to be photographed, fingerprinted, and provide your signature at the time of application.
 9. Pass the written, driving, and vision examinations. (Read more about foreign language examinations.)
 10. Pay the required fee with a credit card, cash, money order, or a non-temporary check.
 11. Provide a vehicle for the driving exam and present current liability insurance, Texas vehicle registration, and inspection for the vehicle.

1.2.9 "In Person" Requirement

New applicants, or those whose Texas driver's license or ID expired more than two years from the date of application must apply in person at a DPS office to be photographed.

This requirement can present enormous challenges to formerly incarcerated people. Almost a third of Texas' 254 counties do not have a DPS office.¹⁴ Of those that do, less than a fourth has extended hours and none are open on weekends.¹⁵ In a state as large as Texas, ex-offenders with limited access to transportation, who must travel a long distance to get to an office, or are unable to appear at DPS during hours of operation may find appearing in person at DPS more difficult than expected.

1.2.10 Applicants Under Supervision

Parolees who need a license but reside in a county without a DPS office must violate one term of release to comply with another. The Texas Board of Pardons and Paroles "strictly enforces"¹⁶ the requirement that those released to parole or mandatory supervision carry a valid state-issued ID, but to get to the nearest DPS office may violate geographic and travel restrictions. If on parole, the applicant is required to carry DPS-issued photo ID while under supervision. If the parolee resides in a county that lacks a DPS office, he may not be able to travel to a county that does.

1.2.11 Proof of Social Security Number

Every applicant commercial driver's license must submit proof of a social security number (SSN). Proof of a SSN is not required to obtain a Texas ID card or a Texas driver's license, though this information is encouraged to be provided. The SSN will remain a part of the driver's record, and later applications for a duplicate license or license renewal will be verified against the SSN on file. If DPS cannot verify the SSN, it can deny issuance or renewal.

¹⁴ Eighty-one (81) of Texas' 254 counties do not have a DPS office. US Dept. of Justice letter to Texas Election Commission, March 12, 2012.

¹⁶ 37 Tex. Admin. Code § 145.27.

Any of the following documents will be accepted to verify a SSN. The document presented can be expired or unexpired but must have the individual's full SSN printed on it.

Documentation must be unaltered originals, not copies.

- Social Security card
- Pilot license
- Military identification (active, reserve, retired or dependent status)
- Texas Commission on Law Enforcement (TCOLE).
- DD-214
- Medicare or Medicaid card
- Health insurance card
- Certified college or university transcript
- IRS form W-2 Wage and Tax Statement
- Form 1099-MISC
- Pay stub (stub must include name and SSN)

To apply for a SSN, visit the Social Security Administration website.

Individuals who do not have a SSN, have never been issued a SSN, or are not eligible for a SSN can visit any driver license office and complete an affidavit attesting to such. Providing a false statement in connection with this affidavit will result in the cancellation of the driver license or ID card and may result in criminal charges. An affidavit is not acceptable for the issuance of a commercial driver's license (CDL).

If an SSN has never been assigned, the applicant must complete a Social Security Affidavit (DL-13) provide by DPS and swear to it before a DPS officer. Non-U.S. citizens will need to submit proof of lawful status in the country for a period longer than six months.

NOTE: If you are not eligible for a SSN, then you are not eligible for a commercial drivers license (CDL).

1.2.12 Proof of Lawful Presence

DPS requires applicants who are not U.S. citizens, U.S. nationals, lawful permanent residents, refugees, or asylees to present proof of lawful presence in the U.S. before being issued an original, renewal, or duplicate Texas driver license or identification card. Border Crossing cards alone are not accepted by DPS for the purpose of establishing a lawful temporary admission. Proof of lawful presence includes documentation issued by the:

- U.S. Dept. of Justice,
- U.S. Dept. of State,
- U.S. Dept. of Homeland Security, or
- U.S. Citizenship and Immigration Services.

The document(s) must show lawful temporary admission to the U.S. For a list of acceptable documents, see DPS's Temporary Visitor Issuance Guide \(PDF\).

If proof of lawful presence is verified, DPS will issue a license or ID with a "Limited Term" designation that will expire when the period of lawful presence (as shown in the accepted document) expires. If the applicant's lawful presence is indefinite, driver licenses and IDs must be renewed every year.

The holder of a temporary visitor card must provide documents to update the driver license or ID within 45 days after the visitor status date expires. Failure to do so will result in cancellation of the card and a ban on driving.

1.2.13 Exemption for Disabled Veterans

A Texas driver license or ID card may be provided free of charge to a veteran of the United States Armed Forces if the veteran meets the following criteria:

1. Was honorably discharged,
2. Has a service-related disability of at least 60 percent
3. Receives compensation from the United States because of the disability, and
4. Is not subject to sex offender registration requirements

The driver license fee exemption does not apply to commercial driver licenses. For guidance on how to apply, please refer to

Appendix A: Steps to Obtain a Texas Driver's License or Identity Card.

1.3 COMMERCIAL DRIVER'S LICENSES (CDL)

Texas law does not allow residents of Texas to drive commercial vehicles with a personal driver's license. Residents who want to become commercial drivers must have a commercial driver's license, or CDL.

1.3.1 Eligibility for CDL

To get a commercial driver's license, the applicant must be:

- At least 21 years old
- Be domiciled in Texas. A "domicile" is a true, fixed, and permanent home. Domicile can be proved by showing two acceptable documents with name and proof of domicile.¹⁷ The applicant who cannot provide documents with proof of domicile may complete a Texas Residency Affidavit.
- Have a regular driver's license that is at least one-year-old

¹⁷ From <http://www.txdps.state.tx.us/DriverLicense/domicileReq.htm>

- Pass a commercial driver's license test.

All applicants whose driver's license is currently suspended, cancelled, or revoked in Texas or any other state are not eligible for a commercial driver's license (CDL). Domicile can be proved by showing two acceptable documents with name and proof of domicile.¹⁸ The applicant who cannot provide documents with proof of domicile may complete a Texas Residency Affidavit.

1.3.2 Application Requirements for CDL

All first time applicants and applicants who previously held a Texas CDL that has since expired must:

1. Apply in-person at any driver license office and complete the appropriate application.
2. Present documents to verify identity.
 1. Different documents are required if an individual is a U.S. citizen or has lawful presence.
 2. Individuals may be required to present more than one document to verify identity, and the information on all documents must match each other.
 3. Additional documentation may be required to verify conflicting information such as incomplete names or date of birth.
3. Present documents to verify Texas residency.
4. Present evidence of a Social Security Number (a CDL cannot be issued to individuals who do not have a Social Security Number).
5. Meet the self-certification of medical status. Depending on the type of certification, an individual may need to present a medical examiner's certificate.
6. Meet the nonresident commercial requirements (in some states this is also referred to as "non-domicile commercial resident") if they are from a foreign jurisdiction other than Canada or Mexico.
7. Present proof of Texas vehicle registration and liability insurance on all vehicles registered in the individual's name.
8. Complete the Supplement Application Texas Commercial Driver License Certifications and Record of CDL Examination. (CDL-1)
9. Consent to be photographed, fingerprinted and provide your signature.
10. Pass the vision test.
11. Pass the knowledge and skills tests for the appropriate driver license including endorsements.
12. Pay the required fee with a credit card, cash, money order or a non-temporary check.
13. Provide a commercial motor vehicle (CMV) for the driving test. The CMV must be representative of the type of license in which the individual is applying for.
 1. Driving tests may be scheduled online.

¹⁸ From <http://www.txdps.state.tx.us/DriverLicense/domicileReq.htm>

2. Not every driver license office is able to accommodate a CDL road test.

There are additional requirements for school bus drivers.

1.3.3 CDL from another State

A new Texas resident who has a CDL from another state has 30 days to get a Texas CDL. The applicant must:

1. Complete the requirements for an original CDL applicant. (see requirements listed above).
2. Surrender the VALID out-of-state CDL at the driver license office. The written and driving examinations are waived, but the applicant must still pass a vision exam.

OR

3. In the case of an expired CDL, the applicant must surrender their EXPIRED CDL at the driver license office and pass the written, driving and vision exams.

1.3.4 Nonresident CDL – Requirements

A non-resident can obtain a nonresident commercial driver's license (CDL) with proof of a valid social security number. If the applicant does not have a social security number, DPS can issue a temporary non-resident CDL. For a nonresident commercial driver's license, the applicant must:

- Meet all CDL requirements.
- Be a resident of a country whose licensing standards do not meet standards established by US law.¹⁹ (Applicants from Mexico or Canada are ineligible).

Present the following:

- A valid social security number.
- A valid passport issued to the applicant by the country of which the applicant is a resident.
- A valid temporary worker visa.
- A valid Form I-94 Arrival/Departure record, or a successor document.
- Pay a fee of $121.00.

Expiration - A non-resident CDL must expire on the earlier of:

- The expiration date of the visa.

¹⁹ 49 CFR 383.

- o The expiration date of the Form I-94 Arrival/Departure record, or a successor document.

1.4 BIRTH CERTIFICATES

A birth certificate is a key form of proof of identity accepted by DPS. People without a “primary” form of identification must submit two “secondary” forms, or one secondary and two “supporting” forms of identification. The “secondary” category is limited to government-issued documents proving that the applicant was born in a U.S. state, territory, the District of Columbia, or a Canadian province, (birth certificate); a U.S. Department of State certificate of birth abroad (born abroad to parents who are citizens), or a certified copy of a court order showing a change of name.

A Texas birth certificate can be ordered online, by mail, or in person. If ordered online or in person, the cost is $22. If ordering by mail, add $8 for certified delivery.

1.4.1 Information Required for Certified Copy

The following information is required of all applicants for certified copy of a Texas birth certificate:

1.4.4 Amending or Correcting Birth Certificate

If the name on a person’s birth certificate needs to be corrected because it is inaccurate or does not conform with other forms of identification, the person can file an amendment or correction with the Texas Bureau of Vital Statistics (BVS). 1.5 SOCIAL SECURITY IDENTIFICATION

Although not initially intended to serve this purpose, a social security number has become another important form of identification. Most of the time, the cardholder need only know his or her own social security number without providing proof of the actual card.

1.5.1 Original Social Security Card

To apply for an original or replacement social security card for a U.S. born citizen, the Social Security Administration requires supporting evidence of identification.

Table 5: SSA Proof of Identity

Evidence of Age	Birth certificate - If no birth certificate, may accept another document showing age, such as: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • U.S. hospital record of birth (created at the time of birth) • Religious record established before age five showing age or date of birth • Passport • Final Adoption Decree (the adoption decree must show that the birth information was taken from the original birth certificate)

Complete and print Application for a Social Security Card, Form SS-5 then deliver or mail it with supporting documents to the SSA. For the nearest office, use the SSA's online local office locator or call 2-1-1 for information.

1.5.2 Replacement Card

A Social Security card can be replaced for free if it is lost or stolen. Cardholders are limited to three replacement cards in a year and 10 during in a lifetime. The applicant who needs a replacement card must complete the Application for a Social Security Card, Form SS-5.

1.5.3 Card for Non-Citizen

In general, only noncitizens who have permission to work from the Department of Homeland Security (DHS) can apply for a Social Security number. If a noncitizen does not have permission to work in the United States but needs a social security number for other purposes, see "If you do not have permission to work" for further information.

1.5.4 Change of Name

To change the name on a Social Security card, the applicant must show a recently issued document as proof of legal name change. These include:

- Marriage document;
- Divorce decree;
- Certificate of Naturalization showing a new name; or
- Court order for a name change.

For step by step instructions on securing a social security card, please refer to

Appendix C: Steps to Apply for or Replace Social Security Card

1.6 PASSPORTS

A passport is a document that certifies a person's citizenship and identity. Generally, a criminal conviction will not act as a bar to issuance of a passport unless it was for a drug-related offense or unless issuance would violate the terms of the applicant's parole, probation or sentencing.

The U.S. Department of State (DOS) passport application, does not include any questions about an applicant's criminal history. It does require the applicant to swear under oath that contents of the application are true and that the applicant has not met any of the forbidden "acts and conditions" listed in the application.²¹ The applicant must swear to the following:

"I have not been convicted for a federal or state drug offense or been convicted for "sex tourism" crimes statute and I am not the subject of an outstanding federal, state or local warrant of arrest for a felony; a criminal court order forbidding my departure from the United States; a subpoena received from the United States in a matter involving prosecution for, or grand jury investigation of, a felony."

²¹ If an act or condition applies, the applicant may submit an explanatory statement with the application.

Depending on the circumstances of the applicant or passport holder, the Department of State can revoke or deny a passport.

Table 6: Grounds for Revocation, Application or Renewal of Passport

Mandatory Denial or Revocation	Discretionary Denial of Application or Renewal
a passport will be denied or revoked if the applicant crossed an international boundary or used the passport in committing the offense ²²	Being in default on repatriation or medical assistance loans while abroad, or behind $2500.00 or more on child support payments;
An issued passport may be revoked, even for misdemeanor drug offenses, if the government finds that the offense should give rise to such disqualification ²³	Having been committed to a mental institution, or was legally declared incompetent by a court; or
	Having been denied previously, had their previous passport revoked, or been issued a temporary passport for specific reasons. ²⁴

1.6.1 Amending or Correcting Passport Information

1.7 ADULT NAME CHANGE

It is not uncommon for a single person to have conflicting names on identification documents. If the Department of Public Safety cannot verify conflicting or incomplete names between two or more documents, they may not accept either as proof of identity. One way to resolve the discrepancy is to petition the court for a change of name. This option is not available to felons released or discharged for less than two years.

A request for an adult name change must be made in a petition filed with the court. A certified copy of the court order granting the change of name can then be used to establish legal identity as to one name.

Appendix D: Sample Petition & Order - Name Change of Adult

1.7.1 Felony Conviction

The name change can be granted at the court's discretion to a person with a final felony conviction only if:

- the person has been pardoned, discharged from TDCJ or completed probation ordered by a court and
- Not less than two years have passed from the date of the receipt of discharge or completion of probation.²⁵

Certain legal requirements that must be met before the court will issue an Order granting the change of name. All adult petitions for a name change must:

- Be verified; that is, all of the information it contains must be sworn to as true.
- Include a Fingerprint Card - "a legible and complete set of the petitioner's fingerprints on a fingerprint card format acceptable to the Department of Public Safety and the Federal Bureau of Investigation."
- State the full name and place of residence of the petitioner;
- State the full name requested and the reason for the request, and
- State whether the petitioner has been the subject of a final felony conviction, or was convicted under Tex. Code Crim. P Ch. 62 (sex offender).

In addition to the above, the petition must include each of the following, or, if not available, a reason for the omission:

- the petitioner's full name, sex, race, date of birth, and social security number;
- driver's license number for any driver's license issued in the 10 years preceding the date of the petition;

²⁵ The decision of whether to granting a name change for a person with a final felony conviction is within the court's discretion.

"(a)[I]f the change is in the interest or to the benefit of the petitioner and in the interest of the public.

(b)A court may order a change of name under this subchapter for a person with a final felony conviction if:

(1) in addition to the requirements of Subsection (a), the person has:

(A) received a certificate of discharge by the Texas Department of Criminal Justice or completed a period of community supervision or juvenile probation ordered by a court and not less than two years have passed from the date of the receipt of discharge or completion of community supervision or juvenile probation; or

(B) been pardoned; or

(2) The person is requesting to change the person's name to the primary name used in the person's criminal history record information.

(1) (c)A court may order a change of name under this subchapter for a person subject to the registration requirements of Chapter 62, Code of Criminal Procedure, if the person:the requirements of Subsection (a) or is requesting to change the person's name to the primary name used in the [person's criminal history record information; andthe person provides the court with proof that the person has notified the appropriate local law enforcement authority of the proposed name change.

(1) (d)In this section:"Local law enforcement authority" has the meaning assigned by Article 62.001, Code of Criminal Procedure. Tex. Fam. Code §45.103

- assigned FBI number, state identification number, if known, or any other reference number in a criminal history record system that identifies the petitioner, and
- any offense above the grade of Class C misdemeanor for which the petitioner has been charged and the case number and the court if a warrant was issued or charges filed for the offense.

A Name Change Kit with do-it-yourself forms is available for download from Texas Law Help. More information and instructions can be found in the Texas Young Lawyer's Association Publication "Name Changes in Texas."

1.8 NAME CHANGE WITH EXISTING CRIMINAL HISTORY

A name change is available to previously incarcerated individuals with a felony conviction only if over two years have passed from the date of discharge or release from supervision and the date the petition is filed. Like a Petition for Change of Name, the Petition for Declaratory Judgment should be filed with the district clerk of the county where the person requesting the name change (the Petitioner), resides.

1.8.1 Exception for Sex Offenders

An exception to the two-year waiting period to apply for a legal name change exists for those required to register as a sex offender for the purpose of obtaining identification consistent with their registry requirement. Service of the petition and order the registry agency is required.

1.8.2 2019 New Legislation allowing for Name Change consistent with Primary Criminal Record Name.

It is not uncommon for someone to live their entire life and find out at the least opportune time that their legal name according to their birth record has been incorrect their entire life. In 2019, a bill successfully passed the Texas House and Senate, that expanded eligibility for a legal name change for individuals who have been convicted of a felony. The new law, going into effect September 1, 2019 allows for a legal name change for the purpose of correcting inconsistent records and obtaining identification in ones primary criminal record name without a waiting period.

1.8.3 Declaratory Judgment

The purpose of the Texas Uniform Declaratory Judgments Act²⁶ is to settle and afford relief from uncertainty and insecurity with respect to rights, status and other legal relations. A person who has a legal interest in a writing (such as a birth certificate or other document) and “whose rights, status or other legal relations are affected [may] have determined any question of construction or validity [of the writing] and obtain a declaration of rights, status or other legal relations thereunder.”²⁷ The act is to be “liberally construed and administered.”²⁸ While the new laws allowing for exceptions of the waiting periods greatly reduce the need for a declaratory judgment. There are still cases where this tool can be useful, i.e. when no birth certificate has ever been recorded or name history is more complex.

2. TRANSPORTATION AND DRIVING PRIVILEGES

Access to transportation is another important aspect of successful re-entry. Transportation is essential to maintaining a job outside of the home. Without an effective network of public transportation, formerly incarcerated Texans, especially those outside of the major cities, are seriously disadvantaged if they have lost driving privileges.

The Texas 2-1-1 website has a searchable database by city and county of local social services and faith based organizations that offer assistance with basic needs, including transportation. For some previously incarcerated people, the ability to access transportation depends upon restoring their driving privileges. Texas law imposes driver license suspensions of varying duration depending on the offense for which the person was convicted.

This section addresses driver's license suspensions, the Texas Driver Responsibility surcharge program, and the process to obtain an occupational driver's license to allow limited driving privileges for a particular purpose.

2.1 Suspension of Driver's License

The Texas Department of Public Safety's website enables drivers to check the status of their driver's license online. Visit <http://www.texas.gov>, click on the driver's services button, then the driver's license reinstatement and status button and enter the information.

2.1.1 Texas License Eligibility Program

The Texas Department of Public Safety maintains an online License Eligibility system that can be accessed to determine eligibility, pay reinstatement fees, view compliance restrictions and track information related to eligibility. To access this system all you need is your Texas Driver's License or ID Number, Date of Birth and the Last 4 digits of your Social Security Number.³⁰

2.1.2 Refusing or Failing Blood or Breath Test

If a person refuses or fails a blood or breath test following an arrest for driving while intoxicated, his license can be suspended for 90 days up to 2 years. A reinstatement fee of $125 will be required prior to the renewal/issuance of a driver license. The license suspension period varies by court order not to exceed two years. A conviction for driving while intoxicated under the age of 21 will result in an automatic suspension for one year. A reinstatement fee of $100 will be required prior to the renewal/issuance of a driver license. Other requirements include:

³⁰ <https://txapps.texas.gov/txapp/txdps/dleligibility/login.do>

Proof of insurance (form SR-22) from insurance company. The SR-22 is required for two years from date of conviction.

Certificate of completion of DWI education program, if required by the convicting court, which must be forwarded to DPS before the suspension period expires to avoid a revocation.

2.1.3 Drug Offenses

A person's license is automatically suspended upon final conviction of a drug offense (which does NOT have to occur while operating a motor vehicle). The suspension period is 180 days. In addition, a drug education program is automatically required and must be completed within the 180-day suspension period or the license remains suspended until the certificate of completion is received by the Texas Department of Public Safety. Proof of insurance (Form SR-22) is required, along with a $100 fee to have the driver's license reinstated.

2.1.4 Traffic Violations

A person's driver's license is subject to suspension for excessive traffic violations, depending on the number of violations within a one or two-year period. Suspension can occur if, within:

12 months - driver has 4 or more moving violations

12 months - if under 18, 2-4 moving violations

24 months - driver 7 or more moving violations.

Payment of a $100 fee is required to reinstate, renew, or issue a driver's license following suspension.

2.1.5 License Suspended or Invalid

The offense of "Driving While license Invalid (Suspended)"--except if the person has been previously convicted for this, was operating a motor vehicle in violation of Section 601.191, was intoxicated while committing this offense, or caused/was at fault in a serious motor vehicle accident--is a Class C misdemeanor carrying a fine of up to $500 and confinement of up to six months in the county jail.³¹ A person who drives while his license is under suspension, revocation, or cancellation is subject to an additional license suspension for the same period of time as the original suspension. The suspended license cannot be renewed or reissued until the required $100 reinstatement fee paid. A person convicted for this offense must also obtain and file proof of insurance (form SR-22), and maintain the insurance for two years from date of conviction.

The Legislature has delegated certain rulemaking authority to governmental agencies. Reinstatement Fees and the rules relating to their potential waiver or reduction are created and enforced by the Department of Public Safety. While these types of fees were not eligible for waiver or reduction at the time this guide was last updated, DPS reserves the right to change rules and policies.

2.1.6 Violation of License Restriction

A person who has been convicted of two or more violations of a driver license restriction/endorsement is subject to license suspension. A $100 reinstatement fee is required prior to the renewal/issuance of a driver's license. However, a court may waive payment of all or part of a fine or costs imposed on a defendant if the court finds that defendant was either a child at the time of the offense, or indigent or otherwise does not have sufficient resources or income to pay all or part of the fine or costs, was a child at the time of the offense, and alternative methods of discharging the fine or cost under Tex. Code Crim. Proc. Article 43.09 or Article 42.15 would impose an undue hardship on the defendant.

2.2 OUT-OF-STATE DRIVING OFFENSES

2.2.1 Suspended in another State

A person who has a suspended driving status in another state cannot obtain a Texas driver's license. If the Texas Department of Public Safety issues a Texas license and later learns of an adverse driving status in another state, the Texas license is subject to cancellation. The driver must obtain a clear status from that state's driver licensing agency. Once the driving record is cleared in the other state, the person seeking to clear his driving record must contact Texas DPS Headquarters to have the clearance applied to the Texas driver record. The documents must be from the driver licensing agency in the other state. Court documents from another state will not be accepted as proof of compliance.

2.2.2 Unpaid Traffic Fines in another State

The Texas Department of Public Safety may revoke a person's license if the person has not complied with the terms of a traffic citation received in another state. To have your license reinstated, proof of payment for the out of state citation must be submitted to DPS. Proof of payment includes receipt from court, copy of money order or cashier's check, or copy of cancelled check (front and back). A reinstatement fee will also be required prior to the renewal/issuance of a driver license.

2.2.3 Offense from another State

Texas DPS may suspend a person's license upon receipt of a notice of conviction of an offense committed in another state that, if committed in this state, would be grounds for suspension. Examples of offenses that result in suspension of a Texas driver's license are listed in the table below:³²

Table 7: Offenses Resulting in Suspension of Driver's License

2.3 DRIVER SURCHARGES

As of September 1, 2019, the Driver Responsibility Program is repealed, and all pending surcharges must be dismissed. The DPS must reinstate all driver's licenses that were only suspended for those pending surcharges. [TX 86(R) HB 2048]

Under the law effective September 1, 2019, new fines are to be assessed at the sentencing phase of prosecution for certain intoxication offenses.

Table 8: Driver Fines (AKA Surcharges)

2.3.1 Waiver Based on Indigence

A court having jurisdiction over an offense that is the basis of a surcharge/fine shall waive all fines and costs if the court makes a finding of indigence.

2.4 OCCUPATIONAL DRIVER'S LICENSE

An occupational license is a special restricted license issued to persons whose license has been suspended or revoked for certain offenses (other than medical reasons or delinquent child support). It does not apply to commercial driver's licenses. The occupational license authorizes driving privileges to a person whose license has been suspended if driving is necessary for the person's occupation, educational purposes or in the performance of "essential household duties." This means that the individual requesting the license must be able to demonstrate that they need to drive to and from a job, school, or for some other compelling reason, also known as "the essential need requirement."

2.4.1 Form SR-22 - Proof of Financial Responsibility

The individual must have the SR-22 before the hearing on the occupational license. Tex. Transp. Code § 521.244(c) requires the petitioner for an occupational license to present to the Judge proof of financial responsibility. The proof of financial responsibility is commonly known as form SR-22. The occupational license holder is required to file and maintain a Form SR-22 with DPS. Some features of the SR-22:

- An insurance card or policy IS NOT accepted in place of the Form SR-22.
- Form SR-22 insurance is mandatory for a period of two (2) years from the date of conviction.
- Form SR-22 is a 'certificate of insurance' that shows DPS proof of insurance for the future. It is motor vehicle liability insurance that requires the insurance company to certify coverage to DPS. The insurance company must notify DPS anytime the policy is cancelled, terminated or lapses.
- The form SR-22 must be purchased from an insurance agent. The driver does not need to own a vehicle to buy this type of insurance. If the driver does not own a vehicle, they can obtain a non-owner Form SR-22.

2.4.2 Minimum Liability Amounts in Texas

Minimum liability coverage amounts in Texas are

- $30,000 for bodily injury to or death of one person in one accident,
- $60,000 for bodily injury to or death of two or more persons in one accident,
- $25,000 for damage to or destruction of property of others in one accident.

The Texas Department of Insurance has more information about minimum liability insurance laws.

2.4.3 Court Order Required

The request for an occupational license is made to the county or district court in county where the person resides, or the court where the offense occurred. If approved, the request will result in a court order granting the license. Note that the court order itself is not the actual occupational license. The order granting the license is the part that must be submitted to DPS in order to get an occupational license issued.

The driver must present a certified copy of the court order granting the occupational license to DPS. A certified copy bears the court's stamp on every page to certify that the paper is identical to the original. Certified copies can be obtained from the clerk's office where order was filed, and typically run about $1 per page, payable to the clerk of the court. Depending on the court, the judge may grant the order authorizing the issuance of an occupational license on its own motion, without a petition or request from the person seeking the occupational license. While the waiting for DPS to process the application for an occupational license, the driver may use the court order in lieu of the license for thirty (30) days from the date the order was signed without violating the law.

Even after the license is issued, however, the driver must keep a copy of the order on his person while driving because it is the order which advises law enforcement when it is ok for the driver to drive. Tex. Transp. Code §521.250.

2.4.4 Application to DPS for Occupational License

Once the order on the occupational license has been granted and applicant has obtained a certified copy, the applicant must:

1. Submit an original Form SR-22 certificate of insurance. This is the only proof of insurance acceptable.
2. Pay an occupational license fee for a one-year license or less. If the license needs to be extended, the applicant must seek court authorization. The maximum duration of an occupational license, with extensions, is 2 years.

3. Payment of all required reinstatement fees. A reinstatement fee will be required prior to the renewal/issuance of a driver license.

2.4.5 Waiting Periods

An occupational license is issued once the request is processed unless one of the following situations applies:

- The individual's driver license was previously suspended as a result of an alcohol- or drug-related offense then there is a 90-day waiting period.
- The individual's driver license was in suspension as a result of an intoxication-related conviction then there is a 180-day waiting period.
- There are at least two administrative license revocations on the individual's driver record then a mandatory one-year waiting period applies.

2.4.6 Exception to Essential Need Requirement

Texas Transportation Code §521.244(e) provides that "A person convicted of an offense under Sections 49.04-49.08, Penal Code, who is restricted to the operation of a motor vehicle equipped with an ignition interlock device is entitled to receive an occupational license without a finding that an essential need exists for that person, provided that the person shows:

1. evidence of financial responsibility under Chapter 601; and
2. proof the person has had an ignition interlock device installed on each motor vehicle owned or operated by the person."

3. OFFENSE – RELATED DEBT

Criminal debt can be a serious financial roadblock for a person experiencing reentry following a period of incarceration. Individuals with a criminal history are already at a disadvantage in the employment arena. One study showed that defendants placed on felony probation owe between $4000 and $5000 in offense-related debt, not including child support, and that the same group had an unemployment rate of around 40%.³³ There are at least three dozen fees and costs that can be assessed depending on the crime and the jurisdiction.³⁴ Because one in three dollars raised through these costs and fees is spent on projects outside of the court system, some have argued that they are an undeclared general tax that is unconstitutional.³⁵

3.1 CONSEQUENCES OF FAILURE TO PAY

There are numerous negative consequences resulting from a person's failure or inability to pay debt related to an offense. Some include:

- Suspension of Driver's Licenses
- Texas is among the handful of states that suspends driver's licenses as punishment for missed payments.
- Extending Probation Terms
- Texas is among many states that can extend probation for failure to pay a criminal justice debt.
- Jail Time
- Unpaid fines can result in the issuance of arrest warrants and resulting jail time.

3.2.1 JUDICIAL DISCRETION

In Texas, sentencing judges do have some discretion to set payment priorities for offenders placed on community supervision³⁶

Table 9: Court’s Authority to Waive Debt³⁷

Obligation Type	Individual Placed on Probation
	Can Judge Waive Debt?	Relevant Authority
Offense Fine	Yes	Fines are a form of “punishment which is the right of the judge to set. See AG Opinion GA-0220 (2004)
Restitution	Yes	Tex. Code Crim. App. Art. 42.037 allows a judge to forego restitution. Restitution is not “punishment”, making the justification of the judicial discretion different from that of other fines. See AG Opinion GA-0220 (2004)
Court Costs/Fees	Yes	Payments of assessed obligations falls under a judge’s right to ‘set terms of supervision’ pursuant to Tex. Crim. Proc. Art. 42A.053 (taking precedence over other statutes) See AG Opinion DM-407 (1996)
Supervision Fees	Yes	“The judge may waive or reduce the fee or suspend a monthly payment of the fee if the judge determines that payment of the fee would cause the defendant financial hardship” Tex. Code Crim. Proc. Art.42A.652(b)
Attorney Fees	Yes	Tex. Code Crim. P. Art. 26.05(g) requires that a judge make an affirmative finding of ‘ability to pay’ in order to require repayment of attorney fees.

3.3 OFFENSE- RELATED DEBT AND CHILD SUPPORT

Federal law prioritizes child support obligations over all other debts owed to the state, including criminal justice debt, which conflict with child support commitments. Incarcerated people under obligation to pay child support may discover that the support has continued to accrue, with interest, during their period of confinement. An individual reentering society following incarceration is expected to pay current child support, current medical support, and the child support arrearages that accrued during confinement. While not “offense-related” many individuals experiencing re-entry find it difficult if not impossible to fulfill competing court orders.

³⁷ Texas Office of Court Administration, 2009.

Sentencing courts lack the authority to alter a child support child support orders, and may be unaware that the offender has a continuing child support obligation. Some jurisdictions are beginning to address the disconnection between the fines, fees, and costs imposed by the sentencing court and the child support obligation ordered by the family court. Upon motion and order, the child support court can reduce child support payments based on the obligor's lack of financial resources, including poverty brought on by offense-related debt. By law, child support cannot exceed 50% of the obligor's disposable earnings.³⁸ Court fines, fees, costs and surcharges should first be deducted from the obligor's net income to arrive at a more realistic starting number for disposable earnings from which to deduct child support and medical support.

Some jurisdictions are trying to develop solutions to these problems. For example, judges in the District of Columbia criminal courts are required to inform individuals with a child support order who are sentenced to prison for more than 30 days that they may petition for modification or suspension of payments during incarceration. D. C. Official Code, title 23, Ch. 1.

3.4 COURT ORDER WAIVING SURCHARGES

Effective September 1, 2019, the Driver Responsibility Program, aka Surcharges, will be repealed, so surcharges in their current form will cease to exist. All Texas Driver's Licenses originally suspended under Tex. Transp. Code Section 708.152 should be reinstated by DPS if surcharges were the sole reason for suspension and all surcharges will be waived.³⁹

Under the new provisions of Chapter 709 of the Texas Transportation Code additional fines will be assessed by the sentencing court upon conviction for alcohol-related offenses, and failure to pay them results in an automatic suspension of the person's driver's license. Once assessed, an individual has 36 months to pay the additional fine. The new law allows for the individual to prove up the defendant's indigence to the sentencing court and request that all fines/surcharges be waived at the outset. A motion to waive surcharges can be made orally or through written motion, but the Order must be in writing to prove to DPS that the court has waived the surcharges completely.

For a sample Motion to Waive Surcharge and Order, please refer to:

Appendix G: Motion and Order to Waive Surcharge

3.5 OUTSTANDING TICKETS AND CITATIONS

³⁸ Tex. Fam. Code §8.106 and §158.009

³⁹ TX HB2048 86th Legislature

Unpaid traffic citations can prevent previously incarcerated people from renewing their driver's license. Tickets may have been issued in several different jurisdictions and run into hundreds of dollars in fines. If the fees are not paid before the appearance date, additional charges are added, including the cost of collection. Many local governments outsource the ticket collection process to collection agencies. The stale tickets may go to warrant for failure to appear,

DPS maintains a site with information on violators who have been reported by Texas cities and counties in accordance with Chapter 706 of the Texas Transportation Code. Those that appear on the database cannot renew their Texas driver license until the violation is resolved with the reporting court. Entering a Texas Driver's license number and date of birth, will result in a listing of the reporting court, docket number and contact information for each court. Those who cannot pay the fines can then write to the court and explain why they are unable to pay and ask that they be reduced or waived. Whether to do so is completely within the court's discretion. Once the fees are paid and the violation resolved, the court has five business days to forward the clearance once to DPS. The Failure to Appear Program does not have information on warrants, however, advises the driver to check with the court to confirm whether a warrant has been issued.

The Code of Criminal Procedure ⁴⁰authorizes Justice and Municipal Courts to make a finding of indigence and then either waive fines and fees or convert them to community service.

For a sample Motion to Waive Fines and Fees and Order please refer to:

Appendix H: Motion and Order to Waive Fines and Fees

3.6 EXCESSIVE FINES AND THE 8TH AMENDMENT

The 8th Amendment to the United States Constitution prevents the imposition of excessive fines and imprisoning those who cannot pay them (thereby abolishing "debtor's prisons"). Yet there the increasing trend to use fines as a revenue stream for municipalities have led to some aggressive collection tactics and jail time for those unable to pay them, possibly without being informed of their right to counsel.⁴¹ Jailing the misdemeanant who cannot pay a traffic fine arguably violates the 8th Amendment's Excessive Fines clause:

"The touchstone of the constitutional inquiry under the Excessive Fines Clause is the principle of proportionality: The amount of the forfeiture must bear some relationship to the gravity of the offense that it is designed to punish." United States v. Bajakajian, 524 U.S. 321, 334 (1998).

⁴⁰ Tex. Code Crim. Proc. Art. 45.049

⁴¹ "Bronner, Ethan, "Poor Land in Jail as Companies Add Huge Fees for Probation", New York Times, 7.3.2012

In Bajakajian, the government violated the Excessive Fines Clause because the amount forfeited was "grossly disproportionate to the gravity of defendant's offense." The court also considered the particular facts of the case, the character of the defendant, and the harm caused by the offense. Surely it could be argued that hundreds of dollars in fines owed by a person without the ability or means to pay is disproportionate to the harm caused by minor traffic violations.

4. CRIMINAL HISTORY RECORDS

A criminal record (“rap” sheet) is a record of an offender’s arrests and convictions. Any time the police fingerprint an offender, the information is added to the offender’s criminal history. The history will list the date of arrest, the charges, and the final disposition or outcome. Every person who has intersected with the criminal justice system--through arrest, deferred adjudication, dismissal, conviction or any other interaction--should have a copy of their criminal record and carefully review its contents. There are several good reasons to do so:

1. It provides the subject of the record a look at the kind of information that is available to the general public.
2. It allows the subject an opportunity to review the record for errors, explore record entries that may be removed (expunged), and request nondisclosure or pardon for eligible offenses.
3. Entries that are incorrect can be corrected.
4. It presents a shorter criminal history record to a prospective employer, credit reporting agency, government agency, or licensing authority that runs a background check.⁴²

4.1 SOURCES OF CRIMINAL RECORDS

“Official” criminal records are maintained by the Federal Bureau of Investigation (FBI) and the Texas Department of Public Safety (DPS). The FBI is responsible for collecting and distributing criminal history information through the National Crime Information Center (NCIC). DPS performs the same function on the state level for the Texas Crime Information Center (TCIC).

4.1.1 NCIC

The National Crime Information Center (NCIC)⁴³ is a computerized index of criminal justice information that includes criminal record history information as well as information on fugitives, stolen property, and missing persons. NCIC records are not accessible to the general public. Data contained in NCIC is contributed by the FBI, federal, state, local and foreign criminal justice agencies, and authorized courts.

⁴² For more information about how to obtain criminal records, visit the DPS website, or call, write, or email: Texas Department of Public Safety Crime Records Service CJIS Field Representatives P.O. Box 4143 Austin, Texas 78765 Phone: (512) 424-2478 Email: afis_cjis@dps.texas.gov

4.1.2 TCIC

Much like the NCIC, the Texas Crime Information Center (TCIC) is a computerized searchable database that contains criminal history records, information on stolen property, missing persons, and the status of domestic violence protective orders issued under Chapter 71 of the Texas Family Code. Like the NCIC access to the TCIC is available 24 hours a day, 7 days a week. The TCIC is also linked to NCIC, effectively linking Texas to federal offense information and criminal history reported by every state.

4.1.3 Release of Criminal History Records

DPS, the state agency that maintains the TCIC, is authorized to release a person's full criminal history record only to criminal justice agencies for criminal justice purposes, and to certain other legally authorized entities identified in the Government Code and a handful of other statutes.

The search is fingerprint-based, and requires a fingerprint card from the person whose records are being sought that is less than 6 months old. DPS has outsourced its fingerprint service through an exclusive contract with a private vendor, L-1 Enrollment Services.

The information can be released to screen applicants for:

1. Certain governmental licenses (such as medical, law, educator);
2. Certain jobs serving vulnerable populations, especially children, the elderly and the disabled (such as day care centers, nursing homes, hospitals, mental health workers)
3. Authorized researchers,
4. Certain security sensitive jobs, such as nuclear power plants, financial institutions, etc.
5. Brady firearm sales
6. An individual or an agency that has a specific agreement with a criminal justice agency; county or district clerk's office;
7. The Office of Court Administration of the Texas Judicial System;
8. To the person himself or herself⁴⁴

Appendix I: Steps to Order Criminal History Records

4.2 DISSEMINATION OF RECORDS BY PRIVATE ENTITIES

A third-party vendor can acquire criminal history information directly from state, county, or city court records and make it available to the public, usually for a fee.⁴⁵ Under federal law,⁴⁶ users must have a legitimate purpose for conducting background research on websites that contain public data of all kinds. What qualifies as a “legitimate purpose” is so broad however, that nearly every background check falls within those broad parameters. If the records were reported inaccurately, the mistake can be replicated over and over again with each vendor’s database.

4.2.1 Consumer Reporting Agencies

Private companies that provide criminal background checks combined with a credit report are restricted from reporting certain kinds of adverse information indefinitely. Under federal law,

(a) no consumer reporting agency may make any consumer report containing...

(5) Any other adverse items of information, other than records of convictions of crimes which antedates the report by more than seven years.

Fair Credit Reporting Act (FCRA), 15 USCS Sec. 1681c(a)(5)

Arrests that do not result in conviction cannot be reported if they are more than 7 years old. There is also a strong argument to be made under FCRA that in Texas, Deferred adjudication offenses that are discharged and dismissed and are more than 7 years old cannot be reported either because they are not convictions.

4.2.2 Liability for Wrongful Dissemination

Private entities that compile and disseminate criminal history information for compensation face potential civil liability for violations. By law, private entities “shall destroy and may not disseminate any information in the possession of the entity with respect to which the entity has received notice that:

⁴⁶ The Gramm-Leach-Bliley Act of 1999.

(1) an order of expunction has been issued under [Tex. Code Crim. Proc. Article 55.02]; or

(2) an order of nondisclosure has been issued under Subchapter E-1.

(b) Unless the entity is regulated by the federal Fair Credit Reporting Act (15 U.S.C. Section 1681 et seq.) or the Gramm-Leach-Bliley Act (15 U.S.C. Sections 6801 to 6809), a private entity described by Subsection (a) that purchases criminal history record information from the department or from another governmental agency or entity in this state:

(1) may disseminate that information only if, within the 90-day period preceding the date of dissemination, the entity:

(A) originally obtains that information; or

(B) receives that information as updated record information to its database; and

(2) shall notify the department if the entity sells any compilation of the information to another similar entity.

(c) The private entity is "liable for any damages that are sustained as a result of the violation by the person who is the subject of that information," as well as the person's court costs and attorney's fees.⁴⁷

4.2.3 DPS and Texas Public Information Act

A private entity that purchases records from DPS and wrongfully releases information that is under an order of expunction or nondisclosure can be banned from access to DPS records for up to one year – but only upon a court order showing that three or more violations have occurred:

"If the department receives information indicating that a private entity that purchases criminal history record information from the department has been found by a court to have committed three or more violations of Section 552.1425 [of the Texas Public Information Act] by compiling or disseminating information with respect to which an order of expunction or an order of nondisclosure has been issued under Article 55.02, Code of Criminal Procedure, or an order of nondisclosure of criminal history record information has been issued under Subchapter E-1, the department may not release any criminal history record information to that entity until the first anniversary of the date of the most recent violation."⁴⁸

⁴⁸ Tex. Gov't Code §411.0835, Prohibition against Dissemination to Certain Private Entities

4.2.4 Enforcement

Enforcement is through a lawsuit in district court brought by “the attorney general or an appropriate prosecuting attorney.” The district court may issue a warning to a private entity for a first violation, after which the entity is liable to the state for a civil penalty not to exceed $500 for each subsequent violation. Once the penalties are collected, they “shall be deposited in the state treasury to the credit of the general revenue fund.”⁴⁹

4.3 CONTENTS OF CRIMINAL RECORDS

Generally, every intersection with law enforcement that starts with an arrest, regardless of outcome, will be recorded in a person’s criminal history. Arrests not leading to conviction are subject to expunction (removal from the record). Convictions will remain in an adult’s criminal history record indefinitely. There are four main components to each offense: arrest, prosecution, conviction and disposition. There are several common misconceptions about the contents and availability of criminal history information. For example:

- If the arrest did not result in a final conviction, it will not appear on a person’s criminal history record.

False. Arrests are part of a criminal record regardless of the outcome.

- A deferred adjudication in which the offender has successfully completed its terms will not appear on a criminal history record because there was no conviction or jail time.

False. A deferred adjudication is part of a person’s criminal history, but may be subject to an order of nondisclosure.

4.4 CASE DISPOSITIONS AND SENTENCING ALTERNATIVES

Many criminal case dispositions and alternative sentencing options that appear on a person’s criminal history record can blur the line leading from arrest to final conviction. These dispositions can cause confusion among employers reviewing criminal background check and the offenders themselves. All of these alternatives are the outcome of plea negotiations (plea bargains) in which the defendant is presumed to be aware of the consequences of agreement. In reality, many who enter into a plea agreement do not fully understand the quality and quantity of information that will later be included in their criminal history records, including a finding of guilt, the length of time the offense will remain on their record (forever); the negotiated charge, classification, punishment and finality of the proceeding. The kind and quality of sentencing alternatives vary widely among Texas's 254 counties. The availability of alternatives and the extent to which they are offered depends upon each local prosecutor's office.

Some of the more common alternatives include pretrial diversion, deferred disposition, deferred adjudication and deferred prosecution.

4.4.1 Pretrial Diversion

Pretrial diversion applies only to certain misdemeanors, usually committed by first-time offenders. It is not available for offenses involving intoxication. Other features of pretrial diversion:

- diversion is granted usually before the case is filed.
- The accused does not admit guilt, but agrees to follow the terms of the diversion agreement, which can include attending classes, rehabilitation and other recommendations.
- If the terms of the diversion agreement are met, the case is never filed.
- If the defendant fails to meet the terms or violates the agreement, the case will be filed and proceed in the usual manner and will (unless another plea is entered or the charges are dismissed) appear as a conviction in a person's criminal history.⁵⁰
- A successful diversion, will NOT appear as a conviction or as a dismissal because charges were never filed.
- A successful pretrial diversion WILL be included in a criminal history record, as well as a record of the arrest leading to the diversion.

4.4.2 Deferred Adjudication

The only specific limitations on granting deferred adjudication are as follows:

"A judge may place on community supervision under this section a defendant charged with an offense under Section 21.11, 22.011, or 22.021, Penal Code [all of which are felonies and assaultive offenses], regardless of the age of the victim... only if the Judge makes a finding in open court that placing the defendant on community supervision is in the best interest of the victim."

Tex. Code Crim. Proc. Art. 42A.102(a). See also Tex. Code. Crim. Pro. Art. 42A.102(b) which include other specific limitations.

Unlike a pretrial diversion, the charges are filed but the prosecution is delayed ("deferred") in exchange for the defendant's plea of guilty or no contest. Other features:

- Deferred adjudication is offered only after charges are filed.

⁵⁰ Tex. Code Crim. Proc. Art. 102.012 and Tex. Gov't Code §76.011.

- Deferred adjudication resembles a type of probation in which the defendant agrees to certain terms and conditions in exchange for freedom.
- Like probation or other forms of community supervision, deferred adjudication involves payment of fines and costs, monthly reporting to an officer and payment of a monthly fee.
- If the defendant successfully completes the terms and conditions, the case will be dismissed, and the individual will be discharged from probation.
- If the terms are not met, the prosecutor may re-file the case and prosecute it. There is no requirement to re-file the case, however. The defendant is only entitled to a hearing limited to the determination by the Court of whether it is going to proceed to adjudication of guilt. See Tex. Code Crim. Pro. Art. 42.12 Sec 5 (b).
- A successful deferred adjudication WILL appear in a criminal history record as dismissal of charges.
- A deferred adjudication [Tex. Gov't Code Sec. 411.0715] above a class C misdemeanor cannot be expunged or removed from a person's record even if it is later dismissed following a period of community supervision.⁵¹ It may, however, be amenable to nondisclosure, depending on the offense. Tex. Gov't Code 411.0725

Many organizations and agencies have internal hiring policies that exclude consideration of a record of a deferred adjudication as a conviction for employment-related purposes. The Texas Department of Licensing and Regulation (TDLR), for example, will not consider the record of a deferred adjudication a "conviction" for the purpose of applying for or maintaining a vocational license.

4.4.3 Deferred Disposition

Unlike deferred adjudication, which covers Class A and B misdemeanors, deferred disposition is limited to Class C misdemeanors only. Deferred dispositions are often mistakenly referred to as deferred adjudications, but the requirements and outcome for each are quite different. Other features:

- There is no monthly reporting to a probation officer.
- Failure to comply with the terms will result in the imposition of a judgment and conviction that will be reported to DPS.
- If the defendant does not re-offend during the deferral period and complies with the terms, the charges will be dismissed.

⁵¹ Tex. Code Crim. Proc. Art. 55.01\(a\)\(2\)\(B\).

- If the deferred disposition is successfully completed, the defendant may seek an expunction and have the disposition removed from his or her criminal history record.

4.4.4 Felony Pretrial Diversion

At least one Texas prosecutor's office offers a felony pretrial diversion program for eligible offenses as determined by the district attorney. In Travis County, the District Attorney's Office will consider an application for felony pretrial diversion by an offender charged with a third degree or state jail felony non-violent offense if the defendant is a first time offender. The program allows the offender to avoid prosecution if there are no new arrests during the term and all the requirements of the term are completed. The offender may be required to attend counseling, make restitution, and perform community service and other conditions. If the term is completed successfully, the offender can apply for an expunction of the arrest record.⁵²

4.4.5 Deferred Prosecution - Juveniles Only

Deferred adjudication refers to adult proceedings, while deferred prosecution applies only to juveniles. In Texas only juveniles under the age of 17 that are alleged to have committed crimes may be considered for "Deferred Prosecution"⁵³ In a deferred prosecution, the juvenile completes an informal probation with the county. If successful, the charges are dismissed and the juvenile is not prosecuted. Unlike adult deferred adjudication, a juvenile has the absolute right to request deferred prosecution. If the probationary period is unsuccessful, the juvenile retains the ability to fight the charges.

4.5 PROTECTIVE ORDERS

Protective Orders are orders issued by a court to prevent continuing acts of family, dating or sexual violence. They can be part of a person's criminal history record and are reported to federal, state and local authorities. Protective orders are typically of limited duration and expire on the date specified in the Order or by statute, if the order does not specify an end date.

Protective orders issued under the Texas Family Code may not involve an arrest or conviction, but can still appear in a person's criminal history record or in the database of law enforcement agencies. The agency may enter protective orders in the computer records of outstanding warrants as notice that the order has been issued and is currently in effect. The clerk of the court where the order was issued

⁵² Travis County Felony Pretrial Diversion Program

⁵³ Tex. Fam. Code § 53.03.

must notify the agency when the order has been vacated or dismissed, so that the protective order may be removed from the list of outstanding warrants.⁵⁴

A law enforcement agency may enter a protective order in the agency's computer records of outstanding warrants as notice that the order has been issued and is currently in effect. On receipt of notification by a clerk of court that the court has vacated or dismissed an order, the law enforcement agency shall remove the order from the agency's computer record of outstanding warrants. People who have had a protective order issued against them at any time in the past, even if the order is expired, should review their criminal history record to ensure that the status of the protective order is accurately reported.

There are several different kinds of protective orders and each varies in duration.

4.5.1 Protective Order - Texas Family Code

A protective order under Chapter 71 of the Texas Family Code is a civil court order issued to prevent continuing acts of family violence, dating violence, or child abuse. By law, the TCIC is required to maintain information about "active" domestic violence protective orders.⁵⁵ Features:

- Civil order that is criminally enforceable
- Can be enforced in any state. A protective order issued in another state may be enforced in Texas; a protective order issued by a Texas court is enforceable in all other states.
- Can be issued without an arrest or corresponding criminal charges.⁵⁶
- Has a maximum duration of 2 years:
 - If the order is violated, it may be extended or renewed for up to two additional years;
 - Court has discretion to exceed two years in cases of serious bodily injury or perpetrator was the subject of two or more previous protective orders.
 - If the order expires while the person against whom it is directed is incarcerated for more than five years, the order is automatically extended for one year from the date the person is released from incarceration. *However, if the person was incarcerated for five or less years, the order is automatically extended for two years from the date the person is released from incarceration.*⁵⁷

⁵⁷ Tex. Fam. Code § 85.025\(c\)

After one year, the Respondent may file a motion to vacate the protective order upon showing that there is no continuing need for Protective Order.⁵⁸

4.5.2 Emergency Protective Order (Magistrate's Order)

A Magistrate's Order for Emergency Protection (Emergency Protective Order, or "EPO") is authorized by the Texas Code of Criminal Procedure,⁵⁹ and is issued by a magistrate following an arrest for an offense involving family violence or a sexual assault.

Features:

- Requires an arrest for stalking, sexual assault or an offense involving family or dating violence
- Issued for 31–61 days or for up to 91 days if a weapon is involved.
- Arrest often results in charges against perpetrator (e.g., assault with family violence) Law enforcement is notified of the EPO.

4.5.3 Protective Orders - Sexual Assault, Trafficking and Stalking⁶⁰

The Sexual Assault Protective Order is designed to protect survivors of sexual assault, sex trafficking and stalking from the ongoing threat of further harm from the alleged offender.

Features:

- Can be issued regardless of relationship between applicant and offender;
- Applicant must be a victim of sexual assault, sex trafficking or stalking
- Does not require an accompanying police report, arrest, or charges against the offending person
- May last a lifetime, depending on circumstances

5. EXPUNCTION, NONDISCLOSURE, AND PARDON

A criminal record can create barriers to employment, housing, credit, and other life necessities. Once the ex-offender obtains a copy of her criminal history record, it may be possible to remove arrest records not resulting in conviction, or restrict information depending on the offense. Petitions for nondisclosure and for expunctions are two methods by which Texas criminal records can be mitigated. This section is about the availability of these methods and information on how to proceed with each.

5.1 DIFFERENCE BETWEEN EXPUNCTION AND NONDISCLOSURE

The expunction of criminal records is an aspect of criminal law that most people do not understand.⁶¹ An expunction⁶² authorizes the actual destruction of the information surrounding the arrest. A non-disclosure⁶³ can limit public access to an arrest record but cannot destroy the record information.

Another difference between expunction and nondisclosure is that expunction prohibits any dissemination or use of the information relating to the offense to anyone, whereas nondisclosure shields it from the public but not from law enforcement agencies and other entities named in the statute, such as the State Board for Educator Certification and the Texas Department of Licensing and Regulation.⁶⁴

5.1.1 About Deferred Adjudications

Many believe that by accepting a deferred adjudication or disposition that their criminal record will not reflect that offense, and no evidence of it will be part of their criminal history record.⁶⁵ While it is true that a person who successfully completes a term of deferred adjudication will not show a final conviction on their criminal record, the records will still include details of the arrest. Expunction is not

5.2 EXPUNCTION

In Texas, expunction is available only under very narrow circumstances. Because it is a limited remedy, anyone with a criminal history record should be especially wary of services that claim to clean up the records for a fee. Expunction cannot remove the record of an adult criminal conviction except in the rare case where the offender has been pardoned, where the conviction was thrown out on appeal, or where the defendant was granted relief on the basis of actual innocence if the court order so states. Tex. Code Crim. P. Art. 55.01(a)(1)(B)(ii)⁶⁶

⁶⁶ The “actual innocence” provision, added by the Legislature in 2011, was intended to apply to those wrongfully convicted and exonerated. Prior to this language they had to obtain a pardon and then get an expunction to have the wrongful conviction removed from their record.

5.2.1 Order Directing Expunction

Unlike nondisclosure, where the court has discretion to grant “in the best interest of justice,” a petition for expunction must be granted if the offense and resulting arrest or adjudication are eligible under the statute. The court must grant the request to expunge if all of the other legal criteria are met.

5.2.2 Effect of Expunction

After the expunction is ordered, “the release, maintenance, dissemination, or use of the expunged records and files for any purpose is prohibited” and “the person arrested may deny the occurrence of the arrest and the existence of the expunction order.”⁶⁹ The Order applies to “all records and files relating to the arrest” in the district court in the county where the arrest occurred.⁷⁰ If the offense is eligible for expunction, the judge cannot dismiss or deny the request for expunction.⁷¹ Once the order of expunction is entered, the person may deny that the arrest occurred, and deny the existence of the associated expunction order.⁷²

5.3 NONDISCLOSURE

The 84th legislature created much greater access to nondisclosure for first time offenders. Unlike expunction, the nondisclosure process does not remove an offense from a person's criminal history record; rather, it shields the record from public disclosure. To restrict access to criminal history through nondisclosure, the following conditions must be met:

5.3.1 Automatic Nondisclosures – Deferred in Certain Misdemeanors: §411.072

- The offense must be among those eligible for nondisclosure, AND
 - excludes all misdemeanors under Penal Code Chapters 20 (kidnapping and unlawful restraint), 21 (indecent exposure and unlawful photography), 22 (assault, deadly conduct, terroristic threat), 25 (bigamy, enticing a child, criminal nonsupport, violation of protective order), 42 (disorderly conduct, harassment, animal cruelty), 43 (prostitution, sexting), 46 (unlawful carrying of a weapon, prohibited weapons), and 71 (engaging in organized criminal activity)
- The offender must have completed deferred adjudication AND
- The offender must have received a discharge and dismissal, AND
- It must be a first offense for the offender, AND
- A period of 180 days must have elapsed from the date that the offender was placed on deferred AND
- Offender is not required to file a petition (though it is recommended) but is required to pay a fee and "present" to the court.

5.3.2 Standard Deferred Nondisclosures: Tex. Gov't Code §411.0725

- The offense must be a Misdemeanor or Felony among those eligible for nondisclosure, AND
- The offender must have received a discharge and dismissal, AND
- The applicable waiting period must have elapsed
 - Most Misdemeanors: No waiting period.
 - Some Misdemeanors: 2 years from dismissal
- All those excluded from automatic nondisclosure above.
 - Felonies: 5 years from dismissal
- Must file a petition and must show that nondisclosure is in the best interest of the public

5.3.3 Nondisclosure after Straight Probation Tex. Gov't Code §411.073

- Allows for nondisclosure after a term of straight probation for certain misdemeanors is served, AND
 - Excludes misdemeanors under Alcoholic Beverage Code §106.041 (possession and/or consumption of or selling alcohol to minors); Penal Code §§49.04 (driving while intoxicated), 49.05 (flying while intoxicated), 49.06 (boating while intoxicated), or 49.065 (operating an amusement park ride while intoxicated); AND any conviction under Penal Code Chapter 71 (engaging in organized criminal activity).
- It must be a first offense for the offender, AND
- 2 Year Waiting period for some misdemeanors still applies.
- Must file a petition and show that nondisclosure is in the best interest of the public.

5.3.4 Misdemeanor Jail Time Served: Tex. Gov't Code §411.0735

- Allows for nondisclosure after a term of jail time is served for certain misdemeanors is served, AND
 - Excludes misdemeanors under Alcoholic Beverage Code §106.041 (possession and/or consumption of or selling alcohol to minors), Penal Code §§49.04 (driving while intoxicated), 49.05 (flying while intoxicated), 49.06 (boating while intoxicated), 49.065 (operating an amusement park ride while intoxicated), AND any conviction under Penal Code Chapter 71 (engaging in organized criminal activity).
- It must be a first offense for the offender, AND
- 2 Year Waiting period for some misdemeanors still applies.
- Must file a petition and show that nondisclosure is in the best interest of the public.

5.3.5 Human Trafficking Victims: Tex. Gov't Code § 411.0728

- Applies only to persons convicted of prostitution and sentenced to straight probation AND
- Successfully complete and conviction set aside under "judicial clemency" act, Tex. Code Crim. Proc. Art 42A.701
- Must file a petition and show that they only committed the offense as a victim of human trafficking and that nondisclosure is in the best interest of the public.

5.3.6 Limitations on Nondisclosure

As with expunctions, it is important to understand the legal limitations on nondisclosure. Anyone who has ever committed any of the offenses appearing in the second column (“Ineligible Offenses”) of the following table, regardless of the outcome (including successful deferred adjudication) are NOT eligible to petition for nondisclosure.⁷³

It is also important to remember that the Nondisclosure Order only restricts public access. Criminal justice agencies can still release the records subject to nondisclosure to other criminal justice agencies, for criminal justice or regulatory licensing purposes, other entities authorized by statute (such as schools, hospitals, public licensing boards, and certain government agencies), to the person who is the subject of the criminal history record, and for the purpose of complying with a requirement under federal law or if federal law requires the disclosure as a condition of receiving federal highway funds.⁷⁴

A person who is currently on deferred adjudication may seek nondisclosure of a previous deferred adjudication that resulted in dismissal and discharge.⁷⁵ A person who commits another offense while on deferred adjudication is not eligible to seek nondisclosure of the previous deferred adjudication.

5.3.7 Deferred Adjudication and Nondisclosure

A person who is currently on deferred adjudication may seek nondisclosure of a previous deferred adjudication that resulted in dismissal and discharge.⁷⁶ A person who commits another offense while on deferred adjudication or during the applicable waiting period is not eligible to seek nondisclosure of the previous deferred adjudication.

5.3.8 Nondisclosure Process

The nondisclosure process is a civil court proceeding filed in the criminal court that entered the original adjudication. The person seeking nondisclosure must file a petition for requesting nondisclosure, notify the prosecutor, and appear at a court hearing before a judge.

5.3.9 Order of Nondisclosure

Unlike an expunction, which is mandatory if the expunction criteria are met, the court makes the decision if nondisclosure is “in the best interest of justice”, except in the case of automatic nondisclosures for certain misdemeanors. If the court finds that it is, it “shall issue an order prohibiting criminal justice agencies from disclosing to the public criminal history record information related to the offense giving rise to the deferred adjudication.”⁷⁷

The order is then sent to DPS, who in turn forwards it to “all law enforcement agencies, jails or other detention facilities, magistrates, courts, prosecuting attorneys, correctional facilities, central state depositories of criminal records, and other officials or agencies or other entities of this state or of any political subdivision of this state, to all central federal depositories of criminal records that there is reason to believe have criminal history record information that is the subject of the order, and private entities that purchase criminal history record information from the department or that otherwise are likely to have criminal history record information that is subject to the order."⁷⁸

5.3.10 Effect of Order of Nondisclosure

If granted, the order prohibits criminal justice agencies from disclosing criminal history record information about the deferred adjudication to the public. If access to a criminal record that is covered by a nondisclosure order is requested by someone not authorized to view it, the agency may inform the requestor that it has "no record."⁷⁹ A person who releases criminal history information under an order of nondisclosure can be subject to criminal penalties.⁸⁰

5.4 PARDON

Pardons, or executive clemency, are very rare because the criterion for granting them is narrow and each must be approved by the governor. Clemency includes full pardons, conditional pardons, pardons based on innocence, commutations of sentence, and emergency medical reprieves. Unlike the expunction and nondisclosure process, which are court proceedings, an application for a pardon must be made to the Texas Board of Pardons and Paroles. Pardons are granted by the governor following the Board's recommendation.

5.4.1 Offenses NOT Eligible for Pardon

The following offenses and situations are not eligible for a pardon request:

- treason
- arrests with no conviction
- early dismissals from probation
- Class C misdemeanor
- out-of-state felony conviction
- federal conviction
- applicants who were denied a full pardon less than one year prior to the present application

5.4.2 Pardon Process

The clemency process begins with a lengthy application. Before beginning, the Board of Pardons and Paroles recommends that the applicant obtain all of the following documents:

- offense reports for any arrests;
- certified court documents for these arrests, including complaints, indictments, judgments, and orders of dismissal;
- an official criminal history statement, and
- three current letters of recommendation from persons other than family members who are familiar with the applicant.

The Board has discretion to recommend clemency based on the information provided.⁸¹As of January 1, 2012, the Texas Constitution was amended and the Governor was given the authority to pardon deferred adjudication offenses. Tex. Code Crim. Proc. Art. 48.01.

6. EMPLOYMENT

Seventy-three percent of human resources professionals said their company, or an agency hired by their company, conducted criminal background checks for all job candidates, according to a 2010 survey by the Society for Human Resource Management.

According another study, nearly one in three adults (31.7 percent) in the United States is estimated to have a criminal record on file with the states that will show up on a routine criminal-background check. African-American and Latino workers are the most negatively impacted by the criminal-justice system. Latinos are incarcerated at a rate more than twice that of whites, while African Americans are incarcerated at a rate six times that of whites.⁸²

Finding employment may one of the greatest challenges facing previously incarcerated persons. Employers may legally refuse to hire a person based on a criminal record. Depending on the occupation, state licensing boards can restrict access to vocational licenses based on a person's criminal history. Other challenges can include finding access to child care during work hours and transportation to and from the job.

This section addresses general employment issues commonly encountered by previously incarcerated people. Vocational and occupational license restrictions are addressed in Chapters 2 and 7 of this guide.

6.1 CIVIL RIGHTS⁸³

6.1.1 Bars to Hiring

A handful of states that protect job applicants from discrimination based on criminal history, but Texas is not among them.⁸⁴ A Texas employer can refuse to hire a job applicant for nearly any reason, including a criminal history record, unless the refusal violates federal antidiscrimination laws. Texas law allows employers to terminate an employee for any reason that doesn't violate federal civil rights laws.

⁸³ Civil Rights subsection adapted from Unity for Dignity: Expanding the Right to Organize to Win Human Rights at Work, December 2010 (used with permission from the Excluded Workers Congress, <https://www.reimaginerpe.org/node/5948>).

⁸⁴ New York, Connecticut, Minnesota, Hawaii, Illinois, Massachusetts, Pennsylvania, and Wisconsin have laws that protect convicted criminals from discrimination on the basis of their conviction.

Title VII of the Civil Rights Act of 1964 prohibits both disparate treatment and disparate impact. However, because of the disparate impact of the criminal-justice system on communities of color, the EEOC has found that "an employer's policy or practice of excluding individuals from employment on the basis of their conviction records has an adverse impact on [African-Americans and Latinos]."⁸⁵ Because of the adverse impact on minorities, EEOC policy prohibits employers from imposing blanket-hiring prohibitions on job seekers based on criminal records.

Despite this important federal protection, more than 60 percent of large employers reported that they would "probably not" or "definitely not" consider a job applicant once aware of the individual's criminal record.⁸⁶ African-American and Latino men with a criminal record are less likely to be offered employment than similarly situated whites.⁸⁷

An employer's use of criminal history information may violate civil rights laws if the offense for which they were convicted is not "job related." As a practical matter, proving that a person was unfairly denied employment based on criminal history is more difficult to prove than making a case that the person was discriminated against on the basis on race, color or national origin.⁸⁸ If 66% of Texas ex-offenders reentering are classified as Black or Hispanic, the applicant who is rejected for employment may be better able to prove that employer's underlying reason was based on the person's race, not record.,⁸⁹ Civil rights laws interpreting racial discrimination are more clearly settled than those involving criminal history discrimination, and may provide a clearer legal path to relief.

6.1.2 EEOC 2012 Enforcement Guidance

In April 2012 the U.S. Equal Employment Opportunity Commission (EEOC) issued a formal document on Enforcement Guidance for employers, employment agencies, applicants and employees on the consideration of arrest and conviction records in employment decisions under Title VII of the Civil Rights Act of 1964.⁹⁰ Excerpts (1982)* ("Where there is evidence of an adverse impact on blacks or Hispanics, an absolute bar to employment based on the mere fact that an individual has a conviction record is unlawful."), from the "Frequently Asked Questions" accompanying the EEOC's release of the guidelines are worth including here:

⁹⁰ As amended, 42 U.S.C. § 2000e

1. How is Title VII relevant to the use of criminal history information?

There are two ways in which an employer's use of criminal history information may violate Title VII. First, Title VII prohibits employers from treating job applicants with the same criminal records differently because of their race, color, religion, sex, or national origin ("disparate treatment discrimination").

Second, even where employers apply criminal record exclusions uniformly, the exclusions may still operate to disproportionately and unjustifiably exclude people of a particular race or national origin ("disparate impact discrimination"). If the employer does not show that such exclusion is "job related and consistent with business necessity" for the position in question, the exclusion is unlawful under Title VII.

2. Does Title VII prohibit employers from obtaining criminal background reports about job applicants or employees?

No. Title VII does not regulate the acquisition of criminal history information. However, another federal law, the Fair Credit Reporting Act, 15 U.S.C. § 1681 et seq. (FCRA), does establish several procedures for employers to follow when they obtain criminal history information from third-party consumer reporting agencies. In addition, some state laws provide protections to individuals related to criminal history inquiries by employers.

3. Is it a new idea to apply Title VII to the use of criminal history information?

No. The Commission has investigated and decided Title VII charges from individuals challenging the discriminatory use of criminal history information since at least 1969, thus, applying Title VII analysis to the use of criminal history information in employment decisions is well-established.

6. Is the Commission changing its fundamental positions on Title VII and criminal record exclusions with this Enforcement Guidance?

No. The Commission will continue its longstanding policy approach in this area: The fact of an arrest does not establish that criminal conduct has occurred. Arrest records are not probative of criminal conduct[.] However, an employer may act based on evidence of conduct that disqualifies an individual for a particular position.

Convictions are considered reliable evidence that the underlying criminal conduct occurred[.] National data supports a finding that criminal record exclusions have a disparate impact based on race and national origin. The national data provides a basis for the Commission to investigate Title VII disparate impact charges challenging criminal record exclusions. A policy or practice that excludes everyone with a criminal record from employment will not be job related and consistent with business necessity and therefore will violate Title VII, unless it is required by federal law.

The Enforcement Guidance also provides best practices for employers to consider when making employment decisions based on criminal records.⁹¹

6.1.3 "Ban the Box"

"Ban the Box" is an international campaign by civil rights groups and advocates for ex-offenders, aimed at persuading employers to remove from their hiring applications the check box that asks if applicants have a criminal record. In addition to employment applications the movement extends to housing and other social services.

By April 2019, a total of 34 states and the District of Columbia have adopted ban the box policies for employment applications. These states are: Arizona, California, Colorado, Connecticut, Delaware, Georgia, Hawaii, Illinois, Indiana, Kansas, Kentucky, Louisiana, Maryland, Massachusetts, Michigan, Minnesota, Missouri, Nebraska, Nevada, New Jersey, New Mexico, New York, North Dakota, Ohio, Oklahoma, Oregon, Pennsylvania, Rhode Island, Tennessee, Utah, Vermont, Virginia, Washington, and Wisconsin. In some jurisdictions, ban the box laws apply mostly to public or government jobs. Some apply to private companies, or to businesses of at least a certain size.⁹²

The intended goal of ban the box policies are to promote stable employment and increased public safety. Access to employment has a significant impact on reduction in recidivating and success after incarceration. Those who are able to find a job have a better likelihood of being productive members of society and contributing economically.

Unfortunately, in 2016 two new working papers suggest that these policies are actually increasing racial disparities in employment outcomes. When employers are restricted from asking applicants about criminal history they often make assumptions about criminality based on the applicant' race. A recent study found that white applicants received 23% more callbacks than black applicants with similar applications. This white advantage was observed at much higher levels in neighborhoods with higher white populations. Prior to ban the box policies being implemented this gap in callbacks was only 7%.⁹³

6.2 OCCUPATIONAL OUTLOOK HANDBOOK

The Occupational Outlook Handbook is an annual publication of the U.S. Department of Labor (DOL), Bureau of Labor Statistics (BLS). It covers hundreds of occupations and breaks down information on each, including a description of the job duties, working conditions, training and education required for specific occupations, expected earnings, and the anticipated job market for a specific occupation, the Handbook also provides links to the job market in each state.⁹⁴

6.3 WORK AUTHORIZATION DOCUMENTS

Before applying for a job, job seekers should be aware of the employment eligibility verification required by federal law and be prepared to produce the required documents. When hired, employees are required to prove that they are legally entitled to work in the United States. Employers are required to verify the identity and eligibility to work for all new employees and to keep the verification form on file. All employees, citizens and noncitizens, hired after November 6, 1986 and working in the U.S. must complete United States Citizenship and Immigration Services (USCIS) Form I-9, Employment Eligibility Verification, to prove authorization to work in the U.S. Failure to provide the verification within 3 days of hire can result in termination of the new employee.

6.3.1 I-9 Employment Verification Form Requirements

A variety of documents are acceptable to prove work authorization. The employee must provide to his employer, within three days of hire, the following:

- One document that establishes both identity and employment eligibility (on List A on the I-9) OR
- One document that establishes identity (on List B), and another document establishing employment eligibility (on List C).

By law, the employer does not get to choose which documents the employee must submit, and is not permitted to retain the original identification presented. The employer may only photocopy the ID and must return it to the employee.

Note that a current voter registration card in List B is as valid a form of documentation for the I-9 as is a driver's license or identity card.

6.3.2 No I-9 Verification Documents

An employee who fails to produce the required document, or a receipt for a replacement document if the original is lost, stolen or destroyed within three business days of the date employment begins can be terminated. An employee who shows a receipt to replace a document has ninety days to present the original documents.

6.3.3 E Verify

E-Verify is an Internet-based system run by the United States Citizenship and Immigration Services (USCIS) that allows companies to verify an employee's authorization to work in the United States.

Though all employers must verify their employees' employment eligibility with Form I-9, participation in E-Verify is usually voluntary unless required by state law. Twenty-six states require employer use of e-Verify, including Texas for public employees and contractors.⁹⁵

E-Verify compares Form I-9 information to data from U.S. Department of Homeland Security and Social Security Administration. The following "Know Your Rights" list is adapted from the USCIS e-Verify information site.

- Employers must inform prospective employees that they use e-Verify by posting a notice, or by "electronic notification."
- E-Verify can be used for new hires only, not current employees.
- If an employer uses e-Verify, the employer must use it for all new hires regardless of national origin or citizenship.
- E-Verify must be used only after an employee has been hired and accepted employment. The I-9 must be completed first.
- Employers may not prescreen applicants through E-Verify.
- An employer who receives an information mismatch, or Tentative Nonconfirmation (TNC), in E-Verify, the employer must promptly provide the employee with information about how to contest the TNC, including a written notice provided by E-Verify. Note: the employee has 8 workdays to contest the TNC.
- If an employee decides to contest the TNC, the employer must provide the employee with a referral letter provided by E-Verify that contains specific instructions and contact information.
- Employers may not take any adverse action against an employee because he or she contests a TNC. Adverse actions include firing, suspending, withholding pay or training, or otherwise infringing upon his or her employment.
- The employee must be given eight federal government work days to contact the appropriate federal agency to resolve the TNC.

An employee who receives a Tentative Nonconfirmation (TNC) can contest it by contacting the "the appropriate agency "to resolve the mismatch within eight federal government work days from receiving the TNC. To resolve an "SSA TNC," the employee must visit an SSA office and bring the TNC referral letter and required documentation. To resolve a "DHS TNC," the employee must call the number listed on the referral letter.

6.4 JOB SEARCH WITH CRIMINAL RECORD

For a current listing of all states requiring use of e-verify, see <https://www.lawlogix.com/e-verify-map/>

It is important for a person with a criminal history to be upfront about their experience and explain the circumstances of the arrest. The employer should assess whether the conduct is closely enough related to the job to justify denial of employment. Before going in to an interview, the applicant should be prepared to point out that the past offense(s) are not closely related to the job to which she is applying, after considering

- the nature of the job,
- the nature and seriousness of the offense, and
- the length of time since it occurred.

6.4.1 Tips on Conducting a Job Search with a Criminal Record

A job seeker with a criminal history knows that a background check is coming. Employers want to know if the applicant has the skills to succeed in the position. Here are some tips for previously incarcerated job seekers from employment and human resource professionals:⁹⁶

Know everything about your conviction

It's important to know exactly what you've been convicted of and whether the record was expunged. Many have no idea about the actual charges that they were convicted of. It makes a difference. Applicants should know enough about their criminal record to explain the details. If not, an employer may think that the applicant doesn't care enough about it to explain it to them.

Explore volunteer opportunities

Find at least two civic organizations to volunteer at in order to obtain solid references to back up their application. Six to 18 months of volunteer work will go a long way in getting a usable reference."

Consider the type of company to which you're applying

Depending on the type, size or management style of a company, it may or may not conduct a criminal background check or be more lenient in accepting applicants with a criminal past. Most applications ask whether you have been arrested or convicted of a crime. Some will ask for felony convictions only, which means conviction of a misdemeanor might be allowed. A convicted felon may have better opportunities in small businesses where he may have an opportunity to explain what happened directly to the owner."

Participate in a re-entry program

⁹⁶ Adapted from an article, "How to Conduct a Job Search With a Criminal Record", Auerbach, Debra, April 27, 2012, used with permission.

Programs are available to help job seekers with a criminal record re-enter society and secure employment. One such initiative is the Prison Entrepreneurship Program, a Houston-based nonprofit whose mission is to “stimulate positive life transformation for executives and inmates, uniting them through entrepreneurial passion, education and mentoring.” The program connects convicted felons with top executives, MBA students and politicians, and provides education, training and support. This is just one example; search the Web for local organizations that offer similar services.

Be honest

This may be the most important advice. Be honest about references, employment history and criminal records. Failing to disclose when asked can also cause the employer to fire the employee later for failing to disclose it at the time of hire.

A job seeker with a felony record who has ‘paid his or her debt’ should be transparent about it. Mention it after real interest has been expressed but before the job offer is made. Always answer questions about it truthfully, and never act as if you are hiding something, as it is worse to have it exposed in a background check.”

6.4.2 Crimes of “Moral Turpitude”

A common question on job applications is whether the applicant has ever been charged or convicted of a crime involving “moral turpitude.” Convictions for crimes of moral turpitude can affect a person’s ability to obtain a vocation a license, security clearance, or employment. However, many applicants have little idea what might constitute a crime of “moral turpitude” because the crimes are defined in case law, not in the criminal statutes. Moral turpitude is:

- The quality of a crime involving grave infringement of the moral sentiment of the community,
- Conduct that is base, vile, or depraved, and
- Something that is inherently immoral or dishonest.⁹⁷

Table 13: Crimes of Moral Turpitude

The following is a list of crimes involving moral turpitude as defined by case law:⁹⁸

6.4.3 Sex Offenders - Special Issues

Texas - and the nation - have sweeping registration laws for sex offenders. Sex offenders face special issues when it comes to finding a job. First, Texas laws have the effect of restricting registered sex offenders (“registrants”) access to the Internet, perhaps the most common method of searching for employment. Second, the Texas Sex Offender Database makes information about these offenses available to everyone, not just larger employers who pay third parties to collect criminal history record information about an applicant.

6.4.4 Internet Use

There is no outright prohibition under Texas law preventing registrant's access to the Internet, creating accounts, on web pages on social networking or photo-sharing websites. However, offenders who are on probation or parole often have access to the Internet monitored or restricted as a condition of supervision. Registrants are required to notify DPS of any "online identifiers" within 7 days of creation, and failure to do so is a felony violation. While the registrants "online identifiers" are not publicly disclosed, DPS is permitted by law to forward the "on-line identifiers" to social networking and other approved sites for monitoring.⁹⁹

6.4.5 Texas Sex Offender Registration Database

The federal law known as the Adam Walsh Child Protection and Safety Act¹⁰⁰ passed in July, 2006, organizes sex offenders into three Tiers defining the minimum registration periods for sex offenders, with Tier 3, the highest, requiring lifetime registration. Texas law mandates that the registration period exceed federal law.¹⁰¹

The Sex Offender Registration and Notification Act ("SORNA"), created as part of the Adam Walsh Act requires that this information be made public. Free public access to Texas' database of registered sex offenders is maintained by the Texas DPS. The database information is supplied by local criminal justice agencies, and cannot be verified as accurate without a cross-fingerprint check. DPS disclaims any inaccuracies:

"Extreme care should be exercised in using any information obtained from this website. Neither DPS nor the State of Texas shall be responsible for any errors or omissions produced by secondary dissemination of this information."¹⁰²

It is unlikely that an employer who spots their applicant on the database will go out of their way to request a cross-fingerprint check to verify the accuracy of the database information.

Texas' current (April 2012) list of "reportable conviction or adjudication" sex offenses requiring registration is available from DPS. For a list of registration periods by Texas offense, please refer to

6.5 WAGE AND HOUR LAWS

6.5.1 Federal Minimum Wage Law

The Fair Labor Standards Act (FLSA) establishes minimum wage, overtime pay, recordkeeping, and youth employment standards for private sector workers. Workers covered under the FLSA are entitled to federal minimum wage, currently $7.25 per hour.¹⁰³ Overtime pay (for work in excess of 40 hours per week) must be paid at a rate of at least one and one half times the federal minimum wage.¹⁰⁴ The current federal minimum overtime rate is $10.88 per hour.¹⁰⁵

6.5.2 Texas Minimum Wage Law

All workers covered under the FLSA have the right to be paid minimum wage or higher. The right to minimum wage is a legal right. It cannot be waived by the worker or employer. Any agreement to be paid less than minimum wage is legally void and unenforceable. Texas has adopted the federal minimum wage rate by reference.¹⁰⁶ If the federal minimum wage rate changes, Texas' minimum wage changes along with it.

6.5.3 Earnings Statement

Texas law requires employers to provide a written earnings statement to each employee with specific information.¹⁰⁷ An earnings statement can be included on check stub or as a separate written statement. It can also be emailed to the worker to coincide with a direct deposit of wages into the worker's bank account.

The earnings statement must include

- Deductions from pay
- Net wages
- Beginning and ending dates of the pay period.

¹⁰³ 29 USC § 206\(a\)\(1\)\(C\).

¹⁰⁴ 29 USC § 207\(a\)\(2\)\(C\).

Local governments may set their own wage rate above the state or federal minimum through a local living wage or minimum wage ordinance. California's minimum wage is $8.00 per hour, but workers in San Francisco benefit from a living wage ordinance that mandates a minimum $9.79 per hour.

¹⁰⁶ Tex. Lab. Code § 62.051 "[A]n employer shall pay to each employee the federal minimum wage under Section 6, Fair Labor Standards Act of 1938 (29 USC Section 206)." Texas is among the twenty-four states whose minimum wage coincides with the federal minimum. A breakdown by state may be found at the Department of Labor's website, <https://www.dol.gov/general/topic/wages/minimumwage>

¹⁰⁷ Tex. Lab. Code § 62.003.

- Employee name
- Employer's name and address.

6.5.4 Wages Paid in Cash

A written earnings statement is required by law to be provided to the worker every time she is paid, regardless of the form of payment. There is no exception for wages paid in cash. Workers should be advised to keep earnings statements and check stubs in a safe place, in case pay or deductions from pay are disputed.

6.5.5 Payment Intervals

An employer must set regular payday and pay employees on that day. Workers are entitled to be paid at least twice a month, with each pay period being as near as possible to an equal number of days.¹⁰⁸ An employer may pay more than twice a month, but neither the worker nor employer can agree to payment less than twice a month.

If the employer doesn't designate the two-week intervals, Texas law presumes that the employer must pay wages on the first and 15th day of every month.¹⁰⁹ All work done from the 1st to the 15th of the month must be paid no later than the 26th, and work done from the 16th to the last day of the month must be paid no later than the 10th of the following month.

If entitled to overtime, overtime wages must be paid on the regular payday for the period in which that workweek ends.¹¹⁰ If overtime cannot be calculated in time for the next pay period, it must be paid no later than the following regular payday.¹¹¹

6.5.6 Form and Method of Payment

Texas law requires employers to pay the worker in dollars by cash, check or by electronic funds transfer. An employee may agree, but only in writing, to have all or part of her wages paid in kind or in another form.¹¹²

6.5.7 Releases and Vouchers

It is illegal for an employer to agree to pay any employee on the condition that she signs an agreement releasing the employer from liability for unpaid wages. Any release signed by the worker for this purpose is void on its face, and does not preclude a claim for wages owed. Similarly, an employer cannot pay a worker with

¹⁰⁸Tex. Labor Code § 61.011.

¹¹⁰ 29 CFR § 778.106.

¹¹² Tex. Labor Code § 61.016.

a "voucher" or by any means that may be subject to a service charge. Payment must be made in U.S. currency for the amount stated in the written earnings statement.

6.5.8 Late Pay

There is no grace period or "late pay" for an employer to pay regular wages. "Late pay" is the same as "no pay" under the FLSA. The law requires payment of wages "when due," which normally means at the next regularly scheduled payday. For overtime pay, an employer can wait until the next payday to pay overtime accrued during the preceding pay period.

6.5.9 Wage Dispute No Excuse

If there is a disagreement about the amount of wages owed, the employer still must pay the undisputed amount (the wages the employer acknowledges are due). A worker's claim that more is owed does not give the employer the right to delay the entire paycheck; only the amount in dispute.

6.6 ILLEGAL DEDUCTIONS FROM WAGES

6.6.1 Written Agreement Required

Both Texas and federal law allow deductions from wages only if there is a written agreement with the employee to do so.¹¹³ The deductions must also be:

- Reasonable,
- Customarily furnished by the employer to the workers, and
- Separately stated and identified on the worker's earnings statement or paycheck.¹¹⁴

An employer may not withhold or divert any part of an employee's wages unless the employer:

- is ordered to do so by a court of competent jurisdiction;
- is authorized to do so by state or federal law; or
- has written authorization

An employer may deduct for the following items only if the employee has consented to it in writing:

- cash shortages,
- breakage, damage, or loss of the employer's property,
- required uniforms,
- required tools or other items necessary for employment, or

¹¹³ Tex. Labor Code §§ 61.018, 61.016.

¹¹⁴ Tex. Labor Code § 62.053.

- loans.¹¹⁵

A deduction can be illegal even if the worker has agreed to it in writing, including agreed deductions for:

- food or lodging in lieu of wages.¹¹⁶
- anything that is primarily for the employer's own benefit, such as safety equipment, tools, or uniforms.¹¹⁷
- The cost of housing if the housing violates health or safety regulations.¹¹⁸
- Funds to make up for paying overtime.¹¹⁹
- Cost of work-related travel.

If an employer uses a handbook or policy manual instead of a separate writing, the worker's signed acknowledgment that she has received a copy of the company policies can be authorization to withhold from wages if it meets the above consent requirements. The signed acknowledgment must also include language stating that the worker agrees to the authorization for deduction.¹²⁰

6.6.2 Written Agreement Required

Generally, if the use of facilities, equipment and uniforms benefit the employer, the employee does not have to pay for them.¹²¹ The cost of uniforms cannot be deducted from wages if the uniform is required by the employer.¹²² Other common employer deductions are illegal if they take an employee's pay below minimum wage. These include deductions to cover the cost of tools, safety equipment, and uniforms that do not fall within the definition of "facilities" under the FLSA; disciplinary deductions (such as "fines" for tardiness), and deductions to cover the cost of items lost or damaged by the employee.¹²³ Texas law additionally requires all deductions to be authorized in writing by the employee.

The Social Security Administration may inform employers by letter that there is “discrepancy” between the social security number provided by the employer to the SSA and the one the SSA has on file for the employee. The letters is sometimes referred to as a “no match” letter. Its stated purpose is to ensure that the worker receives credit for earnings and benefits administered by SSA. Such “mismatches” could occur from typographical errors, name changes or incomplete information. The “no match” letters specifically instruct employers that the fact that a current or former employee’s name appeared in the letter is not any indication of work authorization status, and that the letter alone is insufficient to take adverse action against (i.e. terminate) the employee. Despite these caveats, employers have fired employees on the assumption that the mismatch meant that the employee was not unauthorized to work, exposing them to legal consequences for unlawful termination.

The US Department of Justice, Office of Special Counsel for Immigration Related Unfair Employment Practices (OSC) provides the following tips for employees who have been notified by their employer of the discrepancy:

What Employees Should Know:

- Name/SSN no-matches can result from simple administrative errors.
- Contact the Social Security Administration (SSA) as soon as possible to update your records following a name change due to marriage, divorce or some other reason.
- Double-check your name and SSN on your Social Security card for errors.
- If you receive a no-match notice or discover an error on your Social Security card, an SSA representative can review it with you.
- Your employer may periodically ask for information on the status of your efforts to address and resolve the no match.

Employees Should Request:

- Notice from their employer of the nature and source of any reported name/SSN no-match.
- An opportunity to review and correct name/SSN errors in employer records.
- Continued employment while addressing and resolving a reported name/SSN no-match.
- A reasonable period of time to gather documents and resolve a reported name/SSN no-match with SSA

- Equal treatment under the employer's policies regarding name/SSN no-matches regardless of citizenship status or national origin.

Employees Should Call OSC's Hotline If An Employer:

- Attempts to immediately re-verify an employee's employment eligibility by requesting the completion of a new Form I-9 based solely on receipt of a no-match notice.
- Terminates, suspends or takes any other adverse action affecting an employee's employment based only on the notice of name/SSN no-match.
- Fails to provide a reasonable period of time for an employee to address and resolve the reported no-match.
- Follows different procedures for different classes of employees based on national origin or citizenship status.
- Requires an employee to produce specific documents to address the no-match.
- Requires an employee to produce specific written evidence from the SSA or any other governmental entity that the no-match has been resolved.

6.8 FEDERAL BONDING PROGRAM

Job seekers who committed a fraudulent or dishonest act (crime of moral turpitude), or who have served time are often rejected for employment. The Federal Bonding Program (FBP) is an employer hiring incentive that guarantees employers of persons who have been convicted of a crime involving moral turpitude.¹²⁴ The Department of Labor (DOL) provides the Texas Workforce Commission with bonds to provide employers with incentives to hire people with a criminal record.

- Employers receive bonded employees free-of-charge which serves as an incentive to hire hard-to-place job applicants.
- The FBP bond insurance was designed to reimburse the employer for any loss due to employee theft of money or property with no employer deductible.

Additional bonds may be purchased from the bonding agent by organizations providing reentry services. For information on employer participants in the federal bonding program, contact the Texas Workforce Commission, www.twc.state.tx.us.¹²⁵

6.9 WORK OPPORTUNITY TAX CREDIT (WOTC)

The Work Opportunity Tax Credit (WOTC) is a Federal tax credit incentive provided to employers for hiring certain groups who face significant barriers to employment. The disadvantaged person is hired and the employer is compensated by being able to reduce their federal income tax liability.

The program used to cover some recipients of public benefits (TANF, SNAP, SSI) recipients, the disabled, and ex-felons (defined as an individual who has been convicted of a felony and has a hiring date which is not more than one year after the last date on which he was so convicted or released from prison.). At present, WOTC credit is only available for hiring within the following.

Table 14: Work Opportunity Tax Credit Target Groups

6.10 STARTING A BUSINESS

For people who cannot find work because of their criminal record, another option is to start a business. Composing a business plan, opening a business bank account, and starting with some working capital are all parts of starting a business. The amount of funds (capital) required depends on the type of business. Some businesses require materials and equipment, and others may require a vocational license. Examples of businesses that do not require a vocational license include painting services, lawn care, and carpentry. Others, such as plumbing, may require vocational licenses, whose validity may be affected as a result of conviction. Vocational and occupational licenses are discussed in the next section.

Excellent guidance and information for ex-offenders who wish to start their own business can be found in the publication Hire Yourself: A Guide to Starting a Small Business for Ex Offenders.¹²⁶

6.10.1 Child Care

Many parents find it impossible to get a job because they lack child care. Texas offers childcare subsidy (<http://www.twc.state.tx.us/svcs/childcare/>) through local Workforce Development Boards to allow those in need of child care while they work, attend school, or get training for their job. The income-based subsidy covers children age 13 and under.

6.10.2 Forming a Child Care Co-Op

Temporary Employment and Staff An alternative to seeking a government childcare subsidy or imposing on relatives and friends for child care is to form a child care cooperative. A child care cooperative is made up of a number of families in a community who share child care among the group. No money is exchanged. Points are earned by providing care for children of a member family. Points are spent by having a member parent care for another member family's children. A secretary who keeps track of the points or credits could be "paid" for this task by extra credits or points. The co-op members can "pay" a member in points to act as secretary and record-keeper, or to arrange the childcare scheduling among the co-op members.¹²⁷

Individuals with a criminal history who find it difficult to secure employment often turn to temporary staffing agencies. These agencies can be a good place to start, but the job seeker should be sure to ask about fees and hidden costs associated with placement, and compare their wages with what the agency charges to the employer. Some job placement agencies misrepresent their services, promote outdated or fake job offerings, or charge high fees for services that may not lead to a job.

6.11.1 Considerations for Job Placement Firms

Before spending money on a job placement service or signing a contract, the Federal Trade Commission (FTC) recommends the following:¹²⁸

- Reject any company that promises a job.
- Be skeptical of any employment-service firm that charges first, even if it guarantees refunds.
- Get a copy of the firm's contract and read it carefully before paying any money. Understand the terms and conditions of the firm's refund policy. Understand what services the firm will provide and what you'll be responsible for doing.
- Take time to read the contract and avoid high-pressure sales pitches that require payment immediately or risk losing out on an opportunity.
- Avoid purchasing services or products from a firm that's reluctant to answer questions.
- Note that listing services and "consultants" can write ads to sound like a job when they are selling general information about getting a job.
- Follow up with the offices of any company or organization mentioned in an ad or an interview by an employment service to find out if the company is really hiring.
- Be wary of firms promoting "previously undisclosed" federal government jobs. All federal positions are announced to the public on www.usajobs.gov.

6.12 DAY LABOR¹²⁹

¹²⁹ This section adapted from National Employment Law Project, www.NELP.org fact sheet for organizers, 2002: Day Laborers' Rights under Federal Law: Waiting Time and Deductions from Wages. http://nelp.3cdn.net/c348fa1fdf4b2bca59_2im6b5yha.pdf

“Day laborers” are people employed on a temporary, day-to-day basis, normally working in construction, light manufacturing, landscaping and other similar jobs. Day laborers find work either through a temporary day labor agency (or labor hall) or by waiting on a designated street for an employer to arrive and hire workers as needed. Workers often do not know from day to day whether they will get work.

Day laborers have problems that are unique to the nature of the short term temporary work they perform. Among them:

- Employers wishing to minimize costs and increase flexibility
- One “employer” (the day labor agent) hiring and paying the worker and another “employer” (at the work site) directing the work
- Lack of union representation
- Workers’ immigration status and lack of work authorization

Despite the non-standard nature of the day labor employment relationship, day laborers are entitled to the benefit of minimum wage and overtime laws. In summary,

- If workers are waiting at a designated place at the employer’s request, they should generally be paid for the waiting time.
- Generally, deductions that do not bring the hourly wage below the federal minimum wage are permissible.
- Deduction of fees for transportation to the work site is generally allowed. However, if the transportation is part of and necessary to the employment, deductions may not bring the hourly wage below the federal minimum.
- The cost of safety equipment or tools required for a job generally should not be deducted from wages if the deduction reduces the wage below the minimum level.
- If accepting meals is voluntary, the meals are generally considered to be for the benefit or convenience of the employee and the reasonable cost can therefore be deducted from the employee’s wage whether or not it reduces the wage below the minimum.
- If a check cashing service is voluntary, it could be considered primarily for the benefit of employees and therefore a fee could be deducted from the wages even if that deduction reduces the wage below the minimum.

6.12.1 Day Laborers’ Rights Regarding Wages and Hours

Two areas where day laborers are vulnerable to employers' wage and hour violations involve waiting time and wage deductions.

Waiting Time

Employers take advantage of day laborers in numerous ways, including payment of low wages and requiring workers to wait without any promise of work at all. Because workers are usually free to stay or go as they wish prior to getting an assignment, courts typically do not find an employment relationship before a job is assigned. It is therefore more difficult to get wages paid for the period between arriving at the labor hall, or job pick-up site, and the time the job is assigned.

But, if a worker is required to report for work at a specified time, either at the day labor agency or at the worksite, the workday commences at that point even if the worker has to wait until a later time for the actual work activities to begin. If the worker has to report and wait each day for the same job over a number of days, it is easier to recover waiting-time pay.

Deductions from Wages

A worker's pay can be made up of a combination of wages and other benefits. In some circumstances, an employer can legally make deductions from a worker's wages. The general rule under federal law is that deductions are generally permitted as long as they do not bring the hourly cash pay below the federal minimum wage. Federal law only regulates deductions that bring the "cash" component of a worker's wages below the minimum wage.

Federal law allows deductions that do cut into the minimum wage, provided the following six requirements are met:

1. the employee actually and voluntarily received the benefit;
2. the benefit was not furnished primarily for the benefit or convenience of the employer;
3. the benefit was not furnished in violation of any federal or state law;
4. the deduction is provided at a reasonable cost;
5. the payment of non-cash wages is not prohibited by a union agreement;
6. the benefit is customarily provided to employees. That is, the items must be provided regularly or similar items must be provided by other employers in similar businesses in comparable geographic locations.

6.12.2 Fees for Transport

Day laborers are often provided with transportation between the work hall, or pick-up location, and the work site. Employers frequently deduct an amount from the employees' wages for providing transportation. If the transportation is part of and necessary to the employment, transportation deductions cannot bring workers' wages below the minimum. In federal courts, travel by day haul workers in a contractor's bus from a recruitment site to the fields is normally not compensable time, in the absence of some work-related activity at the recruitment site or during the trip.

6.12.3 Essential Tools and Safety Equipment

These items should generally not be deducted from wages, if the deduction reduces the wage below the minimum level, for the following reasons:

1. such deductions should be regarded as primarily for the benefit or convenience of the employer;
2. uniforms are not deductible if they are required by law, by the employer, or by the nature of the work performed. Examples of safety equipment include gloves, hard hats and boots. These items should be regarded as necessary for the benefit or convenience of the employer if they are required to safely perform the work asked of the worker. The use of such safety items might also be required by law and could then be considered uniforms.

6.12.4 Meals

If accepting meals is voluntary, the meals are generally considered to be for the benefit or convenience of the employee and therefore the cost can be deducted from the employee's wage whether or not it reduces the wage below the minimum. The amount deducted is restricted to the reasonable cost of the meal (the lesser of the actual cost and the market value of the meal).

6.12.5 Check Cashing

If the service is voluntary, it could be considered primarily for the benefit of employees and therefore a fee could be deducted from the wages. Federal law requires that wages (up to the minimum wage) be paid "free and clear."

6.12.6 Compliance with other Labor Laws

Employer abuse can take other forms. One survey showed that almost half of all day laborers experienced at least one instance of wage theft in the two months prior to being surveyed. Forty-four percent were denied food, water or breaks while on the job. One third of the day laborers surveyed had been abandoned on the job, and one-quarter of the workers had suffered violence at work.¹³⁰ Redress for these and other day labor grievances depend on state and local laws.¹³¹

6.13 EMPLOYMENT AND SOCIAL MEDIA

In addition to criminal history background checks, employers routinely check the social media sites (like Facebook) of prospective or current employees. Anyone applying for a job should consider the likelihood that an employer has already read - or will read - the applicant's Facebook page or conduct a Google search of the person's name.

Job hunters with social media accounts should

- review their social media page and delete any information they think might be prejudicial in an employment setting.
- Make sure that appropriate privacy settings are in place. Unless the privacy options are selected, the page defaults to public access. Privacy requires action from the holder of the account.

Even applicants who have been careful enough to use Facebook's privacy settings are vulnerable to uninvited observers. Companies like Social Intelligence Corporation (SocialIntel)¹³² are hired by employers to do a "credit check" of an applicant's or employee's social-media activity, collect information and provide it to potential employers.

A disturbing trend among some employers is to ask prospective job applicants for their passwords to social media sites like Facebook. An employer may even ask a prospective employee for access during the job interview. An interviewee should not be required to "voluntarily" turn over their passwords in order to be considered for a job, or as a condition of maintaining a job. If an employer asks for this information, the applicant can

- Ask the employer if revealing the password is something that is required to move forward with this job interview

¹³⁰"The only national survey of day laborers ever performed in the United States was released in 2006. These statistics come from that survey. Abel Valenzuela, Nik Theodore, Edwin Melendez & Ana Luz Gonzalez, On the Corner: Day Labor in the United States, Jan 2006, <http://www.sscnet.edu/publications/2006/01/06_on_the_corner_day_labor_in_the_united_states.pdf>

¹³¹ State and local laws can provide more rights for day laborers. For more information, see Drafting Day Labor Legislation: A Guide for Organizers and Advocates. <https://www.nelp.org/publication/drafting-day-labor-legislation-a-guide-for-organizers-and-advocates/>.

¹³² SocialIntel is subject to the federal Fair Credit Reporting Act, but as a result, it can keep an archive of a person's social-media activities for seven years. The information stored is to be used only for background checks but can be captured even if the information has been deleted from the account by the user.

- Tell the employer that he is careful with his personal, private online information and does not feel comfortable giving out any passwords

An employer's demand for access to a prospective employee's private medial pages may violate existing anti-eavesdropping and privacy laws, as well as federal statutes relating to unauthorized access to computers and electronically-stored information¹³³ Because the law in this area is still in flux, the best course for the job seeker is to clear up his media page(s), apply the privacy settings, and refrain from posting anything that he would not want the employer to see.

6.14 JOB SCAMS

6.14.1 Work at Home Schemes

Fraudulent promoters use classifieds and the Internet sites to advertise of work-at-home offers, from medical billing and envelope stuffing to assembly and craft work. The ads make promises about earnings, merchandise, or marketability that are not always accurate. According to the Federal Trade Commission, here are some work-at-home jobs to avoid:¹³⁴

Envelope Stuffing. The job promises work stuffing envelopes at home for a "small" fee. Once the fee is paid the promoter will not have work but try to get the worker to recruit friends and relatives to buy the same envelope-stuffing "opportunity."

Assembly or Craft Work. Ads promise money for assembling crafts or other products at home. Often these require the worker to invest in equipment or supplies, like a sewing or sign-making machine, or other materials. Once the materials are purchased and the product is made, the company will not pay for the product.

Rebate Processing. Promises to generate income by helping to process rebates. The work involves payment of a fee for training, certification or registration materials and no rebates to process.

Online Searches. Income is generated by running Internet searches on prominent search engines and filling out forms in exchange for a small handling fee paid online. These scams use financial information to charge recurring fees.

Medical Billing. This scam usually involves an investment by the worker of hundreds of dollars to launch a medical billing business, along with software and technical support. The work is often not available. Many doctors' offices process ¹³³ The Stored Communications Act (SCA), or the Computer Fraud and Abuse Act (CFAA). Those two acts, respectively, prohibit intentional access to electronic information without authorization, and prohibit intentional access to a computer, without authorization, to obtain information.

7 . VOCATIONAL LICENSES

Renewing, maintaining, or applying for a vocational license¹³⁵ is important for formerly incarcerated workers because it shows employers that they have received specialized training in a particular field. The training typically culminates in an examination, which, if passed, results in the award of a vocational license. A vocational license usually results in better employment opportunities and better pay. Prison-based programs include training to become an electrician, truck driver, or cosmetologists (which require licenses) to welder and carpenter (which do not).

¹³⁵ As distinguished from an "occupational" license, this is a type of restricted driver's license allowing for limited driving privileges during a period of driver's license suspension.

State law governs some areas of the licensing process as it relates to criminal convictions, but each licensing authority is generally free to create its own rules and standards for the profession it regulates. This includes internal rules for license application, renewal, disqualification and revocation. Whether a criminal background will bar an applicant from obtaining a license depends to a large extent on the profession.

This section addresses the effect of a criminal conviction on a person's ability to apply or renew a vocational license for an occupation that falls under the jurisdiction of the Texas Department of Licensing and Regulation (TDLR).¹³⁶ Professions such as law and medicine are not regulated by the TDLR but have their own licensing entities and rules regarding applicants with a criminal history.

A criminal conviction does not automatically prohibit a previously incarcerated person from obtaining an occupational license. The TDLR reported that 14% of all applicants for an electrician's license had criminal convictions, but only a third of those were denied a license based on a prior conviction.¹³⁷

7.1 TEXAS DEPARTMENT OF LICENSING AND REGULATION

The Texas Department of Licensing and Regulation (TDLR) is the state's umbrella agency responsible for overseeing most licensed occupations. It regulates businesses, industries, general trades, and occupations that are regulated by the state and assigned to the TDLR for oversight. The TDLR is also responsible for deciding if the rules of a licensing authority unlawfully restrict or bar people who have been convicted of a crime from obtaining a license.

7.1.1 Occupations Regulated by the TDLR

The ability of ex-offenders to hold occupational licenses is restricted by the TDLR in over 100 different licensed occupations, ranging from plumber to electrician to dietician.¹³⁸

Lawyers, doctors, accountants and other professions are governed by other state agencies and laws. The Texas Medical Board controls licensing of most health care

¹³⁷ "Working with Conviction - Criminal Offenses as Barriers to Entering Licensed Occupations in Texas"

(citing Texas Department of Licensing and Regulation). In 2006, TDLR opposed the application for a master electrician's license submitted by a man convicted of four counts of felony indecency with a child. After considering the applicant's good conduct in the years since his offense, and the fact that licensure posed little danger of future criminal activity involving the public or the applicant's customers, an administrative law judge ruled in favor of licensure. related occupations; pharmacists, veterinarians, peace officers, and emergency medical services personnel each have separate licensing agencies. The TDLR regulates the following occupations and industries:

OCCUPATIONS AND INDUSTRIES REGULATED BY

Air Conditioning and Refrigeration	Personnel Employment Services
Architectural Barriers	Polygraph Examiners
Auctioneers	Property Tax Consultants
Barbers	Property Tax Professionals

Elevator/Elevator Safety	Tow Truck Operators
For-Profit Legal Services	Vehicle Storage Employees
Identity Recovery Service Contract Providers	Used Auto Parts Recyclers
Industrialized Housing and Buildings	Weather Modification
Loss Damage Waivers	Water Well Drillers and Pump Installers

7.1.2 Incarceration - Automatic Revocation

Automatic revocation is a matter of state law and cannot be appealed to the TDLR. A person who is incarcerated because of a felony conviction is not eligible to obtain or renew a license from the TDLR. If a person already has a license, it will be automatically revoked under two circumstances:

- If the person is convicted of a felony followed by imprisonment.

- When the person's parole or mandatory supervision is revoked.¹³⁹

The automatic revocation is not a lifetime ban. If a license is revoked by operation of law¹⁴⁰ the person must wait until release from imprisonment before applying for a new license.

Aside from automatic revocation, any person with a criminal record can apply to the TDLR for a license. The TDLR has discretion to deny or accept the application, but certain rules apply to the application process and how it will be considered once submitted.

7.2 TDLR APPLICATION PROCESS

7.2.1 First Time License

Each occupation has its own application requirements and fees.¹⁴¹ A person seeking a license for the first time must complete the TDLR's application form, pay the application fee, and complete all requirements for the occupation within one year of applying. If the license requirements are not completed within a year, the person must reapply.

7.2.2 License Renewal

To renew a license, a person must apply for renewal before the current license expires. The TDLR may run a criminal background check at the time of renewal to reveal offenses that may have occurred since the license was issued or that were not reported at the time of the original application. If the license has been expired for more than one year, it cannot be renewed, and a new application must be submitted.

7.2.3 Criminal Background Check

Depending on the license sought, the TDLR's Licensing Division will run a criminal background check through the Department of Public Safety (DPS) on each application for a license or application for renewal. If a person's criminal history is an issue, the application is referred to TDLR staff for further review. If the recommendation is to grant the license, the file is returned to the Licensing Division.

If the application is denied, the TDLR will send the applicant a letter that identifies the offenses that form the basis of the denial. The applicant has a right to appeal the decision. Criminal background checks are part of the licensing process. People with criminal histories should review their criminal records before starting the license application process with the TDLR.

A seemingly extensive criminal history can be considerably shortened if entries unrelated to conviction are eliminated. Errors should be corrected, if possible; arrests that did not result in conviction may be expunged, and nondisclosure may be requested for eligible offenses.

For information on expunction and nondisclosure of criminal history records, please refer to Part 4: Expunction, Nondisclosure, and Pardon.

7.2.4 Request for Criminal History Evaluation Letter

Anyone applying for a license through TDLR can request a “criminal history evaluation letter.” The TDLR will perform a preliminary criminal history evaluation and provide the results before the individual applies for a license. The letter offers some insight into how the TDLR might evaluate a person’s criminal history if an application were filed. By obtaining an evaluation first, an applicant can make an informed decision about whether to apply for a license before devoting time and resources to training for that occupation.¹⁴² To request a criminal history evaluation letter, the applicant must:

- submit a determination of eligibility request form. There is a different form for each occupation.
- complete a criminal history questionnaire for each conviction or placed on deferred adjudication, and
- pay a $25.00 fee.

The TDLR will issue a criminal history evaluation letter within 90 days of receiving a complete request. The letter will state whether the TDLR would or would not recommend granting a license based on the information provided by the requestor. The letter is a recommendation only, and only for a specific occupation. It is not binding or final, and regardless of the results, a person can proceed with a formal license application at any time.

7.2.5 Consideration of Deferred Adjudication

Although an offense resulting in deferred adjudication is not a conviction, the TDLR is permitted to consider it when making a decision on a licensing application.¹⁴³ Applicants must include all offenses in the licensing application, including those that resulted in deferred adjudication. Omitting them from an application can hurt an applicant’s prospects, because the TDLR has the ability to run the applicant’s criminal history record to verify the information provided.

¹⁴² For more information, go to TDLJ’s Criminal History Evaluation Letter page, See Section 51.4012 and Chapter 53, Subchapter D, of the Occupations Code, permit individuals to request a criminal history evaluation letter from the Department before formally applying for a license.

¹⁴³ Chapters 51 and 53, Tex. Occ. Code

The TDLR cannot consider a deferred adjudication as the sole basis for rejection or renewal of a license, unless the TDLR decides that:

1. the person may pose a continued threat to public safety; or
2. employing the person in the licensed occupation would create a situation in which the person could repeat the prohibited conduct.

A rejected applicant can appeal if the rejection appeared to be based on grounds unrelated to public safety or repeated prohibited conduct.

7.2.6 TDLR Evaluation of Application

In deciding whether the license should be granted, the TDLR is supposed to consider:

- the nature and seriousness of the crime;
- the relationship of the crime to the purposes for requiring a license to engage in the occupation;
- the extent to which a license might offer an opportunity to engage in the same type of criminal activity in which the applicant was previously involved; and
- the relationship of the crime to the ability, capacity, or fitness required to perform the duties and discharge the responsibilities of the licensed occupation.

The TDLR will also evaluate the applicant's fitness to perform the duties and discharge the responsibilities of the licensed occupation by considering:

- the extent and nature of the applicant's past criminal activity;
- the applicant's age when the crime was committed;
- the amount of time that has elapsed since the applicant's last criminal activity;
- the applicant's conduct and work history before and after the criminal activity;
- evidence of the applicant's rehabilitation or rehabilitative effort while imprisoned or after release; and
- other evidence of the applicant's fitness, including letters of recommendation from prosecutors and law enforcement and correctional officers who prosecuted, arrested, or had custodial responsibility for the applicant; the sheriff or chief of police in the community where the applicant resides; and any other person who has had contact with the applicant.

7.2.7 TDLR Grounds for Denial

By law,¹⁴⁴ the TDLR is permitted to deny, suspend or revoke a license if the crime is:

1. an offense that directly relates to the duties and responsibilities of the licensed occupation;
2. until September 1, 2019, an offense that does not directly relate to the duties and responsibilities of the licensed occupation but was committed fewer than five years before the person applies for the license;
3. an offense for which a person is not eligible for probation or community supervision; or
4. sexually violent offenses, as defined by Article 62.001 of the Code of Criminal Procedure.¹⁴⁵

7.2.8 "Directly Related"

A potential applicant cannot be disqualified unless the TDLR can show that the applicant's offense is "directly related" to the duties and responsibilities of that occupation. The term "directly related" can be so broadly defined that it can be made to include virtually all offenses. Persons convicted of theft or burglary, for example, may be prevented from holding an electrician's license because electricians "have access to private residences and businesses, where they may come into direct contact with unattended property." The disqualification decision based on "direct relationship" grounds can be appealed to the TDLR.

Regardless of whether there is a "direct relationship" between the offense and the occupation, the TDLR may deny an applicant if it has been less than five years since the commission of the offense. The time runs from the date the offense was committed, not from the date of conviction.

7.2.9 Appeal

If an application is denied, it can be appealed to an administrative law judge in the State Office of Administrative Hearings (SOAH).¹⁴⁶ The TDLR will schedule a hearing and send a notice of the hearing date and time to the applicant. It is helpful to have attorney assistance at the hearing; contact an attorney or the local legal aid office for help.

¹⁴⁴ Tex. Occ. Code §53.021\(a\).

¹⁴⁵ Tex. Code Crim. P. § 62.001\(6\). "Sexually violent offense" is defined to include the following offenses under the Texas Penal Code: §21.02 (Continuous sexual abuse of young child or children), §21.11\(a\)\(1\) (Indecency with a child), §22.011 (Sexual assault), or §22.021 (Aggravated sexual assault), §43.25 (Sexual performance by a child), §20.04\(a\)\(4\) (Aggravated kidnapping, if the defendant committed the offense with intent to violate or abuse the victim sexually); §30.02 (Burglary, if with intent to commit certain crimes involving children).

¹⁴⁶ "The [SOAH] shall conduct all hearings in contested cases under Chapter 2001 that are before the Texas Department of Licensing and Regulation under Chapter 51, Occupations Code

At the hearing, the applicant can offer testimony and written evidence to an administrative law judge to support why the license should be granted. Following the hearing, SOAH will issue a proposal for decision. The decision is not binding on the agency unless the board rules state that they will be bound by SOAH's decisions. If licensing board decides not to adopt a favorable decision from SOAH, the adverse decision can be appealed to state court.¹⁴⁷

The process is the same where an offense is revealed after the license is granted. In the case of renewal, the decision will be whether the license should be suspended or revoked instead of whether to grant or deny.

Evidence for the hearing can be anything that might help alter the decision to deny. This can include information probation or parole officials but should also show that the applicant has:

1. been steadily employed;
2. supported his or her dependents;
3. maintained a record of good conduct; and
4. paid all outstanding court costs, supervision fees, fines, and restitution ordered in any criminal case.

7.3 TWIC

TWIC is the identification credential for anyone that requires unescorted access to secure areas of Maritime Transportation Security Act (MTSA). Individuals who meet TWIC eligibility are issued a credential based on fingerprint information.

7.3.1 People Who Must Get a TWIC

Coast Guard-credentialed merchant mariners, port facility employees, longshore workers, truck drivers, and others requiring unescorted access to secure areas of maritime facilities and vessels regulated by the MTSA. More information and resources are available on the official TWIC Program website (www.tsa.gov/twic) and through the TWIC help desk (1-866-DHS-TWIC).

8 . PUBLIC BENEFITS

Public benefits are the common term for a variety of state and federal programs designed to help those in need of assistance. Food stamps (SNAP), Temporary Assistance for Needy Families (TANF) often called cash assistance; Social Security Supplemental Income (SSI) and Medicaid are all examples of public benefits. A criminal conviction or prison sentence can restrict eligibility for various federal benefits, depending on the type and grade of offense and the specific benefit.

8.1 DENIAL OF FEDERAL BENEFITS (DFB)

The Denial of Federal Benefits (DFB) Program¹⁴⁸ gives state and federal courts- as part of the sentencing process- the ability to deny all or selected federal benefits to individuals who are convicted of drug trafficking or drug possession. Examples of benefits denied include:

- Owners of small businesses losing Small Business Administration loans, or the right to make contracts with the federal government.
- Researchers who lose eligibility to apply for grants.
- Broadcasters and airline pilots losing their Federal Communications Commission or Federal Aviation Administration licenses.
- Doctors who cannot authority to prescribe medicine.

The DFB sanction can be part or combined with of other criminal sanctions. Courts have the option to deny all or some benefits, and to determine the duration of the period of denial, depending on the crime. If benefits are denied as part of a sentence, the sentencing court must notify a government agency that in turn notifies the U.S. General Services Administration (GSA). The GSA publishes a list of the names of individuals who are denied benefits (referred to as the “Debarment List.”)

8.2 TEMPORARY ASSISTANCE FOR NEEDY FAMILIES (TANF)

The 1996 Personal Responsibility and Work Opportunity Reconciliation Act (PRWORA) ended the individual entitlement to welfare and replaced it with a block grant to States (Temporary Assistance for Needy Families, or TANF), set a five-year lifetime limit on benefits, required adults to work to receive benefits and strengthened child support enforcement requirements for non-custodial parents.

Temporary Assistance for Needy Families (TANF) provides financial help for children and their parents or relatives who are living with them. Monthly cash payments help pay for food, clothing, housing, utilities, furniture, transportation, telephone, laundry, household equipment, medical supplies not paid for by Medicaid and other basic needs. The amount of the TANF payments depend family size and income.¹⁴⁹

8.2.1 TANF for Families

To be eligible, a family must be below income and resource limits as determined by Texas HHSC, including cash on hand, money in the bank and number and type of vehicles. Some features of TANF:

- Families approved for TANF will receive payments for six months.
- Families who receive TANF benefits can also get Medicaid benefits.
- TANF is paid through the Lone Star Card, an electronic debit card.
- TANF payments range from 12 to 36 months for adults, depending on the situation. There are no time limits for children under age 18. If the child is a full time student expected to graduate before age 19, benefits can be paid through the child's graduation.
- A child's parent or relative cannot be approved for TANF unless he or she signs a Personal Responsibility Agreement.

8.2.2 Personal Responsibility Agreement

The agreement requires adult TANF recipients to:

- Train for a job or look for employment if capable.¹⁵⁰
- Cooperate with the Office of Attorney General - Child Support Division and take parenting skills classes if required.
- Not voluntarily quit a job, or abuse alcohol or drugs.
- Make sure the children are attending school and are up-to-date on medical screenings and required immunizations (usually through Medicaid).

8.2.3 "One-Time TANF"

People leaving prison may qualify for short-term, nonrecurring TANF benefits to meet immediate personal and family needs following release. Families who already get TANF cannot get a one-time TANF payment. Unlike regular TANF, this benefit is not considered "assistance." One-time TANF is designed to help with short-term crisis such as:

¹⁵⁰ Employment assistance provided by the Texas Workforce Commission.

- Loss of a job, loss of a home, or other sudden financial loss, such as loss of financial support for a child or help paying living expenses like rent, utilities and food.
- Unemployment following graduation from an institution of higher learning (university, college, junior college, technical training school).
- Loss of employment income because vehicle is not working.
- A Medical emergency.

8.2.4 One-Time TANF Grandparent Payment

The One-Time TANF Grandparent Payment is $1,000 cash assistance given to a grandparent who cares for a child receiving TANF. A grandparent can only receive this payment once, even though other grandchildren may move in at a later time.

8.2.5 Felony Drug Offenses – Lifetime Ban

A person is disqualified from receiving benefits if the Texas Health and Human Services Commission (HHSC) determines the person is a fugitive (a person fleeing to avoid prosecution or confinement for a felony criminal conviction, or found by a court to be violating federal or state probation or parole) or is convicted of a felony drug offense (not deferred adjudication) in Texas or another state committed on or after April 1, 2002.¹⁵¹

8.3 FOOD STAMPS (SNAP)

SNAP food benefits “food stamps” are available for eligible single persons or families. The benefits periods last for 6 months, but can as short as 1 month or as long as 3 years. Adults between the ages of 18 and 50 who do not have children at home can only receive SNAP for up to 3 months in a 3-year period. The period can be longer than three months for a single person if he or she works at least 20 hours a week or is in job training. Like TANF, SNAP benefits are through the Lone Star Card.

As with TANF, in order to obtain benefits, formerly incarcerated people on probation or parole are required to attend welfare-to-work programs, have no outstanding warrants and be compliant with the terms and conditions of probation or parole to maintain eligibility for SNAP.

8.3.1 Emergency SNAP

Emergency SNAP benefits are for those in an emergency situation who need immediate food assistance, including families with less than $35 combined income and resources, whose existing resources cannot cover rent and utilities, or migrant or seasonal workers with very low income and resources.

¹⁵¹ Texas Admin Code §372.501\(a\)

8.3.2 Felony Drug Offenses –Changes to Lifetime Ban

Effective September 1, 2015 persons with a final felony conviction will be able to obtain food stamps so long as they successfully complete their sentence. Violating terms of their parole or probation could trigger a two-year disqualification and a new offense will trigger a lifetime ban.¹⁵²

8.4 MEDICAID AND CHIP

Low income families can apply to the state's Medicaid Program for health care. Families who qualify for Medicaid also qualify for TANF. Families who fall outside of Medicaid resource and income guidelines might qualify for CHIP, or the Children's Health Insurance Program. This program covers medical and dental care as well as eye examinations.

A family can receive Medicaid benefits as long as income and resource requirements are met. Before the end of each six month period of coverage, a renewal application is sent to the family.

8.5 SOCIAL SECURITY AND SSI

8.5.1 Social Security

Generally, the term social security describes a program that provides elderly or disabled people old age, disability, and survivors insurance, as well as supplemental security income. The money raised from social security taxes goes to providing benefits for those who have reached retirement age or are otherwise currently eligible. Social Security benefits are based on the amount of Social Security taxes paid based on individual income.

The SSA expects offenders to inform them (and if a Veteran, the Department of Veterans Affairs) when convicted of a felony involving incarceration. Benefits will be suspended for the offender during the period of incarceration. Family members who are eligible for benefits based on the offender's work history can continue to receive benefits.

8.5.2 Social Security Supplemental Income (SSI)

Supplemental Security Income is funded by general tax revenues (not Social Security taxes). SSI benefits can be paid to people who are 65 or older, or blind or disabled people who have little or no income. No SSI benefits are payable for any month that an offender is in jail or prison, and payments are halted during the period of incarceration.

A jail or prison sentence of twelve months or more terminates eligibility for SSI benefits. If incarcerated for one month, benefits will be suspended but not terminated; there is no need to reapply. The correctional facility is supposed to notify the Social Security Administration when the offender is released, so that eligibility for SSI can be restored. People recently released from incarceration should follow up with the Social Security Administration to make sure that the agency has been notified of the release.

8.5.3 Outstanding Warrants

Criminal warrants can affect eligibility for SSI. People with outstanding felony warrants are ineligible. Violations of the conditions of probation or parole that are imposed as part of a federal or state sentence will also trigger ineligibility.¹⁵³ A warrant, even for an unpaid fine, must be resolved in order to restore eligibility for benefits.

8.5.4 "Overpayments"

Whether in prison or under warrant, SSI may consider any benefits paid during the period of ineligibility to be an "overpayment." If this is the case, the SSI recipient will receive an overpayment notice, which can be appealed. For help with the appealing the denial of benefits, contact an attorney or local legal aid office.

8.6 UNEMPLOYMENT BENEFITS

Texas offers temporary financial help to people who are unemployed or partially unemployed through no fault their own. Job loss because of a criminal conviction would not likely qualify that person for unemployment benefits, because the loss is attributable to fault of the applicant.¹⁵⁴ In a right-to-work state, the employee is at a disadvantage if criminal history is a reason for termination. Regardless of a criminal conviction, a person finds a job and subsequently loses it through no fault of their own might qualify for unemployment.¹⁵⁵

8.7 EDUCATION ASSISTANCE

Effective July 1, 2000, Congress placed restrictions on student financial aid for students who have been convicted of certain drug-related offenses. A conviction prior to July 1, 2000 might affect financial aid eligibility.

¹⁵⁴ Texas Workforce Commission, Unemployment Insurance Benefits Handbook at 8, available at <http://www.twc.state.tx.us/ui/bnfts/bi-99.pdf>.

Students who are ineligible can regain eligibility early by either having the conviction invalidated or by successfully completing an approved drug rehabilitation program, which includes two unannounced drug tests. The Department of Education uses the FAFSA (Free Application for Federal Student Aid) to enforce these restrictions.

A non-drug related conviction does not automatically render a person ineligible for federal financial aid. People barred from federal financial aid because of a drug conviction may still be eligible for non-federal aid from states and private institutions. Every student should therefore complete the FAFSA.

9 . SHELTER AND HOUSING

For people newly released from prison, stable housing is pivotal to successful reentry. This section addresses housing options, the effect a person's criminal history plays in obtaining housing, and legal rights as they pertain to housing.

9.1 HOMELESSNESS

Ideally, offenders close to release will have been counseled on housing options and made a reentry plan that addresses shelter and housing issues.¹⁵⁶ Far too many people facing reentry have no place to call home and no family members willing to take them in. For these individuals, immediate housing options may be limited to homeless shelters or charities.¹⁵⁷

This problem is especially acute for people under a "serve-all," or day-for-day sentence. Once released, they are no longer under the jurisdiction of the corrections system or the Board of Pardons and Paroles. Those directly released from incarceration leave with nothing more than with their personal belongings, $100, and a bus ticket. With nowhere to go, a homeless shelter might be the only alternative to sleeping on the streets.

9.1.1 Shelter Resources

The availability of shelter resources for the homeless vary by location. To search shelters by Texas County, see the Homeless Shelter Directory website.

9.2 RELEASE TO SUPERVISION

Individuals released on parole are still under the jurisdiction of the TDCJ. By law, they must be paroled to the county where they resided at the time the offense was committed, or to the county of conviction, sometimes called the Legal County of Residence (LCOR).¹⁵⁸ Exceptions to release to the LCOR depend on circumstances such as the availability of employment and location of family members.¹⁵⁹ Other restrictions apply to the release of persons convicted of certain sex crimes.

9.2.1 Halfway Houses

¹⁵⁶ The Texas Department of Criminal Justice's (TDCJ) Re-Entry and Integration Division (RID) addresses housing issues as part of its voluntary re-entry plan.

¹⁵⁷ For a comprehensive list of Texas housing resources for formerly incarcerated people, please refer to the Texas Criminal Justice Coalition's free publication, A New Start – A Re-Entry Guide for Texas.

¹⁵⁸ Tex. Govt. Code §508.181\(a\).

¹⁵⁹ Tex. Govt. Code §508.181\(b\).

The terms and conditions of a person's release from prison may require living in a halfway house.¹⁶⁰ Halfway houses are intended to provide transitional housing for the formerly incarcerated people in the process of reintegration, while still providing monitoring and support. Regardless of the offense, bed space available in TDCJ-approved halfway houses severely limited, so that people who otherwise qualify for early release sometimes remain in prison until space is available.¹⁶¹

9.2.2 THAP Program

The Temporary Housing Assistance Program (THAP) was created to provide temporary housing for those who have approved for parole and are approaching their mandatory release date.¹⁶² THAP site providers receive payments directly from TDCJ. THAP payments cannot exceed the cost that TDCJ would pay to incarcerate the person for the same time period for which the payment is issued.

There is no application for THAP. Candidates are screened for THAP before release for eligibility. If accepted, the THAP recipient must to actively seek employment, adhere to the housing provider's rules and be able to secure a more stable work and housing situation when the three month term has expired. THAP housing continues to be limited due to the availability of THAP providers.

9.2.3 Not Eligible for THAP

- People released under a "serve-all" sentence
- People who have housing provided by family or friends
- People whose county of return has a TDCJ-funded halfway house (Dallas, El Paso, Jefferson, Harris, Tarrant, and Travis Counties).

9.2.4 Living with Family Members

Those who are not awaiting placement to a halfway house may have other housing options, like moving in with a family or friend during the transition period. Family members can often provide shelter and social support for a successful reentry. If the family is living in federally subsidized housing, all household members should be aware that:

- The reentering person will not be counted as a household member for purposes of getting a larger housing subsidy or living accommodation.

¹⁶¹ Currently, there are only six TDCJ-approved halfway houses in Texas, located in the major population centers of Beaumont, Ft. Worth, Austin, Dallas, El Paso and Houston. TDCJ- Parole Division, Halfway House Directory (last reviewed November 21, 2011). Five of the six are managed by private for-profit companies under contract with TDCJ. The GEO Group, a multinational corporation headquartered in Boca Raton, Florida, manages the TDCJ halfway houses in Beaumont, Ft. Worth and Houston. Avalon Correctional Services, Inc., headquartered in Oklahoma City, Oklahoma, manages houses in Austin and El Paso. The sixth, Wayback House in Dallas, is operated by a nonprofit. Only three of the six halfway houses – in Beaumont, El Paso and Houston – accept sex offenders and parolees from other counties.

¹⁶² Tex. Gov. Code §508.157.

- If the re-entering person disrupts or violates the public housing rules, the entire household could be evicted, regardless of whether the behavior is a criminal offense.

9.3 AFFORDABLE HOUSING

9.3.1 No Automatic Disqualification

There is no federal “ban” or automatic disqualification on either type of housing for people with criminal convictions, but each program is locally managed and has wide discretion to develop local policies governing admission and occupancy.

9.3.2 Waiting Period

People who may not have access to affordable housing may qualify for subsidized housing, but the wait for affordable housing can take months, even years. Each housing authority maintains its own waiting list(s).

9.3.3 Types of Supportive Housing

There are two types of federally supported housing: Public Housing and the Housing Choice Voucher Program. With public housing, local government agencies both provide and regulate housing units. With the housing choice voucher program (or “Section 8”), the government provides a subsidy (voucher) to private landlords in exchange for renting to a qualifying tenant at a reduced rate.

The federal government, through the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD) provides support to local Public Housing Authorities (PHA's). PHA's are responsible for providing and regulating affordable housing within their communities.¹⁶³

9.3.4 Eligibility for Public Housing

Public housing is limited to low-income families and individuals. A PHA determines eligibility based on:

- annual gross income;
- whether the applicant qualifies as elderly, a person with a disability, or as a family;
- U.S. citizenship or eligible immigration status;
- preferences that may give some families preference over others on the waiting list depending on the needs in its own community, and
- other tenant selection factors that the local PHA may establish as long as they do not violate federal antidiscrimination laws.

¹⁶³ There are 424 PHA's in the state of Texas that collectively manage over 66,000 public housing units. The San Antonio Housing Authority is the largest with 6,611 units, followed by El Paso (6,028), Dallas (4,667) and Houston (3,485). A full list of the PHA's in Texas and their contact information is available on the HUD website.

PHA's have the authority to:

- access criminal records of the applicant or current tenant, and
- access records from drug treatment facilities where that information is solely related to whether the applicant is currently engaging in the illegal use of a controlled substance.¹⁶⁴

9.3.5 Application for Public Housing

A person seeking public housing must apply through their local PHA. As part of the application, the PHA will need the following information:

1. Names, sex, date of birth and relationship to the applicant of all who are expected to live in the unit;
2. The applicant's present address and telephone number;
3. Other family circumstances that might qualify the family for a tenant selection preference, such as veteran status, current housing situation;
4. Contact information on current and previous landlords so that they can be contacted about the family's suitability as a tenant;
5. The family's estimated anticipated income for the next twelve months and its sources;
6. Contact information for the applicant's employers, banks and any other information needed to verify income and the family composition; and
7. The applicant's acknowledgement that the PHA has the right to visit the home to interview the applicant and family members to check on upkeep of the home.

9.3.6 Criminal Background Check

Federal law requires criminal background checks to be run on adult household members applying to live in public housing. Because criminal records can contain errors, PHA's must give applicants an opportunity to dispute the accuracy of their criminal records.¹⁶⁵

9.3.7 Documents Required

¹⁶⁴ The Housing Opportunity Program Extension Act of 1996, codified at 42 USCA §§1437d\(s\);1437d\(t\)

¹⁶⁵ Tran-Leung, Marie Claire, When Discretion Means Denial for People With Criminal Records in Federally Subsidized Housing, Shriver Center 2015

The applicant may need to provide certain documents to verify the information in the application, such as a birth certificate or tax returns. The PHA can also ask the applicant to sign a release enabling the PHA to get information from third parties, like an employer, to verify employment status.

9.3.8 Selection Preferences

Each local PHA can set its own preferences as long as they are nondiscriminatory. A PHA may have a preference for a family over a single person, or for a disabled person over a single family. Applicants should ask the PHA what preferences they may apply. The PHA can close the waiting list if there are more families on the list than they can place in the near future.

9.3.9 Decision on Application

The PHA must send written notice of its decision. If accepted, the PHA will usually add the applicant’s name to a waiting list and contact the applicant when housing is available. Once housing is available, the applicant will sign a lease with the PHA. The PHA is the landlord. If the application is denied, the PHA is required to state why and provide information on how to appeal the decision.

9.3.10 PHA as Landlord

Rent is referred to as the Total Tenant Payment (TTP). It is based on the family's anticipated gross annual income less deductions. As the landlord, they are responsible for ensuring that the tenant follows the lease, maintenance and repairs, move tenants to another unit if required and terminate the lease if the tenants are in violation.

If the tenants comply with the lease and remain income-eligible, they can usually stay in public housing indefinitely. The PHA is permitted to re-examine the family income at least once every 12 months to make sure the family remains eligible for public housing.

9.4 EVICTIONS, RESTRICTIONS AND BANS

Federal laws govern both admission and eviction standards for federally subsidized housing. These laws give the PHA's broad discretion to craft eviction policies for their individual communities. Access to public housing can be restricted or banned based on some of the following:

Table 14: Bans and Restrictions on Federally Subsidized Housing

Type of Restriction	Reason	Duration	Authority
Mandatory Permanent	Ban on current people who are current illegal users or pattern that demonstrates	Permanent	42 USC § 1437n. 1.

	Lifetime ban for conviction for Methamphetamine manufacture in federally assisted housing
	Lifetime ban on sex offenders subject to lifetime registration
	Any tenant evicted from federally assisted housing by reason of drug-related criminal activity in the last three years.
Mandatory Temporary	Any household member currently engaging in illegal use of a controlled substance. Regulations define "currently engaged in" as "if the person has engaged in the behavior recently enough to justify a reasonable belief that the behavior is current." PHA's are advised to define "recently" as a specific period of time, such as the past month or six months.	3 years from date of eviction unless: shortened with evidence successful rehab or circumstances of eviction no longer exist	42 USC § 13661 24 CFR § 982.553; 24 CFR § 960.204.
	Drug related criminal activity
	Violent criminal activity
Discretionary	Criminal activity poses a threat to the owner, residents or PHA staff on or off premises; eviction must comply with due process	Can be accepted if criminal activity occurred a "reasonable" # The definition of "reasonable" is left to local PHA. # time before the person seeks admission.	42 USCA §13661 (c). 42 USC §1437d. See 42 USC §1437d(k); 24 CFR §966.51.

9.4.1 Evidence Required For Denial

PHA and Section 8 housing can be denied or terminated for criminal activity based on a preponderance of evidence.¹⁶⁶ Preponderance of evidence is defined as evidence which as a whole shows that a fact is more probable than not. The intent is to prove that the act(s) occurred, not that a crime took place. Evidence from police and court records, testimony from neighbors, documentation of drug raids or arrest warrants can all be credible evidence. HUD states that examples of evidence of illegal activities "may include a conviction record, former landlord references, etc."¹⁶⁷ This applies to both public housing and Section 8 housing.¹⁶⁸

9.4.2 Opportunity to Dispute

If the housing authority chooses to terminate the lease, it must notify the tenant, provide copies of the criminal record information and an opportunity to dispute the information. The opportunity to dispute must be offered before the housing authority can take any action against the tenant based on the information.¹⁶⁹

9.4.3 Grievance Procedure

HUD requires housing authorities to have an administrative grievance procedure under which tenants will:

- be advised of the specific grounds of any proposed adverse public housing agency action;
- have an opportunity for a hearing before an impartial party upon timely request within any period applicable under subsection (l) of this section;
- have an opportunity to examine any documents or records or regulations related to the proposed action;
- be entitled to be represented by another person of their choice at any hearing;
- be entitled to ask questions of witnesses and have others make statements on their behalf; and
- be entitled to receive a written decision by the public housing agency on the proposed action. 42 USCA § 1437d(k).

9.4.4 Right to Review.

¹⁶⁶ See, e.g., FY 2014 Administrative Plan, Housing Authority of the City of Arlington at 186, available at, <http://www.arlington-tx.gov/cdp-housing/wp-content/uploads/sites/30/2014/10/Admin-Plan-FY2014-AHA.pdf>

¹⁶⁸ 42 USC 1437d\(1\)\(6\).

¹⁶⁹ 24 CFR §5.903\(f\)

A person who is denied housing assistance must be provided an opportunity to review the adverse decision.¹⁷⁰ The review process must be included with the notice of denial or termination.¹⁷¹

9.4.5 Mitigating Circumstances

The PHA “is required” to consider mitigating circumstances for applicants such as evidence of rehabilitation or willingness to participate in counseling or social services.¹⁷²

The PHA “may” consider mitigating circumstances for Section 8 Applicants.¹⁷³

Applicants can bring positive letters or other documents to show evidence of rehabilitation. Some examples include:

- School: transcript or letter from teacher or school administrator detailing length of attendance, grades, punctuality, etc.
- Job Training: letter from a program supervisor or administrator
- Employment: letter for a supervisor detailing length of employment and job performance (include any employment during incarceration)
- Counseling or social service program: letters describing attendance, positive drug tests, etc.
- Certificate of Relief from Disabilities or Certificate of Good Conduct
- Other, such as certificates from programs such as anger management, drug/alcohol treatment; letter from Parole Officer with positive information; letters from clergy; letters from landlords or building superintendents; letters from neighbors; proof of your children’s successes; letters from family.

9.4.6 Domestic Violence

¹⁷⁰ 24 CFR § 982.554.

¹⁷¹ At minimum, the review procedure must comply with the following:

- The review may be conducted by anyone designated by the PHA except the person that made the decision to deny housing assistance.
- The applicant must be given an opportunity to present written or oral objections to the PHA decision.
- The PHA must notify the applicant of the PHA final decision after the informal review, including a brief statement of the reasons for the final decision.

¹⁷³ 24 CFR §982.552\(c\)\(2\)\(I\)

Public housing and Section 8 tenants must comply with the Violence Against Women Act, and cannot exclude or deny housing to victims of family or dating violence.¹⁷⁴

9.5 HOUSING DISCRIMINATION

If the real reason housing is denied is illegal discrimination, not offender status, an applicant can pursue certain legal remedies to challenge the denial. Under federal law, a housing provider may not discriminate based on a person's race, sex, national origin, religion, family status or disability.¹⁷⁵ This is true for all housing, regardless of whether it is private, federally subsidized, or publicly owned.

Discriminatory practices can range from flagrant abuses to more subtle forms. Part of the challenge in combating illegal discrimination is in identifying when it occurs and recognizing housing practices that have a discriminatory effect.¹⁷⁶

9.5.1 Refusing to Rent or Sell

An obvious violation of civil rights laws occurs when an apartment manager, leasing agent, landlord or owner simply refuses to rent or sell to a member of a protected class.¹⁷⁷ For example, a landlord's refusal to rent an apartment to a single black woman who otherwise qualifies might constitute discrimination based on race, sex, or family status. A leasing agent who refuses to show a property to an applicant from Pakistan may be discriminating on the basis of national origin, religion, or both. Disability-based discrimination may be obvious where a landlord refuses to rent to a blind or deaf person.¹⁷⁸ It is less obvious where the disability is addiction or alcoholism. Denying housing to an alcoholic or former addict who is not currently abusing alcohol or engaged in the current use of illegal drugs is illegal discrimination based on disability. Sexual discrimination can also take more subtle forms. For example, a manager of an apartment complex who demands sexual favors from a woman in return for renting to her is sexual harassment, which is a form of sexual discrimination.¹⁷⁹

¹⁷⁴ Act CFR Tit. 24, Subt. A, Pt. 5, Subpt. L.

¹⁷⁶ For more information, see The Legal Action Center publication "Making a Claim of Racial Discrimination Under the Federal Fair Housing Act".

¹⁷⁷ 42 USC §3604\(a\) Refusals to sell or rent:

"To refuse to sell or rent after the making of a bona fide offer, or to refuse to negotiate for the sale or rental of, or otherwise make unavailable or deny a dwelling to any person because of.." membership in a protected class.

¹⁷⁹ Sexual harassment includes verbal comments, gestures, or physical contact that creates an offensive environment.

9.5.2 Applying Different Terms and Conditions ¹⁸⁰

Discrimination may be present when an owner or landlord applies different terms and conditions surrounding the lease or sale of housing to some people but not to others. Uneven treatment can be illegal discrimination when, for example, a landlord demands a higher security deposit from a family with children (discrimination based on family status) or where a leasing agent charges an exorbitant rental application fee to a minority (racial discrimination).¹⁸¹

9.5.3 False Information about Availability¹⁸²

Other owners, managers or leasing agents might lie about the availability of housing to some applicants but not to others; as for, example, an apartment complex with “now leasing” signage claims tells an applicant in a wheelchair user that all units are full. Providing false information about the availability of a property can be evidence of discrimination.

9.5.4 Reporting Discrimination

People who believe that they have been denied housing because of discrimination based on their race, color, national origin, religion, sex, family status or disability can file a fair housing complaint. The Texas Workforce Commission Civil Rights Division will accept a housing complaint

- In person: by coming to the Division office located at 1117 Trinity St., Room 144-T in Austin, Texas, or
- By telephone: toll free number: 1-888-452-4778, between 8:00 AM and 5:00 PM.
- By letter: addressed to:
Texas Workforce Commission
Civil Rights Division
1117 Trinity Street, Rm. 144-T
Austin, Texas 78701

After the complaint is received, the applicant will be assigned an investigator who discuss the process for filing the complaint, how it will be investigated, and help with preparing the complaint. A complaint may also be filed through the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD), by calling 1-888-560-8913, or in writing to:

¹⁸⁰ 42 USC §3604\(b\) Discrimination in terms, conditions or privileges of rental or sale:

"To discriminate against any person in the terms, conditions, or privileges of sale or rental of a dwelling, or in the provision of services or facilities in connection therewith, because of..." membership in a protected class.

¹⁸² 42 USC §3604\(d\) Denying availability:

"To represent to any person because of..." membership in a protected class "...that any dwelling is not available for inspection, sale, or rental when such dwelling is in fact so available."

9.6 RENTING WITH A RECORD

Most larger apartment complexes order both credit and criminal history records on prospective tenants from private vendors of this information. Many private noncommercial rentals, however, do not require a criminal background or even a credit screening as a prerequisite to renting. Accordingly, avoiding properties offered through a commercial leasing agency in favor those managed by a local, private owner might provide an ex-offender with a better opportunity to explain his criminal history directly to the person that he will be renting from, rather than a leasing agent employed by a commercial property management company.

The local owner or landlord can also be more flexible and perhaps willing to negotiate the lease terms.

Establishing credit is important in order to build a credit history that will enable the renter to upgrade based on a positive payment history. Settling for a rental property that is not ideal may be worth signing the lease in the short term in order to build a credit history that may lead to an upgrade to better housing.

9.6.1 Roommate or Sublet

Seeking a roommate situation or a sublet might resolve an immediate need for a place to stay. Renting a room as a sublet has the advantage of not requiring a criminal background check that would normally be part of a lease.

9.6.2 Group Homes or Boarding Houses

This type of housing is generally unregulated, but may violate zoning restrictions if there are too many unrelated people reside in the same house. Other occupants may have criminal convictions that may or may not be known to the other household members. A renter on probation or parole could therefore unwittingly violate the terms and conditions of release that prohibit association with other ex-offenders.

9.6.3 Renting from Private Owner

In housing that is not federally subsidized, factors such as credit history and criminal history can be used by a private owner to refuse to rent to a prospective tenant. Private or corporate owners and landlords have the legal right to deny housing to any person for any reason, unless the landlord is engaged in illegal housing discrimination.

9.6.4 Selection Criteria and Acknowledgment

Along with the rental application, the landlord must provide written notice of the criteria used to accept or deny the application, such as the applicant's:

- Criminal history;
- Previous rental history;
- Current income;
- Credit history; or
- Failure to provide accurate or complete information on the application form.

Selection criteria are not limited to the items listed above. The written notice can appear in the body of rental application or in a separate document. If it is in the rental application, it must be underlined or appear in bold-faced type. It must also state that the application fee will not be refunded if the application is rejected. A typical notice may state:

"Signing this acknowledgment indicates that you have had the opportunity to review the landlord's tenant selection criteria. The tenant selection criteria may include factors such as criminal history, credit history, current income, and rental history. If you do not meet the selection criteria, or if you provide inaccurate or incomplete information, your application may be rejected and your application fee will not be refunded."

The applicant's written acknowledgment indicates only that she had an opportunity to review the landlord's selection criteria. The landlord's selection criteria are not limited to the criteria listed on the notice, and applicant is entitled to review the selection criteria used by that particular landlord. The law prevents both the landlord and prospective tenant from waiving the notice. Any attempt to waive the application notice will render the application void.

9.6.5 Consumer Reporting Agencies

Most landlords hire consumer reporting agencies (CRAs), such as ChoicePoint or First Advantage Safe Rent to provide background checks background checks on a consumer's criminal history and credit history. When landlords use CRAs the Fair Credit Reporting Act (FCRA) applies.¹⁸³ The FCRA does not protect prospective tenants from being denied admission on the basis of a criminal record, but can add transparency to the process.

¹⁸³ See 15 USC §1681 et seq.

9.6.6 Criminal History Records

CRA's cannot report "other adverse items of information, other than records of convictions of crimes which antedates the report by more than seven years. [emphasis supplied]. Fair Credit Reporting Act (FCRA), 15 USCS 1681c(a)(5).

In sum, under the FCRA, CRA's

- Can report offenses resulting in criminal convictions indefinitely.
- Cannot report arrests not resulting in conviction if they are more than 7 years old.¹⁸⁴
- Although not specifically addressed under the FCRA, offenses resulting deferred adjudication that are discharged and dismissed and are more than 7 years old should not be reported either, because they are not convictions.

9.6.7 Correcting Inaccurate or Stale Information

CRA's must maintain "reasonable procedures to assure maximum possible accuracy of the information" in the report.¹⁸⁵ To claim a violation, a prospective tenant must show that:

1. The report included inaccurate information;
2. The report included the inaccurate information because the CRA did not maintain reasonable procedures;
3. The suffered injury; and
4. The inaccurate information caused the injury.¹⁸⁶

9.6.8 Disclosure and Investigation

Upon request, CRA's must give a prospective tenant a copy of his or her file, disclose the sources of the information in the file, and identify each landlord that procured a report within the past year. If a person notifies a CRA that the report is inaccurate or incomplete, the CRA must, free of charge, conduct a reasonable reinvestigation to determine if the information is inaccurate or incomplete and update the file within 30 days.¹⁸⁷

9.6.9 Damages and Enforcement

¹⁸⁴ 15 USC §1681c\(a\)\(2\)

¹⁸⁵ 15 USC § 1681e\(b\).

¹⁸⁶ Philbin v. Trans Union Corp., 101 F.3d 957, 963 (3rd Cir. 1996).

¹⁸⁷ § 1681i\(a\)\(1\).

The Federal Trade Commission enforces most of the provisions of the FCRA.¹⁸⁸ The FTC is entitled to file suit to recover civil penalties from a CRA or a landlord for a knowing violation that constitutes a pattern or practice¹⁸⁹

9.6.10 Application Fee

A landlord may require two initial payments to secure rental housing: an application fee and an application deposit. The application fee is paid by the prospective renter at the time the application is made. Not all landlords require an application fee. The purpose of the application fee is to reimburse the landlord for the cost of obtaining a background check, which normally includes the applicant's credit history, rental history, current income, criminal history, and similar information. Although there is no legal limit on the amount that can be charged for an application fee, most run under $50.00. Application fees are nonrefundable except in cases where the landlord rejected the applicant without stating the reason. If the application is accepted, a security deposit may also be required.

9.6.11 Deposit

In addition to the application fee, the landlord may also require a deposit to hold the property while the application is being processed. This application deposit is the prospective tenant's assurance to the landlord that he will move into the unit if approved.

9.6.12 Forfeiture of Deposit

There is no grace period to back out of a signed rental application. If the application is approved, the application deposit may be applied to the security deposit when the lease is signed. If the application is approved but the applicant changes her mind – even later the same day –she risks forfeiting the application deposit. Some rental applications require that the lease be signed within three days of approval or the deposit will not be returned. The Texas Tenant Advisor suggests in case of a change of mind after the deposit is made to wait until at least seven days have passed before seeking return of the deposit. If the application is rejected, or the applicant doesn't hear back within seven days (no decision is considered a rejection) the landlord is expected to refund the application deposit.

9.6.13 Rejection Deadline

Some landlords don't use an application at all, and may or may not ask the prospective tenant to make a deposit. If a deposit is made to hold the property, the landlord has seven days from the date of the deposit to decide whether to rent. If within seven days no action is taken, the application is considered rejected and the deposit must be refunded.

However, there is no legal deadline by which the landlord must refund it. If the landlord does not refund it, a lawsuit may be the only way to get the application deposit returned. For this reason, a prospective tenant should never pay an application deposit or sign the application unless absolutely sure that he will move into the unit if approved. If the renter can show that the landlord acted in bad faith by failing to refund the application deposit, the landlord can be liable for $100, three times the amount of the deposit, and attorney's fees.

10 . RIGHTS OF PARENTS

This section describes some of the most common legal barriers faced by parents who have been apart from their children due to incarceration, including rights of parents, locating children, and court proceedings that affect the rights of parents and children.

10.1 EQUAL RIGHTS TO CHILD

Parents are the natural custodians of their children, and their rights are superior to all others. Both parents have equal rights to their child. Absent a court order limiting or defining custody, access and possession, either parent can take the child from the other parent, collect the child from school, attend all school activities, authorize medical and psychiatric care for the child and all of the other rights and duties to which parents are legally entitled. This is true regardless of time a parent may have spent away from the child, such as period of absence due to incarceration. Incarceration alone does not alter the natural rights of the parent. The only way the relationship can be altered, or custody determined, is by a court that has issued an order signed by a judge.

10.2 LOCATING CHILDREN

Regardless of whether there is a court order for custody and visitation, the law does not require a parent or caregiver to take children to visit an incarcerated parent. Without regular contact during a period of incarceration, it is easy for some parents lose track of their children's whereabouts.

Most Texas court orders involving children require both parents to keep each other and the court informed about their current residence and place of employment. If there is a court order in place for custody child support, the address of both parents must be listed in the Order. Both parties are required to keep the court updated on their addresses as well as those of the children.¹⁹⁰ A copy of the court order can be obtained from the district court clerk in the county where a decree was issued or paternity was established.

Check with the school district they last attended and request copies of the child's school records, which may list the child's current address or the address of the school to which they were transferred. The school may require a copy of the current custody order before the records are released. If there is no court order in place, the formerly incarcerated parent is as entitled to contact the children through their school as the other parent, but may need to show proof of parentage.

¹⁹⁰ Tex. Fam. Code 105.006. As a practical matter, few comply with the requirement to update this information, but it must be included in the order unless there is a compelling reason (e.g., family violence) to exclude it.

A parent who is not currently paying court-ordered child support might consider contacting the Office of Attorney General - Child Support Division (OAG) and volunteer to pay support. If the other parent is receiving public benefits, the OAG is entitled to seek child support in behalf of the children. By volunteering to pay, the OAG may then be able to initiate a proceeding that would match the custodial parent currently receiving benefits to the parent who wishes to pay child support and as a result of the court order, be entitled to access and possession ("visitation") of the children.

10.3 CUSTODY

Regardless of whether the parents are married, the court can decide (often as part of a child support proceeding) which parent should be named the child's primary conservator, or custodial parent. In making this decision, a court is required to consider the "best interest of the child" over the wishes of either parent. If the child is 12 or older, upon request the court must interview the child to determine the child's wishes as to which parent the child wants to live with most of the time. For children under 12, the court may interview the child but does not have to. In determining possession and access, the court will consider, among others, the following factors¹⁹¹:

- the desires of the child;

- the emotional and physical needs of the child now and in the future
- the emotional and physical danger to the child now and in the future;
- the parental abilities of the individuals seeking custody;
- the programs available to assist these individuals to promote the best interest of the child;
- the plans for the child by these individuals or by the agency seeking custody;
- the stability of the home or proposed placement;
- the acts or omissions of the parent which may indicate that the relationship is not a proper one; and any excuse for the acts or omissions of the parent.

10.3.1 Nonparent Caregivers

Nonparents can also be awarded custody of children. A nonparent caring for a child in behalf of a parent or parents, whether by agreement with the parent(s) or as a result of a CPS placement, may decide to file suit to get legal custody of the child.

Regardless of the circumstances, Texas law allows a custody suit by:

"a person, other than a foster parent, who has had actual care, control, and possession of the child for at least six months ending not more than 90 days preceding the date of the filing of the petition."¹⁹²

¹⁹¹ Holly v. Adams, 544 Sewed 367 (Tex. 1976).

¹⁹² Tex. Fam. Code §102.003

This provision confers legal standing on anyone who has been caring for a child longer than six months to file for custody. For a previously incarcerated parent who wants to retain custody of her child who is currently in the care of a friend or relative, it is important to assert parental rights and take the child back before the caregiver can legally sue for custody. A criminal history record can affect a parent's right to retain custody, depending on the nature of the offense(s) and if the court can be persuaded that awarding a nonparent custody would be in the child's best interest.

10.3.2 Authorization Agreement for Nonparent Relative

Previously incarcerated parents experiencing reentry may not be in the best position to immediately care for their children. A parent who is temporarily unable to care for her child can execute an Authorization Agreement for Nonparent Relative. This agreement authorizes a third party to care for a child temporarily, but also carries an expiration date which shows the parent's intent to remain the child's conservator. Completing the authorization agreement will not bar a custody suit by the nonparent, but can be introduced as evidence in a custody suit to show that the intent of the agreement with the nonparent to care for the child was temporary.

For a blank Authorization Agreement, please refer to

Appendix M: Authorization Agreement for Non Parent Relative

10.4 PATERNITY

Under Texas law, when a father and mother sign an Acknowledgment of Paternity and the court accepts these documents, the father becomes the "legal" father. Paternity means that fatherhood has been legally established and the father may be ordered to pay child support. A registry of paternity is established in the bureau of Vital Statistics. A man who wants to acknowledge paternity voluntarily may register with Paternity Registry

- Before the birth of the child, but
- Not later than the 31st day after the date of the birth of the child.

If the relationship between the father and the child has been established under another law, or if a man begins a proceeding to adjudicate his paternity before the court has terminated his parental rights, then he is entitled to notice of the proceeding regardless of whether he registers with the registry of paternity.

10.5 TERMINATION OF PARENTAL RIGHTS

Termination lawsuits are broadly divided into two categories, voluntary terminations and involuntary terminations.

Voluntary termination cases are cases in which the parent whose rights are to be terminated consents to the termination. It is unlikely that a court will terminate the parental rights of a person obligated to pay child support. The exception is where there is another person willing to adopt the children affected by the termination and therefore assume financial responsibility.

Involuntary termination cases are brought without the consent of the parent whose rights are to be terminated. The majority of these cases are brought by CPS following an investigation of child abuse or neglect. While there are two dozen or so specific statutory grounds for involuntary terminations, most fall under general categories of abandoning parental responsibilities, endangering the child, engaging in serious criminal conduct or cases in which the parent has exposed the children to harm, abuse or neglect

In either type of termination case, the court must reach the conclusion that the termination is in the child's best interest. The parent whose rights are to be terminated must be notified of the termination lawsuit after it has been filed and they can contest the lawsuit if they choose. Assuming a court does order a termination of parental rights, the parent whose rights are terminated will lose all parental rights, becoming a "legal stranger" to the child and will no longer have a duty to pay child support.

10.6 CHILD PROTECTIVE SERVICES (CPS)

If CPS is or has been involved with the children, the newly released parent should confirm whether the CPS case is still active. In an active CPS case where the children have been removed from a parent or caregiver based on allegations of abuse or neglect, parents have the following rights:

- The right to an attorney, if CPS is seeking to terminate parental rights.
- The right to admit or deny the allegations that prompted the investigation.
- The right to be notified of all court hearings.
- The right to attend all court hearings and meetings.
- The right to an interpreter in court if you do not understand English or are hearing impaired.
- The right to talk to the CPS caseworker and attorney.

10.6.1 Access to CPS Records

Agency case records of children and adults are only releasable to certain parties and not to the general public. Whether CPS records are released depends upon the requestor's relationship to a case. The requestor may or may not be entitled to the information sought.

CPS records are confidential under Section 261.201(a) of the Texas Family Code. Most records will not be released unless there is a court order to release the records. Those entitled to a copy of CPS records without a court order include:

- The parent or other legally responsible adult of the child who is the subject of the case,
- An adult who was, as a child, the subject of the case, including adoptions,
- A person alleged or designated to be the perpetrator in the case, or
- Other individuals identified in the Texas Administrative Code.¹⁹³

10.7 CHILD SUPPORT AND MODIFICATION

Texas law does not permit an exemption, automatic suspension, or reduction in child support payments for incarcerated persons who are under court order to provide support.

If the offender was under a child support order going in to prison, the support obligation remains the same and child support debt continues to accrue, with interest on the unpaid balance. Child support obligations take priority over all other obligations that the inmate may have.

This section provides some basic information about child support:

- How it is calculated,
- The factors a court may consider when setting or modifying support,
- Medical child support orders, and
- Other matters relating to support of minor children.

10.8 CHILD SUPPORT AND PREVIOUSLY INCARCERATED PARENTS

In Texas, a previously incarcerated parent may have accrued a staggering amount child support debt during the period of incarceration. The order establishing the child support may not have been enforced during incarceration because the incarcerated parent may have lacked the ability to pay. Once released, the expectation is that the individual will secure employment and continue to pay on the current obligation as well as catch up on missed payments that have been accruing statutory interest.

For currently or previously incarcerated parents who owe court-ordered child support, it is important to be aware that ¹⁹³ 40 Texas Admin. Code, §700.203. DFPS must comply with all statutes and rules pertaining to confidentiality of CPS records. 40 Texas Adm. Code § 700.201- 700.207.

- Child support can be ordered for the first time, or the previous order modified, while the offender is in prison.
- Texas law authorizes withdrawals from an inmate's trust account to pay child support.¹⁹⁴
- Court-ordered child support payments remain in effect until changed by a subsequent court order.
- Child support and medical support payments are not cancelled or suspended due to incarceration.
- Child support arrearages are not automatically reduced or discounted for ex-offenders, although the court may take into account the fact of incarceration.

Competing financial demands, problems finding employment because of a criminal history, lack of stable housing, and other factors can make it difficult for a person newly released from incarceration to turn his or her attention to the child support debt. Yet ignoring the child support debt and allowing it to accrue can land the person who owes it back in prison. Ignoring the court's order can cause the parent to be held in contempt of court or worse, be prosecuted for criminal nonsupport. That's why regardless of how much is owed it is important to act on the child support matter before the courts take action against the person who owes it.

In setting or adjusting support, the court can take into account factors that may have made it difficult to make the payments as well as any other information that is relevant to the child support issues. Missed payments due to incarceration, unstable income on release, the total number of children the parent must support and whether there are multiple child support orders in place for children in different households - all of these factors can influence the amount the person who owes support might have to pay.

The law also limits the amount child support that can be deducted from a person's disposable earnings, regardless of how much is owed. A person owing thousands of dollars in back child support can often work out payment plan on the arrearages that will be financially adjusted to reflect a parent's lack of resources and meager income. A parent's voluntary contribution of some nominal amount towards back child support not only shows good faith, it may forestall enforcement action for collection of the entire amount.

Table 15: Other State Laws - Child Support and Incarceration

OTHER STATE LAWS - SUSPENSION OR MODIFICATION OF CHILD SUPPORT DURING INCARCERATION
CONNECTICUT	The court must establish or modify orders for incarcerated or institutionalized noncustodial parents that are based upon their present income in accordance with the state's child support guidelines (2003 Conn. Gen. Acts 258, §2 (2003)).
MICHIGAN	Suspension of child support charges during incarceration is an administrative process. Upon notification of a payer's incarceration the Friend of the Court verifies the payer's minimum sentence is at least one year and submits an order to the court stopping support. Upon the payer's release from incarceration, the Friend of the Court verifies the release date and submits another order to reinstate the child support charges. See, e.g. modification information for Barry County, MI. _
DISTRICT OF COLUMBIA	Criminal court judges are required to inform individuals with a support order who are sentenced to prison for more than 30 days that they may petition for modification or suspension of payments during incarceration. (Official Code, title 23, chapter 1.)
COLORADO	As of 2003, new child support orders and motions for modification in Colorado were set at $ 50 per month where parents' monthly gross income is less than $ 850. Parents who earn more than $ 850 but less than $ 1,850 per month receive a low-income adjustment calculation that will be added to minimum child support amounts of $ 75 for one child and $ 150 for two (14-10-115 C.R.S.).* Note - amounts may have changed.
OREGON	Rebuttable presumption that an incarcerated parent with income of less than $200 per month is unable to pay any support. The state will reduce an order to zero if the parent requests modification and is expected to be in prison for at least six more months. Or. Admin. R. 461-200-3300 (2002). By statute, 60 days after the inmate is released, the order automatically reverts to its pre-incarceration level Or. Rev. Stat. §416.425 (2003)

MASSACHUSETTS	Inmates meet with child support staff at intake, file a modification request, and suspend enforcement. After release, a court hearing reviews order. Massachusetts has the discretionary authority to settle arrears accumulated during periods of unemployment or incarceration: Terms or conditions of settlement might include regular payments of current support, active participation in job search, community service, or a responsible parenthood program.
NORTH CAROLINA	North Carolina allows a child support order to be suspended with no arrears accruing "during any period when the supporting party is incarcerated, is not on work release, and has no resources with which to make the payment" (N.C. Gen. Stat. §50-15.10 (2004)).
CALIFORNIA	Under California law, child support of the incarcerated person is suspended for any period exceeding 90 consecutive days in which the person ordered to pay support is incarcerated, unless the obligor has the means to pay support while incarcerated. The suspension remains in effect until release, then the payment obligation "shall immediately resume in the amount otherwise specified in the child support order." Upon release from incarceration the obligor may petition the court for an adjustment of the arrears pursuant to the suspension of the support obligation. Family Code: 4007.5: Title IV-D cases (IV-D of the Social Security Act, 42 U.S.C. Sec. 651 et seq.)

10.9 DUTY TO SUPPORT

In the legal sense, "child support" refers to court-ordered financial support for the child. The obligation to pay child support carries with it the duty to provide medical support, either through private insurance or by cash payment in addition to child support. The amount of child support and medical support are then added together to arrive at the total current monthly support obligation.

Unless parental rights have been terminated by a court order, parents have a legal duty to support their children. The duty to support exists even if:

- The parents were never married or never lived together
- The father's name does not appear on the birth certificate
- The child does not have the father's last name
- The father has little or no contact with the child

10.9.1 Leaving Texas to Avoid Payment

Moving from the state where the child lives or the order was entered will not stop a court from enforcing a child support order, because an order issued in one state can be enforced in all others. Every state has adopted a law that gives full faith and credit to child support orders from any other state.¹⁹⁵ Texas, like most states, aggressively pursues child support and child support arrearages, even across state lines.

10.9.2 Payments Continue after Child Reaches Adulthood

Even after the child subject to the support order reaches adulthood, the back child support debt will remain, and unpaid interest on the balance will continue to accumulate. The obligor is under a continuing obligation to pay down the child support arrearages or be subject to a enforcement proceeding which may include a finding of contempt of court, arrest, jail time and other remedies for enforcement.

10.10 CONSEQUENCES OF FAILURE TO SUPPORT

The consequences attached to ignoring a court order for child support can be dire. Below is a partial list.

- Violating Conditions of Release

Previously incarcerated parents released to mandatory supervision are in danger of violating the conditions of release by failing to maintain child support payments.

- State Jail Felony

Although child support orders are issued by the civil court, failure to pay pursuant to the order can have criminal consequences. In Texas, it is a state jail felony for a person to intentionally or knowingly fail to provide court-ordered child support.¹⁹⁶

- License Revocation

A continued failure to pay can result in loss of nearly every license issued by the State of Texas, including vocational licenses and driver's licenses.

- Asset Forfeiture

Income tax returns can and often are garnished by the State and applied to the child support deficiency. Bank accounts and other assets may be seized to satisfy the debt. The child support debt also cannot be discharged in bankruptcy.

10.11 CONSERVATORSHIP AND CHILD SUPPORT

Texas law favors the term "conservatorship" over "custody." It is most commonly understood to mean the parent that cares for the child more than half the time. Usually both parents are appointed "joint managing conservators" of the children, which means that parents share in decision making. Nearly all custody orders carry with them the obligation to pay child support. In court orders, the joint managing conservator is typically the parent awarded the "right to determine the child's primary physical residence” (custody) and the “right to receive periodic payments for support of the child” (child support). The joint managing conservator who pays child support and has the right of “access and possession” (visitation) of the child is the noncustodial parent (NCP).

¹⁹⁶ Texas Penal Code §25.05

10.11.1 Orders without “Primary Residence”

Some recent custody orders do not give either parent the right to determine the child’s residence, ordering instead that the child reside within a certain geographical area (e.g. Travis and surrounding counties). Even if no custodial parent is appointed, one parent will usually be required to pay support to the other.

10.11.2 Nonparent Custodians

A person who is not the parent of a child, but who has assumed parental responsibilities and duties can be named the “CP” for purposes of custody and child support. For example, a grandmother who has been the primary caregiver of her grandchild for at least six months can become the CP. In this situation, both parents would probably be named as NCP’s, and both would have a duty to pay child support to the CP grandmother.

10.12 CALCULATING CHILD SUPPORT

Basic child support is calculated based on the NCP’S net monthly income from any and all sources, including:

- severance pay
- retirement benefits and pensions
- social security benefits other than supplemental security income (SSI), unemployment benefits
- disability and workers' compensation benefits¹⁹⁷

10.12.1 Child Support Guidelines

Texas has adopted child support guidelines as the legal threshold for calculating support. “Guideline” child support is considered the legal minimum. The NCP can always pay more than guideline support, but must have a compelling reason to pay less.

The guidelines are a percentage of net monthly income. For purposes of child support, net income is referred to as “disposable earnings.” Only the standard payroll deductions may be taken to calculate disposable earnings: federal income tax, social security and Medicare.¹⁹⁸

Guideline child support is based on the following percentage of disposable earnings:

¹⁹⁷ Tex. Fam. Code §154.062

¹⁹⁸ Tax tables with gross and corresponding net income after standard deductions are available on the Texas Attorney General’s office, www.oag.state.tx.us/cs/attorneys.

- 20% for one child
- 25% for two children
- 30% for three children
- 35% for four children
- 40% for five children
- For six or more children, the amount must be at least 40%.

10.12.2 Multiple Family Guidelines

The Family Code's multiple family guidelines can significantly reduce the percentage of child support the NCP must pay. The multiple family guidelines take into account children in other households, including his own, that an NCP may have a duty to support, and reduce the percentage he must pay accordingly.

If the court is not aware of the NCP's duty to support other children, then it cannot apply the guidelines, so it is up to the NCP to inform the court of any additional children. If the multiple family guidelines apply, the NCP has a right to have his child support reduced. For example, typical guideline support for one child is 20% of the NCP's disposable earnings. If the NCP has a duty to support a second child in a different household, his support obligation is 17.50% of his disposable earnings.¹⁹⁹ The Multiple Family Adjusted Guidelines are set forth in table form in Tex. Fam. Code Sec. 154.129.

10.12.3 Maximum Withholding

Texas law provides that cash withholding for child support exceed 50% of disposable earnings.²⁰⁰ Again, the change is not automatic, so if an NCP suffers a reduction in income and more than 50% is being withheld, he has the legal right to modify the child support withholding so that it does not exceed the 50% limit.

10.12.4 Duration of Support

Generally, the obligation to pay support lasts until the child turns 18 or graduates from high school, whichever is later. Payments can continue after the child turns 18 or graduates if:

- The "adult" child is disabled and in need of continued support
- There is unpaid "back" child support (arrearages)

²⁰⁰ Tex. Fam. Code §8.106 and §158.009

- The child is now over age 18 and successfully sues for retroactive support.²⁰¹

10.13 MEDICAL SUPPORT

Parents also have a duty to provide medical support for minor children. A court can order the NCP to:

- Add the children to her health insurance plan
- Reimburse the CP for the cost of carrying the children on her health insurance plan.
- Pay the cost of insuring the children through CHIP
- If the children receive Medicaid, pay cash medical support to the CP in addition to child support.

10.13.1 Private Health Insurance

If private health insurance is available to either parent, the court can issue an order to direct the parent's employer to provide health insurance coverage for the employee's child.²⁰² Most people exiting the prison system following a period of incarceration do not have access to private health insurance. In fact, regardless of offender status, less than 50% of Texans have access to employer-based health insurance.²⁰³

10.13.2 CHIP and Medicaid

If neither parent has private health insurance, the court can order a parent to enroll the child in either CHIP (Children's Health Insurance Program) or Medicaid. Eligibility for both programs is based on family income. CHIP provides health insurance for families who cannot qualify for Medicaid, but cannot afford other health insurance. Medicaid is an entitlement program created to pay the medical bills of low-income people and increase access to health care.²⁰⁴ Every state has a Medicaid program, and everyone who is eligible is entitled to services. Since implementation is left to each state, there are variations in the eligibility, benefits, reimbursements and other details of the program among states.

10.13.3 Cash Medical Support

²⁰³ In 2007, Texas ranked 50th in the nation, with only 46.7 percent of Texans having employment-based health insurance coverage. Source: Texas Medical Association.

²⁰⁴ Medicaid is a federal-state matching program established by Congress under Title XIX of the Social Security Act (SSA) of 1965 and administered by the Centers for Medicare and Medicaid Services (CMS) within the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services (HHS).

Unlike child support, cash medical support is calculated based on a percentage of gross monthly income. The percentage of gross income applied to medical support payments is periodically adjusted, but is usually between 5% and 9% of the NCP's gross income.²⁰⁵

10.14 RETROACTIVE SUPPORT AND ARREARAGES

10.14.1 Retroactive Support

In addition to basic child support and medical support, a court can order an NCP to pay retroactive support and/or child support arrearages (back child support).

Retroactive child support:

- may be ordered in cases where there is no prior order establishing child support;
- may be ordered in cases where the parent did not provide voluntary support;
- Is not required but left to the judge's discretion;
- can date back to the separation of the child's parents;²⁰⁶
- is in addition to and expressed as a separate amount added to current child support
- a maximum of 4 years' worth of retroactive support is both reasonable and fair, unless it is in the best interest of the child to order more than four years.

The court may consider factors such as whether the NCP knew the child was his but did not support the child, and whether ordering retroactive support would impose an "undue hardship" on top of the regular support obligation.²⁰⁷ Retroactive support is expressed in the court's order as a money judgment plus interest, to be paid in installments along with regular child support, until the judgment is paid in full.

10.14.2 Child Support Arrearages

Child support arrearages are also referred to as "back child support" or unpaid child support, represent the amount of support owed that has not been paid. In a typical case, the missed payments are consolidated into a single lump sum, plus interest (usually 6%) and "confirmed" by the court as a money judgment. The NCP is expected to pay some preset amount towards this debt along with the amount ordered for current child and medical support, and sometimes retroactive support. Like retroactive support, it is expressed as a judgment to be paid in installments along with current child support.

Regarding child support arrearages:

²⁰⁵ Tex. Fam. Code §154.181.

²⁰⁶ Tex. Fam. Code §154.009.

²⁰⁷ Tex. Fam. Code §154.131\(b\)

- Statutory interest on child support cannot be waived by either of the parties, by agreement or by the court, or by Domestic Relations.
- Texas law allows for child support arrearages and interest to continue until all amounts are paid in full regardless of the age or marital circumstances of the child(ren).
- Texas law allows income withholding to continue until all arrearages is paid in full, regardless of the age or marital circumstances of the child(ren).

10.15 EMPLOYER WITHHOLDING AND DISBURSEMENT

A court order for child support is usually accompanied by an Order to Withhold Earnings for Child Support (Withholding Order). This is a separate court order to employers ordering them to withhold the amount(s) specified in the order and forward the payments to the Texas State Disbursement Unit (TXSDU) in San Antonio, Texas. The TXSDU will then distribute the child support payment to the CP, usually by direct deposit or debit card. TXSDU maintains an account of all payments. If the NCP is self-employed, child support payments must be made directly to TXSDU.

10.16 SETTING CHILD SUPPORT - ADDITIONAL FACTORS

10.16.1 Resources of CP

Texas law does not require the court to take into account the income or resources of the CP, even if the CP earns much more than the NCP.²⁰⁸

10.16.2 Unemployment and Underemployment

If the NCP's income is unknown, or if he or she is able to work but unemployed, guideline child support is usually based on minimum wage (currently $7.25 per hour) for a 40-hour week.²⁰⁹ As earlier noted, the court is entitled to consider other factors in setting child support or confirming back child support, including a parent's period of incarceration or illness that caused unemployment or underemployment that affected the ability to pay.

Unemployed NCPs owing support can be ordered to participate in state-sponsored work activities and job training.²¹⁰ If a NCP does not work up to her earning potential or is intentionally underemployed in order to avoid support payments or an increase in support, the CP is entitled to base the support on the NCP's earning ability and skills rather than what he or she is currently bringing in as income.²¹¹ The court is also entitled to average the income of the NCP. If the NCP's income changes from month to month or year to year, the court can add the income together and calculate support based on an average monthly income.²¹²

²⁰⁸ Tex. Fam. Code §154.069.

²⁰⁹ Tex. Fam. Code §154.068

²¹⁰ Tex. Fam. Code §§157.001; 157.002.

10.17 MODIFYING CHILD SUPPORT

Once a child support order is entered, it can only be changed by a subsequent court order. In Texas, the process of changing the order is called a modification. There is no limit on the number of times a child support order can be modified. It is not unusual to have several modifications before a child reaches adulthood, reflecting changes in income and circumstances affecting the child or parents.

The amount of support stated in the child support order, which can include four separate payments of regular child support, cash medical support, arrearages and retroactive support, will continue to accrue until one of the parents or the OAG takes some action to change it. Loss of a job, incarceration, and other life events will not change the order.

10.17.1 Grounds for Modification

Either party to a child support order ²¹³ can modify an existing child support order if it can be shown that:

- It has been three or more years since the order was established or last modified and the monthly amount of the child support ordered differs by either 20 percent or $100 from the amount that would be awarded according to child support guidelines, or
- A material and substantial change in circumstances has occurred since the child support order was last set.²¹⁴

Examples of a material and substantial change are usually because

- A party's income has either increased or decreased.
- A party is legally responsible for additional child(ren) since the last order.
- The child(ren)'s medical insurance coverage has changed.
- The child(ren)'s living arrangements have changed.

²¹² For example, if a self-employed father made $60,000.00 for the two years preceding the divorce and $22,000.00 in the year of divorce, support can be based on his average income for those 3 years (average of $47,333.00 or $3,944.00 monthly).

²¹⁴ Tex. Fam. Code §156.401 et seq.

10.17.2 Incarceration and Release as Grounds to Modify

Incarceration, and release from incarceration, both qualify as a “material and substantial” change in circumstance that a court can consider in changing the current payments and deciding how much should be paid towards back child support (arrearages).

For instructions on how to request a child support modification from the OAG during incarceration, please refer to

Appendix N: Child Support Information for Incarcerated Parents and Parents Returning to the Community and Inquiry Form

10.18 THE MODIFICATION PROCESS

Generally, a person who wants to modify a Texas child support order has two options: request a “status review” from the OAG or file a lawsuit called a “Petition to Modify in Suit Affecting Parent-Child Relationship” (SAPCR). If the modification is agreed upon by the parties, the papers can be signed without a court hearing. If the modification is contested must be set for hearing before the court.

10.18.1 Continuing Jurisdiction

Once a Texas court enters an order concerning a child, that court becomes the “court of continuing jurisdiction and retains the authority to make subsequent orders concerning the child. If there is already a child support order, the petition to modify it must be filed in the court where the first child support order or decree of divorce was entered.

If the last order was entered as part of an OAG proceeding, or the child is receiving public benefits, the person seeking modification should ask the OAG for a “status review.” A change of status review is a form request to the OAG requesting a modification of current support. For a change of status review form, please refer to

Appendix O: OAG Form to Request Child Support Review

The other option is to file a Petition to Modify in Suit Affecting the Parent Child Relationship (SAPCR) in the court of continuing jurisdiction.

10.19 TEXAS ATTORNEY GENERAL (OAG) CASES

The Texas Attorney General – Child Support Division (OAG) is the state agency charged with establishing, enforcing, and reviewing child support orders. The OAG represents the legal interests of the State of Texas, and is not on either “side” of any case.

10.19.1 IV-D Cases

If the CP is receiving public benefits like Medicaid, the right to pursue child support is automatically assigned to the Child Support Division of the Office of the Attorney General.²¹⁵ If the CP is not receiving child support, the OAG can step in to enforce the NCP’s legal duty to provide it, as well as recoup the part of the cost of public benefits expended on CP. Note that:

- A custodial parent who receives public benefits cannot terminate the OAG’s services.
- The OAG can pursue child support against the other parent regardless of the wishes of the custodial parent.
- OAG services are available to anyone who applies, but public assistance cases are given priority.

As with all child support cases, the OAG retains right to enforce unpaid child support until the debt is paid in full, even after NCP’s current support obligation ends (usually the child’s 18th birthday or graduation from high school, whichever is later).

Below is a comparison modification through the OAG or by filing a petition to modify with the help of an attorney.

Table 16: Options for Child Support Modification

OAG CHILD REVIEW	MODIFICATION
Services are free	Attorney needed unless pro se (self-represented)
OAG represents the interests of the State of Texas, not the child or parent	Attorney represents interest of client/parent
Hearing usually in child support (IV-D) court	Hearing usually in district court
If child is on Medicaid, OAG will include cash medical support in addition to child support	Child usually carried on one parent’s health insurance and other parent ordered to reimburse cost of coverage for child.
Less flexibility in setting support outside of statutory guidelines	More flexibility in setting non-guideline child support
Will only address child support, not access/possession (visitation) issues	can modify other child-related issues (such as visitation) in addition to child support
Large backlog of cases may delay review for modification	No case backlog, faster path to modification.

²¹⁵ Tex. Fam. Code §231.104

OAG prioritizes cases where child, parent or both are receiving public benefits	No case priority based on receipt of public benefits

10.19.2 Steps to Modify Child Support (Non-OAG):

If a person does not want to go through the OAG to modify support, or wants to change the terms of access and possession (visitation) he should find an attorney to represent him in the modification proceeding. If attorney services are out of financial reach, he can exercise his Constitutional right of access to the courts by acting as his own attorney (pro se). The court process is different in each county, but certain steps must be taken in all non-OAG modification lawsuits.

For a sample Petition to Modify Child Support and Order, please refer to refer to

Appendix P: Sample Petition to Modify and Order (Non- OAG)

10.20 CHILD SUPPORT ENFORCEMENT

There is no predetermined amount of unpaid child support that will trigger a lawsuit to enforce payment. The court can enforce child support regardless of whether the NCP²¹⁶ is behind in payments for a month, a year, or a decade. Depending on the frequency of support payments (monthly, bimonthly, weekly or biweekly) a suit to enforce child support can be brought after a single missed payment, usually are not filed until several payments have been missed.

A suit to enforce payment of the unpaid child support can be filed even after the current support obligation ends (usually the child’s 18th birthday or graduation from high school, whichever is later).

10.20.1 Sources of Unpaid Support

The following sources can be seized or withheld for unpaid child support:

- Inmate trust account
- Wages and overtime wages
- Income Tax Refunds
- Social Security Payments
- Unemployment Compensation
- Worker’s Compensation
- All other sources of income, including overtime wages and self-employment income, (except some types of disability payments)

²¹⁶ Noncustodial Parent

The court can enforce child support through other means, including filing a lien on property and bank accounts.

10.20.2 License Suspension

Failure to maintain support can result in suspension or revocation of licenses, including:

- Driver's licenses
- Most vocational licenses (check with the TDLR for a specific occupation)
- Professional licenses

10.20.3 Enforcement Hearing

The only issue on the table in a child support enforcement hearing is the NCP's present ability to support. Visitation, parenting skills and other issues are relevant only as they relate to the support of the child. Previously incarcerated people should be up-front about their offender status and inform the court of how this affected their ability to maintain child support payments.

Before the hearing, the person sued for enforcement should gather proof of current income and expenses and have some idea of what to suggest as payment towards current support and arrearages. The court will not expect a person just released from incarceration to come up with the entire balance at the enforcement hearing. The court may reduce the current support obligation or minimize payments on arrearages in order to balance the payment with the parent's life circumstances.

10.20.4 Contempt of Court

A motion for enforcement often carries with it a request to hold the delinquent parent in contempt of court. Contempt is a legal term that means a court order is not being followed. In a child support case, a payer can be held in civil contempt for disobeying a previous order to pay child support. Civil contempt in a child support case carries up to six months of jail time and $500 for each violation, in addition to attorney's fees and court costs. A violation is a missed payment.

Unlike criminal prosecutions, there is no right to counsel in civil matters. Parties must hire lawyers or represent themselves. If a suit to enforce child support alleges contempt of court, the party threatened with contempt may be entitled to a court appointed attorney if:

- The person has little or no income to hire a lawyer, and
- The person will likely be placed in jail as a result of the hearing.

10.20.5 Defenses to Nonpayment

The Family Code recognizes two defenses to nonpayment of child support: when the child lives with the parent owing support and the parent's inability to pay the amount of support ordered. Lack of ability to pay is difficult to prove. The person owing support must prove that he:

- lacked the ability to provide support in the amount ordered;

- had no property that could be sold, mortgaged, or otherwise pledged to raise the funds needed;
- actually attempted to borrow the funds needed but was unsuccessful;
- AND
- knew of no source at all from which he could have borrowed or obtained the money by ANY legal means.²¹⁷

Partial payments of child support are taken into consideration by the court when considering sanctions for failure to pay support. Payment of some amount towards the child support obligation is always preferable to no payment at all.

It is also a defense to nonpayment if the child has come to live with the parent who is ordered to pay support. This defense is available only if the child is in the payer's possession. If the other parent sent the child to live with someone else other than the payor, this defense cannot be raised.

10.20.6 Criminal Nonsupport

A person can be criminally prosecuted for intentional and knowing failure to pay child support. In a criminal case, including a prosecution for nonpayment of child support, the person being prosecuted is entitled to court-appointed counsel. Criminal nonsupport is a state jail felony.²¹⁸ A felony conviction is sufficient to deport someone who is not a citizen of the United States.

²¹⁸ Tex. Penal Code §25.05. See the OAG's "Criminal Nonsupport Handbook" for prosecutors.

11 . EDUCATION

Education increases employment opportunities for all people, including those with a criminal record. Federal Student Financial Aid provides the resources that enable those with limited resources to have access to quality higher education. A conviction does not automatically render a person ineligible for federal aid. A person who, because of her criminal history is rendered ineligible for federal student aid may still qualify for federal aid from some states and private institutions. Federal Student Aid consists of:

- Stafford Loans
- Graduate PLUS Loans
- Consolidation Loans
- Federal Supplemental Educational Opportunity Grants (FSEOGs)
- Federal Work-Study
- Federal Perkins Loans
- Pell Grants

11.1 ELIGIBILITY FOR TEXAS FINANCIAL AID

Basic federal education grants are not available to those who are incarcerated in federal or state prisons and to those convicted of certain drug-related offenses. Aside from these limited exceptions there is no lifelong ban on the receipt of federal financial aid because of a person’s criminal history.²¹⁹ States are free to place limitations on state-based student aid that are more restrictive than the federal law.

11.1.1 Drug Related Offenses

Students who have been convicted of “any offense under any Federal or State law involving the possession or sale of a controlled substance” can become temporarily or permanently ineligible for federal loans or grants.²²⁰ The table below shows ineligibility periods for drug offenses:

Table 17: Length of Ineligibility for Federal Financial Aid - Drug Convictions

	Drug Possession	Drug Sales
First offense	One year	Two years
Second offense	Two years	Indefinite
Third offense	Indefinite	Indefinite

²¹⁹ Violent Crime Control and Law Enforcement Act of 1994, Pub.L.No. 103-322, 20411, 108 Stat. 1796 (1994).

²²⁰ Drug Free Student Loans Act of 1998, 20 USC 1091(r), 2002.

Exceptions to the above provisions can change a student's eligibility status despite a conviction for drug possession or sale:

- Convictions that have been dismissed or expunged, and juvenile court delinquency findings, do not disqualify a candidate²²¹
- The disqualification ends if the conviction is reversed.
- A student whose eligibility has been suspended may resume eligibility before the end of the eligibility period if the student successfully completes a drug rehabilitation program that is approved by the Secretary of Education and includes at least two unannounced drug tests.

11.1.2 Conviction after Scholarship

State education funding can also be lost as a result of a criminal conviction that occurs after the student has been qualified for a higher education scholarship. A person who commits a felony or Class A misdemeanor, or an offense under the Texas Controlled Substances Act, forfeits a prepaid higher education scholarship.²²² The offenses that will result in forfeiture of a scholarship include:

- offenses of possession of marijuana,
- possession or delivery of drug paraphernalia, and
- falsification of drug test results.

11.1.3 Eligibility for Texas Grants

The eligibility for Texas grants mirrors the drug-related offense exclusions under federal law. A person is not eligible to receive a TEXAS grant or TEXAS II grant for two years after completing a sentence for a felony or an offense under Chapter 481 of the Health and Safety Code, per Tex. Educ. Code §§ 56.304 and 56.354. Moreover, Education Code §§ 56.305 and 56.355 render one ineligible to continue to receive a TEXAS grant or a TEXAS II grant if already receiving one when convicted. This apparently would include Class B and C misdemeanors under the Texas Controlled Substance Act.

11.1.4 Zero Tolerance Policies

Many schools have adopted "zero tolerance" policies that cover any type of criminal offense, not just those that occur on campus or at sponsored activities. Any criminal conviction or deferred adjudication could be grounds for disciplinary action or loss of school benefits depending on school policy. Most universities have ²²¹ 20 USC §1091\(r\)\(2\)\(B\).

²²² Tex. Educ. Code §54.633.

disciplinary codes that allow for denial of degrees and expulsion for violations of criminal statutes.²²³

11.2 NONPROFIT COMMUNITY COLLEGES

Nonprofit Community colleges are a good place to start exploring and training for a new trade or profession. Most have open admissions policies, local campuses, and tuition far lower than that of for-profit schools.

11.3 PROPRIETARY/FOR-PROFIT COLLEGES AND UNIVERSITIES

At the time of writing, Proprietary or for-profit colleges and universities continue to come under greater and great scrutiny. The Department of Education no longer recognizes the Accrediting Council for Independent Colleges and Schools, the largest accreditor of for-profit colleges. Many of the mainstays of the for-profit college industry have shuttered their doors leaving 10's of thousands of students in limbo with large amounts of debt.

Formerly incarcerated people have several options for higher education: colleges, universities, community colleges and proprietary (for profit) schools. A senate investigation on released in June 2012 ("For Profit College Investigation") revealed that many for-profit college companies use misleading tactics to lure students into certificate and associate degree programs that cost, on average, six times the cost of similar programs in community colleges. Among the 30 colleges identified in the study were the University of Phoenix, DeVry, ITT (now defunct), Bridgepoint, Apollo, and National American University.²²⁴ The study also showed that

- Many used aggressive recruiting tactics, and recruiters often hide the ball on matters of cost, transferability of credits, graduation rates, and employment and salary after graduation.
- Fifty-four percent of students who enrolled in the 2008-2009 school year withdrew by summer 2010.
- Close to one in four students who attends a for-profit school defaults on his or her federal student loans within 3 years of leaving school. These schools reenroll 10 percent of American higher education students but account for nearly 50% of all student loan defaults.
- Colleges claimed that their schools were accredited when they were not. Accreditation can affect whether the graduate can apply for a vocational license in their chosen profession.

²²³ See, Institutional Rules on Student Services and Activities, Chapter II, Student Discipline and Conduct, University of Texas (2008-09)

²²⁴ Earlier studies reached similar conclusions. See "Piling it On: The Growth of Proprietary School Loans And the Consequences for Students" National Consumer Law Center January 2011

Before enrolling in a proprietary school or applying for financial aid, prospective students should do their homework:

- Research the school's accreditation with the Texas Higher Education Coordinating Board.
- Contact the state licensing office for that vocation, or Texas Department of Licensing and Regulation, to find out if the training or diploma will be accepted by the licensing board for that particular profession.
- Find out if credits can be transferred from the college to another college or university
- Get a clear picture on how much tuition and fees will be over the course of the entire degree program, how much of tuition must be borrowed, the interest rate and how long it will take to pay off the loan(s).
- Know in advance if the course have actual classrooms and campus or will be taught through distance learning. If taught online, see if the classes will be taught in real time and are interactive (allowing the student to communicate with the instructor).

12 . VOTING AND SELECTIVE SERVICE

Civic participation includes all the ways citizens participate in the democratic process. It includes the right to vote, serve on a jury, and run for elected office. This section addresses eligibility to vote, registration requirements, selective service and jury duty.

12.1 VOTING

The laws governing voting rights of incarcerated and formerly incarcerated persons vary widely from state to state.²²⁵ Previously, felony convictions in Texas resulted in lifetime prohibition against voting. Today, an otherwise qualified voter who has been finally convicted of a felony may vote if he has completely discharged his sentence, including incarceration, parole or probation, or been pardoned. When these requirements have been met, a formerly incarcerated person is once again eligible to vote and may register with the voter registrar in the county of residence.

Texas Voter Identification Law

As of this writing, Texans are required to produce one of seven approved forms of identification at the polls and if they cannot reasonably obtain one, they are allowed additional options at the polls. The Acceptable forms of photo ID are as follows:²²⁶

- Texas driver license issued by the Texas Department of Public Safety (DPS)
- Texas Election Identification Certificate issued by DPS
- Texas personal identification card issued by DPS
- Texas license to carry a handgun issued by DPS
- United States military identification card containing the person's photograph
- United States citizenship certificate containing the person's photograph
- United States passport

If the voter does not possess one of the foregoing acceptable forms photo ID and cannot obtain one due to a reasonable impediment, the following are supporting documents that can be presented, and along with execution of a Reasonable Impediment Declaration, cast a ballot:

²²⁵ Prisoners of the Census: The census counts incarcerated people as “residents” of the prison location, despite the fact that they cannot vote while serving time and often know nothing about the surrounding community. Some argue that that this distorts the population-based voting districts by giving voters who live in a community with a correctional facility more influence in government than other citizens. The Texas Election Code specifically excludes prisons from the definition of a “residence” Tex. Elec. Code § 1.015\(e\)

²²⁶ The United States District Court for the District of Columbia, Pursuant to section 5 of the Voting Rights Act of 1965, Texas was required to show that Senate Bill 14 (SB 14) “neither has the purpose nor will have the effect of denying or abridging the right to vote on account of race[,] color,” or “member[ship] [in] a language minority group.” 52 U.S.C. §§ 10304(a), 10303(f)(2). State of Texas v. Holder, US Dist. Court - DC Cir., civil action no. 12-cv-128, August 30, 2012.

- Valid voter registration certificate
- Certified birth certificate (must be an original)
- Copy of or original current utility bill
- Copy of or original bank statement
- Copy of or original government check
- Copy of or original paycheck
- Copy of or original government document with your name and an address (original required if it contains a photograph)

12.1.1 Eligibility to Register to Vote

To be eligible to register to vote in Texas, a person must be:

- At least 18 years old on Election Day;
- A United States citizen;
- A resident of the Texas county where the voter applied for registration;
- Not determined by a final judgment of a court exercising probate jurisdiction to be (1) totally mentally incapacitated; or (2) partially mentally incapacitated without the right to vote; and
- Not finally convicted of a felony, or, if so convicted must have
 - (1) fully discharged the sentence, including any term of incarceration, parole, or supervision, or completed a period of probation ordered by any court; or
 - (2) been pardoned or otherwise released from the resulting disability to vote.²²⁷

12.1.2 Voting Rights and Deferred Adjudication

Texas law recently clarified the law as it relates to the voting eligibility of people who have who have received deferred adjudication. The Texas Election Code described a qualified voter as a person who had not been finally convicted of a felony. A deferred adjudication is not a final conviction for purposes of voting eligibility.²²⁸

12.1.3 Voter Registration

In most Texas counties, the County Tax Assessor-Collector is also the County Voter Registrar. In some counties, the County Clerk or County Elections Administrator registers voters. A person can also register to vote when applying for or renewing a Texas driver's license. Once the form is completed it can be mailed postage-free to the County Voter Registrar, or hand-delivered.

For a voter registration application, please refer to:

²²⁸ Tex. Elec. Code §§11.002; 13.001

Appendix Q: Application for Voter Registration

12.1.4 Deadline for Application

The application must be received in the County Voter Registrar's office or postmarked 30 days before an election in order to vote in that election. The voter registration certificate will arrive by mail for the voter to take to the polls when voting.

12.1.5 Identification Required to Register to Vote

As of this writing, photo identification is required to register to vote. Here is a list of the acceptable forms of photo ID:

- Texas driver license issued by the Texas Department of Public Safety (DPS)
- Texas Election Identification Certificate issued by DPS
- Texas personal identification card issued by DPS
- Texas license to carry a handgun issued by DPS
- United States military identification card containing the person's photograph
- United States citizenship certificate containing the person's photograph
- United States passport

With the exception of the U.S. citizenship certificate, the identification must be current or have expired no more than 4 years before being presented for voter qualification at the polling place.

Here is a list of the supporting forms of ID that can be presented if the voter does not possess one of the forms of acceptable photo ID and cannot obtain one due to a reasonable impediment:

- Valid voter registration certificate
- Certified birth certificate (must be an original)
- Copy of or original current utility bill
- Copy of or original bank statement
- Copy of or original government check
- Copy of or original paycheck
- Copy of or original government document with your name and an address (original required if it contains a photograph)

After presenting a supporting form of ID, the voter must execute a Reasonable Impediment Declaration.²²⁹

12.1.6 Voter Registration Certificate

²²⁹ From the Vote Texas website: <https://www.votetexas.gov/register-to-vote/> Additional Exceptions for those with Disabilities or religious exemptions from photo identification.

- After applying, a voter registration certificate (proof of registration) will be mailed within 30 days.
- The voter should correct any mistakes on the registration by making corrections to the registration certificate and returning it to the voter registrar immediately.
- If the voter certificate is lost, contact the county voter registrar in writing for a new one.
- The voter will automatically receive a new certificate every two years by mail to the address listed on the previous registration.

12.1.7 Change of Address

If the voter moves within the same county where she is registered to vote, she can:

- change the address online
- complete a new voter registration application form and checking the "change" box
- change the address for voter registration and driver's license at the same time at the driver's license office.

A new certificate with the new address will be mailed to the voter.

12.1.8 Where to Vote

A voter's residence is located in a specific "precinct," which is an area within the county. Polling places are usually listed in local newspapers before an election and are also available online on the website for each county. A voter who moves to another county must re-register by filling out a new application for voter registration. The voter will be registered in the new county 30 days after the application is submitted, and will receive a new voter certificate.

12.2 SELECTIVE SERVICE REGISTRATION

The Selective Service system is how the United States maintains information for a military draft. Almost all males between the ages of 18 and 25 are required by law to register. Incarcerated or hospitalized men must register within thirty days after their release.

12.2.1 Consequences for Failure to Register

A young man who fails to register with Selective Service may be ineligible for opportunities that may be important to his future. He must register to be eligible for federal student financial aid, state-funded student financial aid in many states, most federal employment, some state employment, security clearance for contractors, job training under the Workforce Innovation and Opportunity Act

(formerly known as the Workforce Investment Act), and U.S. citizenship for immigrant men.²³⁰

12.2.2 Fines and Penalties

Failure to register carries with it a fine of up to $250,000 and/or up to five years' imprisonment for failure to register. During peacetime, the regular maximum penalty is a $2,500 fine and up to four months imprisonment. Immigrant men are not eligible for citizenship without registering.

12.2.3 Government Programs and Education

Registration for Selective Service is linked to federal programs and benefits, including:

- federal student loans and grant programs
- federal job training under the Workforce Investment Act
- federal jobs or security clearance as a contractor
- U.S. citizenship

12.2.4 Registration Methods

Registration for the selective service may be accomplished:

- Online with the registrant's social security number at www.sss.gov,
- On the application for Federal Student Financial Aid (FAFSA),
- In person when renewing or applying for a driver license or Texas identification card,
- By completing a "mail-back" registration form available at any U.S. Post Office.

12.3 STATUS INFORMATION LETTER

12.3.1 First-Time Registration if Over 25

Males over 26 years old who never registered for Selective Service between the ages 18-25 are not eligible to receive financial aid and other benefits tied to selective service registration unless they can show special circumstances as to why they failed to register during the age window. Incarceration can be a "special circumstance." If failure to register was due to incarceration or for some other reason, the applicant must complete and return a "Request for Status Information Letter." Because the previously incarcerated person is expected to register within thirty days after release, proof of incarceration dates alone may not be sufficient; the individual should consider including reasons why he missed the 30-day post-incarceration window. A Request for Status Information Letter form and instructions, is available at

Acceptable documentation for this situation include a copy of his I-20 form or a letter from the school he attended indicating his full-time attendance as a non-immigrant alien. 13 . COLLATERAL CONSEQUENCES OF CONVICTION

Collateral consequences are the legal disabilities that attach as an operation of law when an individual is convicted of a crime, but are not part of the sentence for the crime. Examples include denial of government issued licenses and ineligibility for public services and public programs. Sentencing judges and lawyers may not be aware of the collateral consequences that can hamper efforts towards effective and successful reentry.

13.1.1 Uniform Collateral Consequences Act

The Uniform Collateral Consequences Act (UCCA) is a proposal of the Uniform Law Commission to encourage States to provide some uniformity and information among the states that would allow previously incarcerated people to gain partial relief from these consequences.

The UCCA was completed by the Uniform Law Commission in 2009 and amended in 2010. The American Bar Association approved the Act in 2010.²³⁴ At this writing, the Act has been adopted by a single state (Vermont), and is under legislative consideration in Minnesota, Nevada, New Mexico and New York. The following is a summary of the key provisions of the key provisions of the UCCA as stated by the Uniform Law Commission are as follows:

Table 20: Uniform Collateral Consequences Act - Key Provisions

Collection	All collateral consequences contained in state laws and regulations, and provisions for avoiding or mitigating them, must be collected in a single document. The compilation must include both collateral sanctions (automatic bars) and disqualifications (discretionary penalties). In fulfilling their obligations under the Uniform Act, jurisdictions will be assisted by the federally-financed effort to compile collateral consequences for each jurisdiction that was authorized by the Court Security Act of 2007.
Notification	Defendants must be notified about collateral consequences at important points in a criminal case: At or before formal notification of charges, so a defendant can make an informed decision about how to proceed; and at sentencing and when leaving custody, so that a defendant can comport his or her conduct to the law. Given that collateral consequences will have been collected in a single document, it will not be difficult to make this information available. The 2010 Supreme Court decision in Padilla v. Kentucky has significantly raised the profile of the

	problem of collateral consequences. Section 5 of the Act instructs trial courts to confirm that the defendant has received and understood notice of collateral consequences and has had an opportunity to discuss them with defense counsel. The UCCA facilitates notification of collateral consequences before, during, and after sentencing and aids courts and lawyers in providing the defendant with a constitutionally adequate defense.
Authorization	Collateral sanctions may not be imposed by ordinance, policy or rule, but must be authorized by statute. An ambiguous law will be considered as authorizing only discretionary case-by-case disqualification.
Standards for Disqualification	A decision-maker retains the ability to disqualify a person based on a criminal conviction, but only if it is determined, based on an individual assessment, that the essential elements of the person's crime, or the particular facts and circumstances involved, are substantially related to the benefit or opportunity at issue.
Overtured and Pardoned Convictions; Relief Granted by Other Jurisdictions	Convictions that have been overturned or pardoned, including convictions from other jurisdictions, may not be the basis for imposing collateral consequences. Charges dismissed pursuant to deferred prosecution or diversion programs will not be considered a conviction for purposes of imposing collateral consequences. The Act gives jurisdictions a choice about whether to give effect to other types of relief granted by other jurisdictions based on rehabilitation or good behavior, such as expunction or set-aside.
Relief from Collateral Consequences	The Act creates two different forms of relief, one to be available as early as sentencing to facilitate reentry (Order of Limited Relief) and the other after a period of law-abiding conduct (Certificate of Restoration of Rights). <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • An Order of Limited Relief permits a court or agency to lift the automatic bar of a collateral sanction, leaving a licensing agency or public housing authority, for example, free to consider whether to disqualify a particular individual on the merits. • A Certificate of Restoration of Rights offers potential public and private employers, landlords and licensing agencies concrete and objective information about an

	individual under consideration for an opportunity or benefit, and a degree of assurance about that individual's progress toward rehabilitation, and will thereby facilitate the reintegration of individuals whose behavior demonstrates that they are making efforts to conform their conduct to the law.

ORIGINAL PETITION FOR DECLARATORY JUDGMENT

TO THE HONORABLE JUDGE OF THIS COURT:

COMES NOW, [OLD NAME OF PETITIONER] AKA [NEW NAME OF PETITIONER], Petitioner, through undersigned counsel, files this Petition for Declaratory Judgment, pursuant to the Texas Uniform Declaratory Judgments Act in Chapter 37 of the Civil Practice and Remedies Code and in support thereof respectfully shows the Court the following:

JURISDICTION AND VENUE

1. The subject matter in controversy is within the jurisdictional limits of this Court.
2. This Court has jurisdiction over the parties because all of the parties are Texas residents.
3. Venue in Harris County is proper in this cause.

FACTS

1. This suit is brought by [OLD NAME OF PETITIONER] AKA [NEW NAME OF PETITIONER], Petitioner's mailing address is: [mailing address].
2. Petitioner requests that their name be changed to [NEW NAME OF PETITIONER]. because:
 - a. The name on Petitioner's birth certificate conflicts with the name on Petitioner's [driver's license, state ID, other documents]
 - b. (Supporting document 1) A copy of _____ is attached hereto as Exhibit "A".
 - c. (Supporting document 2) A copy of _____ is attached hereto as Exhibit "B".
 - d. (Supporting document 3) A copy of _____ is attached hereto as Exhibit "C".
 - e. Petitioner has included with this Petition a legible and complete set of their fingerprints on a fingerprint card in a format acceptable to the Texas Department of Public Safety and the Federal Bureau of Investigation which will be sent to the Texas Department of Public Safety for the purpose of requesting a Criminal History Record Information.
 - f. The following information is provided for the courts convenience:
 - 1) Petitioner is a [Gender].
 - 2) Petitioner's race is [Race].
 - 3) Petitioner's date of birth is [Date of Birth] and Petitioner was born in the City of [city of birth], County of [county of birth], State of [state of birth].

- 4) The last four digits of Petitioner's Social Security Number are xxx-xx-[last 4 of ssn]
- 5) To the best of their knowledge Petitioner does not have an FBI Number.
- 6) Petitioner has been convicted of a crime or charged with an offense above the grade of a Class C misdemeanor, does not have any judgments against them, and is not involved in any pending civil legal actions.

STATEMENTS OF LAW

The purpose of the Uniform Declaratory Judgments Act is to settle and to afford relief from uncertainty and insecurity with respect to rights, status, and other legal relations; and it is to be liberally construed and administered. Tex. Civ. Prac. & Rem. Code Ann. § 37.002(a). A person who has an interest in a writing "whose rights, status, or other legal relations are affected by a statute, municipal ordinance, contract, or franchise may have determined any question of construction or validity arising under the instrument, statute, ordinance, contract, or franchise and obtain a declaration of rights, status, or other legal relations thereunder." Tex. Civ. Prac. & Rem. Code Ann. § 37.004(a).

There exists a genuine controversy herein that would be terminated by the granting of declaratory judgment. Petitioner's registered name with the Social Security Administration Texas Department of Public Safety and the Texas Department of Corrections is [NEW NAME OF PETITIONER], while their birth certificate reflects a legal name of [OLD NAME OF PETITIONER]. Unfortunately under Texas Family Code Section 45.103, Petitioner is not eligible to apply for a change of name if "not less than two years have passed from the date of the receipt of discharge..." from a felony. In this particular case, Petitioner was given a [length of sentence] of which _____ years were served. Petitioner will not meet that requirement until _____.

Texas law protects the legitimate governmental interest of being able to identify persons sought on warrant and detainer and to preserve the criminal history of felons. See Matthews v. Morales, 23 F.3d 118, 119 (5th Cir. 1994). Petitioner's registered name with the Texas Department of Corrections is [NEW NAME OF PETITIONER], and petitioner simply requests the Court to enter a declaratory judgment which conforms their name to the records of the Texas Department of Corrections.

In order to obtain a Texas Identification Card or Driver's License, a person needs to present:

1. One of these documents which are called "secondary documents":
 - a. original or certified copy of a birth certificate issued by the appropriate State Bureau of Vital Statistics or equivalent agency;
 - b. original or certified copy of United States Department of State Certification of Birth (issued to United States citizens born abroad); or
 - c. original or certified copy of court order with name and date of birth (DOB) indicating an official change of name and/or gender.
2. And two of these documents which are called "supporting documents":
 - a. school records;
 - b. insurance policy (at least two years old);
 - c. vehicle title;

- d. military records;
- e. unexpired military dependent identification card;
- f. original or certified copy of marriage license or divorce decree;
- g. voter registration card;
- h. Social Security card;
- i. pilot's license;
- j. concealed handgun license;
- k. Texas driver's license temporary receipt;
- l. unexpired photo DL or photo ID issued by another (United States) state, US territory, the District of Columbia or Canadian province;
- m. expired photo DL or photo ID issued by another (United States) state, US territory, the District of Columbia or Canadian province that is within two years of the expiration date;
- n. a consular document issued by a state or national government; or
- o. an offender identification card or similar form of identification issued by the Texas Department of Criminal Justice. Tex. Admin. Code 15 § 24.

Because the Petitioner's birth certificate states their name is [OLD NAME OF PETITIONER] and any supporting documents Petitioner has controvert the Birth Certificate and state their name is [NEW NAME OF PETITIONER], the Petitioner cannot provide proof of identity with their birth certificate. The only other option is to have a Court Order establishing their name is [NEW NAME OF PETITIONER].

PRAYER

Petitioner prays that the Court issue an order declaring that the Petitioner is one and the same as [NEW NAME OF PETITIONER], whose date of birth is [Date of Birth] and ask that the Court grant any other relief to which Petitioner is entitled, general or specific, legal or equitable.

TEXAS DRIVER RESPONSIBILITY PROGRAM Indigency/ Incentive Application for Reduction of Surcharges

Indigency/Incentive Programs

These programs provide drivers the ability to comply with surcharges owed under the Driver Responsibility Program and maintain driving privileges. Under the Indigency Program, the surcharges are waived. However, under the Incentive Program, the surcharges are not waived but are reduced. The objective is to ensure drivers can become licensed, obtain financial liability insurance, and continue to keep our roads safe. Any surcharge assessed on or after September 1, 2003 are eligible for the Indigency/Incentive Programs.

The Indigency Program applies to individuals who are living at or below 125% of the federal poverty level, defined annually by the United States Department of Health and Human Services. For approved applicants, surcharges will be waived with accounts totaling a zero balance.

The Incentive Program applies to individuals who are living above 125% but are below 300% federal poverty level, defined annually by the United States Department of Health and Human Services. For approved applicants, the surcharge fees will be reduced by 50% of the total amount assessed (service fees apply).

Once approved for a reduction under the Incentive program, the individual must pay the the reduced balance in full within six (6) months. All surcharge suspensions will be lifted during this period. If the individual does not pay the balance in full by the due date, their driving privileges will be suspended until the reduced balance is paid in full.

These programs will not remove other suspensions on the driving record. To check the status of your driving record, please visit www.texas.gov/driver, then select Driver License and Reinstatement Status.

To Apply – Complete the application in black or blue ink only. The application must be completed in full prior to submission. Use notes section on page 2 for additional information. You may also apply online at www.txsurchargeonline.com.

INC-A (V3.0 03/16)

PLEASE NOTE: Until your application review is completed, you must continue to remit the minimum monthly payment by the due date to avoid suspension of your driving privileges.

Supporting Documents - Applicants must include supporting documentation based on answers provided on the application. If submitting an online application, you may upload all documents, including your application. All documents must be complete and accurate. Your application and any supporting documents you provide may be forwarded to the Texas Department of Public Safety for additional review. Approved - A written notice will be sent to the applicant and will provide the due date and the reduced balance owed.

Denied - A written notice will be sent to the applicant with the reason for the denial.

Status - If you applied online, you can check the status of your application online. Online notices will be available 10 -14 business days after your completed application is submitted. If you applied by mail, written notices take up to 60 days after your completed application is submitted.

Payment-The reduced payment must be received by the due date or driving privileges will be suspended. Available payment methods include: ACE Cash Express, MoneyGram, Western Union, Check, Money Order, or Credit or Debit Card. You can also contact us directly at 1-800-688-6882 or visit www.txsurchargeonline.com.

The original due date remains the same. If new surcharges are assessed 91 days or more after the reduction approval, a new application will be required.

DEFENDANT’S MOTION FOR FINDING OF INDIGENCE AND WAIVER OF FINES AND COURT COSTS

COMES NOW, _____, the Defendant in this case and files this Motion for Finding of Indigence and Waiver of Fines and Court Costs (the “Motion”), [through counsel _____ (if applicable).]

I. Indigence

Defendant moves that this court make a finding of indigence in this matter. Defendant shows the court the following in support of this claim of indigence:

1. Defendant is currently homeless and their income is below the current Federal Poverty Guideline as supported by the attached Sworn Affidavit of Defendant, which is attached hereto as Exhibit A.
2. Defendant is unable to obtain a Texas Driver’s License because of this outstanding case.
3. Without a Texas Driver’s License, Defendant is unable to obtain employment and other services necessary to restabilization, and payment of these fines.

II. Waiver of Fines and Court Costs

Article 45.0491 of the Texas Code of Criminal Procedure confers authority upon the judiciary of municipal and justice courts to waive all fines and court costs upon a finding that a defendant is indigent, Tex. Code Crim. Proc. Ann. art. 45.0491 (West).

As conviction in this case can result in additional barriers to obtaining a Texas Driver’s License we humbly request that the court dismiss this cause and waive all fines and costs associated or assess community service to be completed in satisfaction of the fines and court costs.

In the alternative, Defendant waives their right to a jury trial and requests the court accept a plea of No Contest and assess a sentence which will not present an undue burden or hardship on the Defendant.

The Defendant humbly requests the court grant this Motion, make a finding of indigence and waive all fines and court costs in the interest of justice.

APPENDIX J: STEPS FOR EXPUNCTION OF CRIMINAL HISTORY RECORD

STEP 1: DETERMINE ELIGIBILITY FOR EXPUNCTION

Note: Expunction is available only to clear arrests that did not lead to conviction and for Class C misdemeanors resulting in deferred adjudication. Expunction cannot remove records of adult criminal convictions except 1) where the person has been pardoned; 2) where the conviction was thrown out on appeal, or 3) where the person was granted relief on the basis of actual innocence in a court order finding the same. Tex. Code Crim. P. Art. 55.01(a)(1)(B)(ii).

You must meet all of these requirements. If you do not, STOP.

- You were released after your arrest and not charged or convicted of a crime.
- You have never been under community or court supervision for this arrest. You have not attended any classes, paid any fines, or been placed on any kind of probation for this arrest.
- Your arrest was not part of a “criminal episode,” and you have never been charged for any other crime as a part of a criminal episode.

STEP 2: GATHER INFORMATION FOR EXPUNCTION

You will need:

- An official criminal history record.¹
- Your fingerprint record.
- Court Filing Fee. Call the clerk of the court where you intend to file for the total cost of filing the Petition for Expunction. If you cannot afford the fee, complete an
 - o Affidavit of Inability to Pay Court Costs

STEP 3: COMPLETE PETITION FOR EXPUNCTION

- Complete Petition for Expunction of Criminal Records²
- Sign the Petition in front of Notary and make extra copies.

STEP 4: FILE PETITION FOR EXPUNCTION

- File the original petition (not copy) in the district court for the county where
 - o You were arrested, OR

¹ Your criminal history record will usually contain all of the information you must include in the Petition for Expunction required by Tex. Code Crim. P. Art 55.02 Sec. (2): (b) The petition must be verified and shall include the following or an explanation for why one or more of the following is not included:

(1) the petitioner's full name; sex; race; date of birth; driver's license number; social security number; and address at the time of the arrest;

(2) the offense charged against the petitioner;

(3) the date the offense charged against the petitioner was alleged to have been committed;

(4) the date the petitioner was arrested;

(5) the name of the county where the petitioner was arrested and if the arrest occurred in a municipality, the name of the municipality;

(6) the name of the agency that arrested the petitioner;

(7) the case number and court of offense.

² Self help forms and instructions for Expunction may be downloaded from Texas Law Help, or visit your local law library for other styles of forms. For a list of all county law libraries in Texas, click here.

- The offense was alleged to have occurred.³
- Ask the clerk to file-stamp your extra copies.
- Pay the filing fee to the clerk of the court.
- Ask the clerk to set a hearing on the Petition.⁴

STEP 5: ATTEND THE EXPUNCTION HEARING

You will need:

- Order Directing Expunction of Criminal Records. Fill in the information in the Order that you used to complete your Petition. Leave the judge's signature bar blank. Take the completed Order to your hearing.
- If the judge agrees, s/he will sign the Order. The clerk of the court will send a certified copy of the Order to everyone listed on your Petition ordering them to return or destroy all records about this arrest.⁵
- Get a certified copy of the Order from the clerk's office to keep with our files (usually about $1 a page). This is important in case you need to prove that the Order was granted.

³ Tex. Code Crim. P. Art. 55.02 §(2)(a). Both the criminal history record and fingerprint record are available through the Texas Dept. of Public Safety. The cost for both is about $30.00. To find your local DPS office, go to www.txdps.state.tx.us/administration/driver_licensing_control/rolodex/search.asp or call 2-1-1 to find the location nearest you.

records and files that were generated by Respondents during this expunction proceeding, including the copies of the Petition and of this ORDER that are served on each Respondent.

It is therefore ORDERED, ADJUDGED AND DECREED that all records and files pertaining to the arrest or arrests listed in this Order be expunged. Related arrests of the same or similar charge, date, or arresting agency not specifically listed herein are excluded from this ORDER. However, records of such unexpunged arrests that would not have been generated except for the expunged arrest are ORDERED expunged.

Records and files pertaining to the expunged arrest shall be expunged by delivering them to the Clerk of this Court, in a sealed envelope, by hand-delivery or mail to:

District Clerk of _____ County, Texas

Address: _____

Each Respondent named above shall attach a certificate to the sealed envelope certifying that the enclosed records are all the records that the Respondent possesses that are subject to the ORDER. If returning records expunged by this ORDER to the Clerk is impractical, records pertaining to the arrest may be expunged by the Respondent by obliterating or destroying said records; and then by deleting from its public records all index references to the records and files that are subject to this ORDER. The Respondent shall then send a certificate to the Clerk certifying that the records have been obliterated or destroyed.

Videotapes and audiotapes shall be expunged by erasure.

Records that pertain both to this arrest and to other arrests that are not included in this ORDER, and which would have been generated even if the expunged arrest(s) had not been made shall be obliterated by covering with tape, liquid paper, or other opaque substance insofar as they pertain to arrests that are the subject of this ORDER.

The Texas Department of Public Safety shall forward this ORDER to any and all central federal depositories of criminal records and request that they return or destroy the records pertaining to the expunged arrest(s). The Texas Department of Public Safety shall also certify that it has requested any and all central federal depositories of criminal records to return all records and files subject to this ORDER.

It is further ORDERED that the Texas Department of Public Safety, by secure electronic mail, electronic transmission, or facsimile transmission, provide notice of this ORDER, together with an explanation of this ORDER and instruction to the entity to destroy all records and information subject to this ORDER, to the following:

1. The current list of all "Customers who have purchased the CCH Database," as maintained by the Texas Department of Public Safety, Crime Records Service, and as currently displayed at the following page of the DPS Website:
<https://records.txdps.state.tx.us/DpsWebsite/CriminalHistory/Purchases.aspx>.
2. All private entities who have purchased criminal history record information from the Department of Public Safety within the ten (10) years preceding the date of this Petition.

3. Each person who applies or has applied for access to criminal history record information maintained by the Department of Public Safety [Texas Govt. Code Sec 411.085(b)(1)].
4. Any private entity which notifies the Department of Public Safety that it sells or has sold any compilation of criminal history record information to another similar entity, and any similar entity as having purchased such information from a private entity [Texas Govt. Code Sec 411.085(b)(2)].
5. All entities listed in the attached "Private Entity List."

All state agencies that sent information concerning the instant arrest to a central federal depository are ORDERED to request that the depository return all records and files subject to this ORDER.

The Clerk of this Court shall certify when the ORDER is final and shall mail certified copies of the certification to: 1) the Travis County District or County Attorney's Office; 2) to Petitioner; and 3) by certified mail, return receipt requested, to all other Respondents.

It is further ORDERED that the Clerk of the Court maintain any and all records returned pursuant to this ORDER in a manner not subject to public view and destroy all records, including the records of this expunction proceeding, on or after one year from the date of this ORDER.

Pursuant to the Code of Criminal Procedure Article 55.03, the maintenance, release, dissemination or use of the records, for any purpose, expunged herein, is prohibited. An Overview of Orders of Nondisclosure

September 1, 2017

What is an Order of Nondisclosure?

An order of nondisclosure is a court order prohibiting public entities, including courts, clerks of the court, law enforcement agencies, and prosecutorial offices, from disclosing certain criminal records. If you have a criminal record, you may benefit from obtaining an order of nondisclosure.

An order of nondisclosure legally frees you from having to disclose certain information about your criminal history in response to questions on job applications. You are not required to disclose information related to an offense that is the subject of an order of nondisclosure.

Please note that an order of nondisclosure applies to a particular criminal offense. The order does not apply to all offenses that may be on your criminal history record, but you may obtain multiple orders of nondisclosure for multiple offenses.

As mentioned above, an order of nondisclosure prohibits entities holding information about a certain offense on your criminal history record from disclosing that information. This is a general rule. There are exceptions. Certain criminal justice and state agencies may still obtain information concerning an offense that is the subject of an order of nondisclosure.

Changes Effective September 1, 2017

Prior to September 1, 2017, the date of the offense determined what law applied and forms to use when petitioning a court for an order of nondisclosure. However, effective September 1, 2017, the current nondisclosure laws, as set forth in Subchapter E-1 of Chapter 411 of the Government Code, will apply to all persons seeking an order of nondisclosure, regardless of the date of the offense, and everyone will choose among the same forms.

The following laws address the types of nondisclosure petitions and orders available:

- Section 411.072, Gov't Code (Deferred Adjudication Community Supervision; Certain Nonviolent Misdemeanors);
- Section 411.0725, Gov't Code (Deferred Adjudication Community Supervision; Felonies and Certain Misdemeanors);
- Section 411.0727, Gov't Code (Procedure Following Successful Completion of Veterans Treatment Court Program);
- Section 411.0728, Gov't Code (Victims of Trafficking of Persons);
- Section 411.073, Gov't Code (Community Supervision Following Conviction; Certain Misdemeanors);
- Section 411.0731 Gov't Code (Procedure for Community Supervision Following Conviction; Certain Driving While Intoxicated Convictions) (NEW – effective September 1, 2017);
- Section 411.0735, Gov't Code (Conviction and Confinement; Certain Misdemeanors); and
- Section 411.0736, Gov't Code (Procedure for Conviction; Certain Driving While Intoxicated Convictions) (NEW – effective September 1, 2017)

Each of the sections listed above provides specific procedures and requirements that you must satisfy in order to obtain an order of nondisclosure. The procedures and requirements for each section are different. You must determine which section is the correct section for you to use to request an order of nondisclosure.

WHEN A PETITION IS REQUIRED, YOU MUST FILE IT WITH THE CLERK OF THE COURT (“CLERK”) THAT SENTENCED YOU OR PLACED YOU ON COMMUNITY SUPERVISION (“PROBATION”) OR DEFERRED ADJUDICATION COMMUNITY SUPERVISION (“DEFERRED ADJUDICATION”). THE CLERK WILL SEND THE PETITION TO THE JUDGE, AND EITHER THE JUDGE OR THE CLERK WILL SEND A COPY OF THE PETITION TO THE ATTORNEY REPRESENTING THE STATE.

Documents You Should Gather to Assist You

You may need one or more of the following documents, depending on your case, to help you to determine if you are eligible for an order of nondisclosure:

- 1) a copy of the judgment in your case;
- 2) a signed order or document showing that the judge reduced your period of deferred adjudication, probation, or confinement, or granted you an early termination;

- 3) a signed order or document showing that you completed your deferred adjudication or probation, including any term of confinement imposed and payment of all fines, costs, and restitution imposed;
- 4) a discharge order (an order or document showing that you were discharged from probation or deferred adjudication);
- 5) a discharge and dismissal order (an order showing that the judge set aside the verdict in your case or permitted you to withdraw your plea and dismissed the accusation, complaint, information, or indictment against you in accordance with Section 42A.701, Code of Criminal Procedure (formerly, Section 20(a), Article 42.12); and
- 6) a signed order or judgment reflecting any affirmative findings made by the judge, including any finding that it is not in the best interest of justice for you to receive an order of nondisclosure, any finding of family violence, and any finding that you have to register as a sex offender.

Basic Eligibility Requirements for All Orders of Nondisclosure

In addition to the specific procedures and requirements of each section listed above, in order to be eligible for an order of nondisclosure under any of them, you MUST first satisfy the basic requirements of Section 411.074, Government Code. There are three basic requirements under Section 411.074 (see Nos. 1 thru 3 immediately below). IF YOU CANNOT SATISFY THESE REQUIREMENTS, YOU ARE NOT ELIGIBLE FOR AN ORDER OF NONDISCLOSURE, and there is no need for you to request an order of nondisclosure because the court does not have the legal authority to grant an order of nondisclosure to you.

1. You are not eligible for an order of nondisclosure if the offense for which the order of nondisclosure is requested, or any other offense you have ever been convicted of or placed on deferred adjudication for was one of the following:
 - (A) an offense requiring registration as a sex offender under Chapter 62, Code of Criminal Procedure;
 - (B) an offense under Texas Penal Code Section 20.04 (aggravated kidnapping), regardless of whether the offense is a reportable conviction or adjudication for purposes of Chapter 62, Code of Criminal Procedure;
 - (C) an offense under any of the following sections of the Texas Penal Code:
 - 19.02 (murder);
 - 19.03 (capital murder);
 - 20A.02 (trafficking of persons);

- 20A.03 (continuous trafficking of persons);
 - 22.04 (injury to a child, elderly individual, or disabled individual);
 - 22.041 (abandoning or endangering a child);
 - 25.07 (violation of court orders or conditions of bond in a family violence, sexual assault or abuse, stalking, or trafficking case);
 - 25.072 (repeated violation of certain court orders or conditions of bond in family violence, sexual assault or abuse, stalking, or trafficking case); or
 - 42.072 (stalking); or
- (D) any other offense involving family violence, as defined by Section 71.004, Family Code.
2. You are not eligible for an order of nondisclosure if the court made an affirmative finding that the offense for which the order of nondisclosure is requested involved family violence, as defined by Section 71.004, Family Code.
3. You are not eligible for an order of nondisclosure if, during the period after you were convicted or placed on probation or deferred adjudication for the offense for which the order of nondisclosure is requested, and during any applicable waiting period following completion of the sentence, probation, or deferred adjudication (see Note below), you were convicted of or placed on deferred adjudication for another offense other than a traffic offense punishable by fine only.

Note: There are waiting periods for some of the orders of nondisclosure. After determining which nondisclosure law applies to you, confirm that you have not been convicted of or placed on deferred adjudication for another offense other than a traffic offense punishable by fine only during the waiting period.

If you meet the requirements of Section 411.074 discussed above, you can proceed to the next portion of this overview.

Selecting the Appropriate Procedure for Requesting an Order of Nondisclosure

In order to make it simpler for you to determine which type of order of nondisclosure is the correct one for you, this overview will lead you through a series of questions. After answering the questions, you will determine either that you are not eligible for an order of nondisclosure and should proceed no further, or that you are eligible for an order of nondisclosure and should proceed below to a particular section under Types of Nondisclosure for additional information and instructions. Each section designated below has requirements that you must satisfy in addition to those listed above for Section 411.074.

The following five questions will assist you in determining which nondisclosure law, if any, applies to your offense.

Question 1:

Is the offense for which the order of nondisclosure is requested an offense under one of the following sections?

Section 43.02, Penal Code (Prostitution);

Section 43.03(a)(2), Penal Code (Promotion of Prostitution), punishable as a Class A misdemeanor;

Section 481.120, Health and Safety Code (Delivery of Marihuana), punishable as a Class B misdemeanor;

Section 481.121, Health and Safety Code (Possession of Marihuana), punishable as a Class B misdemeanor; or

Section 31.03, Penal Code (Theft), punishable as a Class C or B misdemeanor;

- If your answer to Question 1 is “NO,” proceed to Question 2.
- If your answer is “YES”, you should carefully go through the discussion under Section 411.0728 in the Types of Nondisclosure section below and the Instructions for Completing the Model Petition for an Order of Nondisclosure under Section 411.0728 to determine whether you qualify to file a petition under that section. If you find that you are not eligible for an order of nondisclosure under Section 411.0728, you should return to this point in the overview and continue with Question 2.

Question 2:

Is the offense for which the order of nondisclosure is requested an offense for which you successfully completed a veterans treatment court program, as defined by Chapter 124 of Title 2 of the Government Code, or former law?

- If your answer to Question 2 is “NO,” proceed to Question 3.
- If your answer is “YES,” you should carefully go through the discussion under Section 411.0727 in the Types of Nondisclosure section below and the Instructions for Completing the Model Petition for an Order of Nondisclosure under Section 411.0727 to determine whether you qualify to file a petition under that section. If you find that you are not eligible for an order of nondisclosure under Section 411.0727, you should return to this point in the overview and continue with Question 3.

Question 3:

Is the offense for which the order of nondisclosure is requested a Class B misdemeanor driving while intoxicated offense under Section 49.04, Penal Code?

- If your answer to Question 3 is “YES,” were you placed on probation following your conviction for the offense?
 - If your answer is “YES,” you should carefully go through the discussion under Section 411.0731 in the Types of Nondisclosure section below and the Instructions for Completing the Model Petition for an Order of Nondisclosure under Section 411.0731 to determine whether you qualify to file a petition under that section. If you find that you are not eligible under Section 411.0731, you may be eligible for an order of nondisclosure under Section 411.0736. You should carefully go through the discussion under 411.0736 in the Types of Nondisclosure section below and the Instructions for Completing the Model Petition for an Order of Nondisclosure under Section 411.0736 to determine whether you qualify to file a petition under that section.
 - If your answer is “NO,” you should carefully go through the discussion under Section 411.0736 in the Types of Nondisclosure section below and the Instructions for Completing the Model Petition for an Order of Nondisclosure under Section 411.0736 to determine whether you qualify to file a petition under that section. If you find that you are not eligible for an order of nondisclosure under Section 411.0736, you are not eligible for an order of nondisclosure for your driving while intoxicated offense and none of the other questions apply to you.

- If your answer to Question 3 is “NO,” proceed to Question 4.

Question 4:

Is the offense for which the order of nondisclosure is requested a felony?

- If your answer to Question 4 is “NO,” proceed to Question 5.
- If your answer is “YES,” were you placed on deferred adjudication for that offense?
 - If your answer is “YES,” follow the procedure for Section 411.0725.
 - If your answer is “NO,” you are not eligible for an order of nondisclosure and none of the remaining questions apply to you.

Question 5:

Is the offense for which the order of nondisclosure is requested a misdemeanor for which you were you placed on deferred adjudication?

- If your answer to Question 5 is “YES,” other than the offense for which the order of nondisclosure is requested, have you ever been previously convicted of or placed on deferred adjudication for an offense other than a traffic offense that is punishable by fine only?
 - If your answer is “YES,” follow the procedure for Section 411.0725.
 - If your answer is “NO,” is the offense for which the order of nondisclosure is requested a misdemeanor in which the judge entered an affirmative finding that it is not in the best interest of justice for you to receive an automatic order of nondisclosure and filed a statement of this affirmative finding in the papers of your case?
 - If your answer is “YES,” follow the procedure for Section 411.0725.
 - If your answer is “NO,” is the offense for which the order of nondisclosure is requested a misdemeanor under Penal Code Chapters 20 (kidnapping, unlawful restraint, or smuggling of persons), 21 (sexual offenses), 22 (assaultive offenses), 25 (offenses against the family), 42 (disorderly conduct and related offenses), 43 (public indecency offenses), 46 (weapons offenses), or 71 (organized crime offenses)?
 - If your answer is “YES,” follow the procedure for Section 411.0725.
 - If your answer is “NO,” follow the procedure for Section 411.072.
- If your answer to Question 5 is “NO,” other than the offense for which the order of nondisclosure is requested, have you ever been previously convicted of or placed on deferred adjudication for an offense other than a traffic offense that is punishable by fine only?
 - If your answer is “YES,” you are not eligible for an order of nondisclosure. None of the remaining questions apply to you.
 - If your answer is “NO,” is the offense for which the order of nondisclosure is requested one of the following: Alcoholic Beverage Code Sec. 106.041 (driving or operating watercraft under the influence of alcohol by minor); Penal Code Secs. 49.04 (driving while intoxicated), 49.05 (flying while intoxicated), 49.06 (boating while intoxicated), or 49.065 (assembling or operating an amusement ride while intoxicated); or Chapter 71 (organized crime)?

- If your answer is “YES,” you are not eligible for an order of nondisclosure, and none of the remaining questions apply to you. (This assumes that you do not qualify under Section 411.0731 or 411.0736, Government Code. See Question 3 above.)
- If your answer is “NO,” were you placed on probation for the offense for which the order of nondisclosure is requested, including a probation that required you to serve a term of confinement as a condition of the probation or to be placed on probation after you served a term of confinement?
 - If your answer is “YES,” follow the procedure for Section 411.073.
 - If your answer is “NO,” follow the procedure for Section 411.0735.

Types of Nondisclosure

At this point, it is time to review the additional requirements for specific sections of the Government Code to see if you qualify for an order of nondisclosure under the section that applies to you.

THE INFORMATION PROVIDED FOR EACH TYPE OF NONDISCLOSURE LISTED BELOW ASSUMES THAT YOU HAVE DETERMINED THAT YOU MEET THE BASIC ELIGIBILITY REQUIREMENTS SET FORTH IN SECTION 411.074, GOVERNMENT CODE, AS DISCUSSED ABOVE, AND THAT YOU HAVE IDENTIFIED THE TYPE OF NONDISCLOSURE, IF ANY, THAT APPLIES TO YOUR OFFENSE. THE INFORMATION PROVIDED ABOVE IDENTIFIES THE CIRCUMSTANCES AND OFFENSES THAT MAKE YOU INELIGIBLE FOR AN ORDER OF NONDISCLOSURE UNDER SOME OR ALL OF THE SECTIONS LISTED BELOW. IF YOU HAVE NOT REVIEWED THE INFORMATION PROVIDED ABOVE AND ANSWERED THE QUESTIONS TO DETERMINE WHICH ORDER OF NONDISCLOSURE, IF ANY, APPLIES TO YOUR OFFENSE, PLEASE DO SO BEFORE READING THE REMAINING PARTS OF THIS OVERVIEW.

SECTION 411.072 – Procedure for Deferred Adjudication Community Supervision for Certain Nonviolent Misdemeanors

1. You are not eligible for an order of nondisclosure under Section 411.072 if your discharge and dismissal occurred prior to September 1, 2017.

2. You are not eligible for an order of nondisclosure under Section 411.072 if it has not been at least 180 days since the Court placed you on deferred adjudication.
3. You are not eligible for an order of nondisclosure under Section 411.072 if the court entered an affirmative finding that it is not in the best interest of justice that you receive an automatic order of nondisclosure under Section 411.072. If the court entered such a finding, you may still qualify under Section 411.0725.

To obtain an order of nondisclosure under Section 411.072, if you are eligible, the process is as follows:

- 1) You are not required to file a petition;
- 2) You are required to present any evidence necessary to establish that you are eligible to receive an order of nondisclosure under Section 411.072. - 3) You must pay a $28 fee or submit a Statement of Inability to Afford Payment of Court Costs to the clerk before the court will issue the order. The Statement of Inability to Afford Payment of Court Costs is described in Rule 145 of the Texas Rules of Civil Procedure. You may view Rule 145 online at: <http://www.txcourts.gov/media/1435952/trcp-all-updated-with-amendments-effective-912016.pdf>. You may click here to obtain the form for the Statement of Inability to Afford Payment of Court Costs: <http://www.txcourts.gov/media/1435953/statement-final-version.pdf>.

If you received a discharge and dismissal of the proceedings against you, the law requires the court to determine whether you satisfy the requirements of Section 411.074, and if the court finds that you have satisfied the requirements of that section, the court must issue the order of nondisclosure. However, the court cannot issue the order before the 180th day following the date the court placed on deferred adjudication.

The court will have access to your criminal history record information and may use it to determine your eligibility for an order of nondisclosure under Section 411.072.

Office of Court Administration

Instructions and Letter
Requesting Court to Issue an Order of Nondisclosure
under Section 411.072

BEFORE BEGINNING MAKE SURE YOU ARE ELIGIBLE TO USE THE LETTER PROVIDED BELOW. THE INSTRUCTIONS AND LETTER ARE ONLY FOR PERSONS REQUESTING AN ORDER OF NONDISCLOSURE UNDER SECTION 411.072, GOVERNMENT CODE. DO NOT ATTEMPT TO USE THE LETTER PROVIDED BELOW WITHOUT FIRST REVIEWING THE OVERVIEW OF ORDERS OF NONDISCLOSURE TO DETERMINE IF YOU ARE ELIGIBLE FOR AN ORDER OF NONDISCLOSURE AND TO IDENTIFY THE CORRECT FORM TO USE. THE NONDISCLOSURE OVERVIEW IS AVAILABLE AT THIS LINK: <http://www.txcourts.gov/rules-forms/orders-of-nondisclosure>.

NOTE: You are not eligible for an order of nondisclosure under Section 411.072, if your discharge and dismissal occurred prior to September 1, 2017. If your discharge and dismissal occurred prior to September 1, 2017, you cannot use this letter. You may be able to file a petition for an order of nondisclosure under Section 411.0725, if you satisfy the requirements of that section. The form and instructions for an order of nondisclosure under Section 411.0725 are available at this link: <http://www.txcourts.gov/rules-forms/orders-of-nondisclosure>.

Order of Nondisclosure under Sec. 411.072

If you are eligible for an Order of Nondisclosure under Section 411.072, you do not have to file a petition, and you should not have to pay the filing fees that normally accompany the filing of a petition. The letter that you will complete and submit to the court is not a petition.

The statute places the responsibility on the court to determine whether you qualify for an order of nondisclosure under this section and to issue the order if you do. However, you must present evidence necessary to establish that you are eligible to receive an order of nondisclosure under Section 411.072 and pay a $28 fee (this is not a filing fee) or submit a Statement of Inability to Afford Payment of Court Costs to the court before the court issues the order.

As a general rule, you must pay the $28 fee before the court will issue the order. However, you may be eligible to file a Statement of Inability to Afford Payment of Court Costs in lieu of paying the fee. The statement is described in Rule 145 of the Texas Rules of Civil Procedure. You may view Rule 145 online at <http://www.txcourts.gov/media/1435952/trcp-all-updated-with-amendments-effective-912016.pdf>. The form for the Statement of Inability to Afford Payment of Court Costs is available at this link: <http://www.txcourts.gov/media/1435953/statement-final-version.pdf>.

To facilitate your ability to present the evidence necessary to establish that you are eligible to receive an order of nondisclosure under Section 411.072, the letter below is provided. However, you must complete the letter before submitting it to the court. The letter will provide the information that the court needs to determine your eligibility for the order of nondisclosure.

A proposed order for the order for nondisclosure is provided in these materials as well. You should submit the proposed order with the letter. The court will complete the proposed order if the court determines that an order should issue.

Required Waiting Period

If the court finds that you satisfy the requirements for an order of nondisclosure under Section 411.072, the court is required to issue the order of nondisclosure as follows:

- If the court discharges and dismisses the proceedings against you on or after the 180th day after the court placed you on deferred adjudication, the court is required to issue the order of nondisclosure at the same time the court discharges and dismisses the proceedings against you; or
- If the court discharges and dismisses the proceedings against you prior to the 180th day after the court placed you on deferred adjudication, the court is required to issue the order of nondisclosure “as soon as practicable” after the 180th day after the court placed you on deferred adjudication.

The court is not permitted to issue the order of nondisclosure until at least 180 days have passed following your placement on deferred adjudication. Also, please note that to satisfy the requirements under Section 411.074 (this is required to qualify for an order of nondisclosure under Section 411.072), the period in which you cannot have been convicted of or placed on deferred adjudication for any offense other than a traffic offense punishable by fine only INCLUDES the “waiting period” outlined above. Therefore, neither you nor the court will know if you qualify until the 180-day waiting period is over.

Summary of Procedure

If you are eligible for an order of nondisclosure under Sec. 411.072, Government Code, you should take the following steps:

1. Complete the letter provided below, and if 180 days have passed since the date that the court placed you on deferred adjudication, submit the letter and proposed order (Order of Nondisclosure under Section 411.072) to the clerk of the court (hereinafter “clerk”); and
2. Pay $28 or submit a Statement of Inability to Afford Payment of Court Costs. Ask the clerk about their procedures for paying the fee or submitting the statement.

If the court has not already issued an order of nondisclosure, the court will review your letter and determine if you qualify for the order of nondisclosure. If the court determines that you qualify for the order, the court will issue the order if you have paid the $28 fee or submitted a statement of inability to pay.

No later than 15 business days after the court issues the order, the clerk will send a copy of the order to DPS. After receiving the order, DPS will seal the criminal history record information that is the subject of the order and forward a copy of the order to the agencies listed in Section 411.075(b), Government Code. See Section 411.075(b) for a complete list of the agencies and entities that DPS must notify.

_____ (7)

To the Honorable Court,

I, _____ (8), respectfully request the court to issue an order of nondisclosure under Section 411.072, Government Code, in the above-referenced case.

I entered a plea of _____ (9) to the offense of _____ (10), and this court placed me on deferred adjudication. My term of deferred adjudication began on _____ (11) and ended on _____ (12). I have/ have not (13) attached a copy of the Order of Deferred Adjudication in my case. On _____ (14), I received a discharge and dismissal from the court. I have/have not (15) attached a copy of the discharge and dismissal.

I believe that I am entitled to an order of nondisclosure under Section 411.072 for the following reasons:

1. I was placed on deferred adjudication for a misdemeanor other than

- one under Penal Code Chapter 20 (kidnapping, unlawful restraint, or smuggling of persons), 21 (sexual offenses), 22 (assaultive offenses), 25 (offenses against the family), 42 (disorderly conduct and related offenses), 43 (public indecency offenses), 46 (weapons offenses), or 71 (organized crime offenses);
2. Aside from the criminal offense reflected above, I have not been previously convicted of or placed on deferred adjudication for any offense other than a traffic offense punishable by fine only;
 3. This court did not enter an affirmative finding that it is not in the best interest of justice for me to receive an automatic order of nondisclosure for the offense for which the order of nondisclosure is requested;
 4. I received a discharge and dismissal under Article 42A.111, Code of Criminal Procedure, (formerly, Section 5(c), Article 42.12, Code of Criminal Procedure) on or after September 1, 2017; and
 5. I meet the requirements of Section 411.074, Government Code, because:
 - a. Including the offense for which the order of nondisclosure is requested, I have never been convicted of or placed on deferred adjudication for any of the following offenses:
 - (i) an offense requiring registration as a sex offender under Chapter 62, Code of Criminal Procedure;
 - (ii) an offense under Texas Penal Code Section 20.04 (aggravated kidnapping);
 - (iii) an offense under any of the following Texas Penal Code Sections:
 - 19.02 (murder);
 - 19.03 (capital murder);
 - 20A.02 (trafficking of persons);
 - 20A.03 (continuous trafficking of persons);
 - 22.04 (injury to a child, elderly individual, or disabled individual);
 - 22.041 (abandoning or endangering a child);
 - 25.07 (violation of court orders or conditions of bond in a family violence, sexual assault or abuse, stalking, or trafficking case);
 - 25.072 (repeated violation of certain court orders or conditions of bond in family violence, sexual assault or abuse, stalking, or trafficking case); or
 - 42.072 (stalking); or
 - (iv) any offense involving family violence, as defined by Section

71.004, Family Code;

- b. This court has not made an affirmative finding that the offense for which I am requesting an order of nondisclosure involved family violence, as defined by Section 71.004, Family Code; and
- c. I was not convicted of or placed on deferred adjudication for any offense other than a traffic offense punishable by fine only during the 180 days following my placement on deferred adjudication.

Based on this information, I respectfully request the court to find that I have met the requirements of Sections 411.072 and 411.074, Government Code, and to issue an order of nondisclosure for the criminal offense referenced in the Criminal Cause Number above.

Sincerely,

BEFORE BEGINNING MAKE SURE YOU ARE USING THE CORRECT PETITION. THIS PETITION AND INSTRUCTIONS ARE FOR PERSONS SEEKING AN ORDER OF NONDISCLOSURE UNDER SECTION 411.0725, GOVERNMENT CODE. DO NOT ATTEMPT TO COMPLETE A PETITION FOR AN ORDER OF NONDISCLOSURE WITHOUT FIRST REVIEWING THE NONDISCLOSURE OVERVIEW TO DETERMINE IF YOU ARE ELIGIBLE FOR AN ORDER OF NONDISCLOSURE AND TO IDENTIFY THE CORRECT FORMS TO USE. If you check the third statement, you can file a petition for an order of nondisclosure on or after the date of your discharge and dismissal.
- (17) There is a filing fee associated with filing a petition for order of nondisclosure under Section 411.0725. The filing fee is the amount of the court’s regular civil filing fee plus an additional $28. Typically, the total filing fee is about $280. However, the amount varies from county to county. You must contact the clerk of the court in which you are filing the petition to obtain the correct amount of the total filing fee. NOTE: You should not have to pay the clerk to serve the petition on the attorney for the state (hereinafter “prosecutor”), Department of Public Safety (hereinafter “DPS”), or any other agency or entity, including any law enforcement entity. The statute requires the court, clerk, and DPS to notify the other parties of interest. See Sections 411.0745(e), 411.075(a) and 411.075(b), Government Code, respectively.

As a general rule, you must pay the filing fee in order to file the petition. However, you may be eligible to file a Statement of Inability to Afford Payment of Court Costs in lieu of paying the filing fee. The statement is described in Rule 145 of the Texas Rules of Civil Procedure. You may view Rule 145 online at <http://www.txcourts.gov/media/1435952/trcp-all-updated-with-amendments-effective-912016.pdf>. You can click here for the form: <http://www.txcourts.gov/media/1435953/statement-final-version.pdf>.

Please place a check mark or an “x” on the line before the statement that applies to you. Mark or check the line in front of the first statement, if you are paying the filing fee. If you are submitting a Statement of Inability to Afford Payment of Court Costs instead, place a check mark or an “x” near the second statement.

- (18) Please sign above the line. If you are filing this petition electronically, you may enter “/s/” followed by your typewritten name.
- (19) Please PRINT your name.
- (20) Please enter your mailing address.
- (21) Please enter your city, state and zip code.
- (22) Please enter your telephone number.

Process after You Complete the Petition

Assuming you are eligible for an order of nondisclosure under Section 411.0725, the process for obtaining an order under this section is as follows:

First, be sure to wait the requisite time before filing the petition, and check with the clerk to obtain the total amount of the fee (including the $28 fee) that you will have to pay when you file the petition, unless you are submitting a Statement of Inability to Afford Payment of Court Costs. Next, be sure to complete the right petition according to the instructions, and after you have done so, print both the petition and the Order of Nondisclosure. In most courts, you will have to submit a proposed order with your petition when you file it. The judge will complete the order, if the judge grants your request.

After you file the petition, the clerk will send it to the court and the court will notify the prosecutor. Again, you should not have to pay the clerk to serve notice on the prosecutor or any other party.

The court does not have to hold a hearing, unless the prosecutor requests one.

If a hearing is scheduled, you will be notified. If a hearing is held, the court may ask questions to determine whether you satisfy the requirements of Sections 411.0725 and 411.074. If the court finds that you satisfy the requirements of those sections and that issuance of the order of nondisclosure is in the best interest of justice, the court should grant your request.

If the court does not hold a hearing, the court will review your petition to determine whether an order of nondisclosure shall issue. The court must find that you satisfy the requirements of Sections 411.0725 and 411.074 and that issuance of the order of nondisclosure is in the best interest of justice before the court may grant your request.

The court or prosecutor will have access to your criminal history record information and will use it to determine if you are eligible for an order of nondisclosure.

If the court grants the order of nondisclosure, the clerk will send a copy of the order to DPS. Then, no later than 10 business days after receiving the copy of the order, DPS will seal the part of your criminal history record information that is the subject of the order and forward the order to the agencies listed in Section 411.075(b), Government Code. See Section 411.075(b) for a complete list of agencies and entities that DPS must notify.

Please contact the clerk for the court in which you are filing the petition to obtain the total amount of the fee required. NOTE: You should not have to pay the clerk to serve the petition on the attorney for the state (hereinafter “prosecutor”), Department of Public Safety (hereinafter “DPS”), or any other agency or entity, including any law enforcement entity. The statute requires the court, clerk, and DPS to notify the other parties of interest. See Sections 411.0745(e), 411.075(a) and 411.075(b), Government Code, respectively.

*As a general rule, you must pay the filing fee in order to file the petition. However, you may be eligible to file a Statement of Inability to Afford Payment of Court Costs in lieu of paying the filing fee. The statement is described in Rule 145 of the Texas Rules of Civil Procedure. You may read Rule 145 online at <http://www.txcourts.gov/media/1435952/trcp-all-updated-with-amendments-effective-912016.pdf>. Process After You Complete the Petition

If you are eligible for an order of nondisclosure under Section 411.0727, the process for obtaining an order under this section is as follows:

First, check in advance with the clerk’s office to obtain the total amount of the fee (including the $28 fee) to file a petition for an order of nondisclosure, unless you are submitting a Statement of Inability to Afford Payment of Court Costs in lieu of paying the fee. Next, be sure to complete the correct petition according to the instructions, and after you have done so, print both the petition and the Order of Nondisclosure under Section 411.0727. In most courts, you will have to submit a proposed order with your petition. The judge will complete the order, if the judge grants your request.

You must file the petition in the court that placed you in the veterans treatment court program, not in the veterans treatment court, unless the court that placed you in the veterans treatment court program also serves as the veterans treatment court.

After you file the petition, the clerk will send it to the court and the court will notify the prosecutor. Again, you should not have to pay the clerk to serve notice on the prosecutor or any other party.

A hearing on the petition is not required if the prosecutor does not request a hearing.

If a hearing is scheduled, the court or the clerk will notify you. If there is a hearing, the court may ask questions to establish whether you satisfy the requirements of Sections 411.074 and 411.0727. After the hearing, if the court determines that you are entitled to file the petition and issuance of the order of nondisclosure is in the best interest of justice, the court should grant your request for the order.

If the court does not hold a hearing, the judge will review your petition to determine whether you satisfy the requirements of the statutes and whether issuance of the order of nondisclosure is in the best interest of justice. If the court determines that you are entitled to file the petition and issuance of the order is in the best interest of justice, the court should grant your request for the order.

The court and/or prosecutor will have access to your criminal history record information and will use it to determine if you are entitled to file the petition.

If the court grants the order of nondisclosure, not later than 15 business days after the order issues, the clerk will send a copy of the order to DPS. Then, not later than 10 business days after DPS receives the order, DPS will seal the criminal history record information that is the subject of the order and forward the order to the state and federal agencies listed in Section 411.075(b), Government Code. See Section 411.075(b) for a complete list of agencies and entities that DPS must notify.

After you file the petition, the clerk will send it to the court and the court will notify the prosecutor. Again, you should not have to pay the clerk to serve notice on the prosecutor or any other party.

A hearing on the petition is not required if the prosecutor does not request a hearing.

If a hearing is scheduled, the court or the clerk will notify you. After the hearing, if the court finds that you are entitled to file the petition and that issuance of the order of nondisclosure is in the best interest of justice, the court should grant your request for the order.

Please contact the clerk for the court in which you are filing the petition to obtain the correct amount of the total filing fee. NOTE: You do not have to pay the clerk to serve the petition on the attorney for the state (hereinafter “prosecutor”), Department of Public Safety (hereinafter “DPS”), or any other agency or entity, including any law enforcement entity. Process After You Complete the Petition

If you are eligible for an order of nondisclosure under Section 411.073, the process for obtaining an order under this section is as follows:

First, make sure that you satisfy the waiting period requirement before filing your petition, and check in advance with the clerk’s office to obtain the total amount of the fee (including the $28 fee) to file a petition for an order of nondisclosure, unless you are submitting a Statement of Inability to Afford Payment of Court Costs in lieu of paying the fee. Next, be sure to complete the correct petition according to the instructions, and after you have done so, print both the petition and the Order of Nondisclosure. In most courts, you will have to submit a proposed order with your petition when you file it. The judge will complete the order, if the judge grants your request.

After you file the petition, the clerk will send it to the court, and the court will notify the prosecutor. Again, you should not have to pay the clerk to serve notice on the prosecutor or any other party.

A hearing on the petition is not required if the prosecutor does not request a hearing.

If a hearing is scheduled, the court or the clerk will notify you. If there is a hearing, the court may ask questions to establish whether you satisfy the requirements of Sections 411.074 and 411.073. After the hearing, if the court finds that you satisfy the requirements of the statutes and that issuance of the order of nondisclosure is in the best interest of justice, the court should grant your request for the order.

If the court does not hold a hearing, the judge will review your petition to determine whether you satisfy the requirements of the statutes and whether issuance of the order of nondisclosure is in the best interest of justice. If the court finds that you have satisfied the requirements of the law and that the issuance of the order is in the best interest of justice, the court should grant your request for the order.

The court and/or prosecutor will have access to your criminal history record information and will use it to determine if you are eligible to file the petition.

If the court grants the order of nondisclosure, no later than 15 business days after the order issues, the clerk will send a copy of the order to DPS. Then, no later than 10 business days after DPS receives the copy of the order, DPS will seal any criminal history record information that is the subject of the order and forward the order to the state and federal agencies listed in 411.075(b), Government Code. See Section 411.075(b) for a complete list of agencies and entities that DPS must notify.

Process after You Complete the Petition

If you are eligible for an order of nondisclosure under Section 411.0731, the process for obtaining an order of nondisclosure under that section is as follows:

First, check in advance with the clerk’s office to obtain the total amount of the fee (including the $28 fee) required to file a petition for an order of nondisclosure, unless you are submitting a Statement of Inability to Afford Payment of Court Costs. Next, be sure to complete the correct petition according to the instructions above, and after you have done so, print both the petition and the Order of Nondisclosure under Section 411.0731. In most courts, you will have to submit a proposed order when you file your petition. The judge will complete the order, if the judge grants your request.

You must file the petition in the court that placed you on probation.

After you file the petition, the clerk will send it to the court, and the court will notify the prosecutor. Again, you should not have to pay the clerk to serve notice of your petition on the prosecutor or any other party.

A hearing on the petition is not required if the prosecutor does not request a hearing.

If a hearing is scheduled, the court or the clerk will notify you. If there is a hearing, the court may ask questions to establish whether you satisfy the requirements of Sections 411.074 and 411.0731. After the hearing, if the court determines that you satisfy the requirements of the statutes and that issuance of the order of nondisclosure is in the best interest of justice, the court should grant your request for the order of nondisclosure.

If the court does not hold a hearing, the judge will review your petition to determine whether you satisfy the requirements of the statutes and whether issuance of the order of nondisclosure is in the best interest of justice. If the court finds that you have satisfied the requirements of the law and that the issuance of the order is in the best interest of justice, the court should grant your request for the order of nondisclosure.

Under no circumstances will the court grant an order of nondisclosure, if the prosecutor or attorney representing the state proves by sufficient evidence that your commission of the DWI offense resulted in an accident involving another person, including a passenger in your motor vehicle.

The court and/or prosecutor will have access to your criminal history record information and will use it to determine if you are eligible to file the petition.

If the court grants the order of nondisclosure, no later than 15 business days after the order issues, the clerk will send a copy of the order to DPS. Then, no later than 10 business days after DPS receives the order, DPS will seal the criminal history record information that is the subject of the order and forward a copy of the order to the state and federal agencies listed in Section 411.075(b), Government Code. See Section 411.075(b) for a complete list of the agencies and entities that DPS must notify.

- (13) There is a filing fee associated with filing a petition for an order of nondisclosure under Section 411.0735. The filing fee is the amount of the court's regular civil filing fee plus an additional $28. Typically, the total filing fee is about $280. However, the amount varies from county to county. Please contact the clerk for the court in which you are filing the petition to obtain the correct amount of the total filing fee. NOTE: You should not have to pay the clerk to serve the petition on the attorney for the state (hereinafter "prosecutor"), Department of Public Safety (hereinafter "DPS"), or any other agency or entity, including any law enforcement entity. The statute requires the court, clerk, and DPS to notify the other parties of interest. See Sections 411.0745(e), 411.075(a) and 411.075(b), Government Code, respectively.

*As a general rule, you must pay the filing fee in order to file this petition. Please place a check mark or an "x" on the line before the statement that applies to you. Place a check mark or "x" in front of the first statement, if you are paying the filing fee. If you are submitting a Statement of Inability to Afford Payment of Court Costs instead, place a check mark or an "x" in front of the second statement.

Process after You Complete the PETITION

If you are eligible for an order of nondisclosure under Section 411.0735, the process for obtaining an order under that section is as follows:

First, be sure to wait the requisite time before filing the petition, and check in advance with the clerk's office to obtain the total amount of the fee (including the $28 fee) required to file a petition for an order of nondisclosure, unless you are submitting a Statement of Inability to Afford Payment of Court Costs in lieu of paying the fee. Next, be sure to complete the correct petition according to the instructions above, and after you have done so, print both the petition and the Order of Nondisclosure. In most courts, you will have to submit a proposed order with the petition when you file it. The judge will complete the order, if the judge grants your request.

You must file the petition in the court that sentenced you.

After you file the petition, the clerk will send it to the court and the court will notify the prosecutor. Again, you should not have to pay the clerk to serve notice on the prosecutor or any other party.

A hearing on the petition is not required if the prosecutor does not request a hearing.

If a hearing is scheduled, the court or clerk will notify you. If there is a hearing, the court may ask questions to establish whether you satisfy the requirements of Sections 411.074 and 411.0735, Government Code. After the hearing, if the court determines that you satisfy the requirements of the statutes and that issuance of the order of nondisclosure is in the best interest of justice, the court should grant your request for the order.

If the court does not hold a hearing, the judge will review your petition to determine whether you satisfy the requirements of the statutes and whether issuance of the order of nondisclosure is in the best interest of justice. If the court finds that you have satisfied the requirements of the statutes and that the issuance of the order is in the best interest of justice, the court should grant your request for the order.

The court and/or prosecutor will have access to your criminal history record information and will use it to determine if you are eligible to file the petition.

If the court grants the order of nondisclosure, no later than 15 business days after the order issues, the clerk will send a copy of the order to DPS. Then, no later than 10 business days after DPS receives the order, DPS will seal the criminal history record information that is the subject of the order and forward a copy of the order to the state and federal agencies listed in 411.075(b), Government Code. See Section 411.075(b) for a complete list of agencies and entities that DPS must notify.

Process after You Complete the Petition

If you are eligible for an order of nondisclosure under Section 411.0736, the process for obtaining an order of nondisclosure under that section is as follows:

First, check in advance with the clerk's office to obtain the total amount of the fee (including the $28 fee) to file a petition for an order of nondisclosure, unless you are submitting a Statement of Inability to Afford Payment of Court Costs. Next, be sure to complete the correct petition according to the instructions above, and after you have done so, print both the petition and the Order of Nondisclosure under Section 411.0736. In most courts, you will have to submit a proposed order when you file the petition. The judge will complete the order, if the judge grants your request.

You must file the petition in the court that sentenced you.

After you file the petition, the clerk will send it to the court, and the court will notify the prosecutor. Again, you should not have to pay the clerk to serve notice of your petition on the prosecutor or any other party.

A hearing on the petition is not required if the prosecutor does not request a hearing.

If a hearing is scheduled, the court or the clerk will notify you. If there is a hearing, the court may ask questions to establish whether you satisfy the requirements of Sections 411.074 and 411.0736. After the hearing, if the court finds that you have satisfied the requirements of the statutes and that issuance of the order of nondisclosure is in the best interest of justice, the court should grant your request for the order of nondisclosure.

If the court does not hold a hearing, the judge will review your petition to determine whether you have satisfied the requirements of the statutes and whether issuance of the order of nondisclosure is in the best interest of justice. If the court finds that you have satisfied the requirements of the law and that the issuance of the order is in the best interest of justice, the court should grant your request for the order of nondisclosure.

Under no circumstances will the court grant an order of nondisclosure, if the prosecutor or attorney representing the state proves by sufficient evidence that your commission of the DWI offense resulted in an accident involving another person, including a passenger in your motor vehicle.

The court and/or prosecutor will have access to your criminal history record information and will use it to determine if you are eligible to file the petition.

If the court grants the order of nondisclosure, no later than 15 business days after the order issues, the clerk will send a copy of the order to DPS. Then, no later than 10 business days after DPS receives the order, DPS will seal the criminal history record information that is the subject of the order and forward the order to the state and federal agencies listed in Section 411.075(b), Government Code. See Section 411.075(b) for a complete list of the agencies and entities that DPS must notify.

Texas Length of Duty to Register Compared to the Minimum Required Registration Period Under Federal Law (34 USC § 20911)

June 2019

Texas Code of Criminal Procedure Chapter 62, Subchapter 1, Early Termination of Certain Persons' Obligation to Register.

Art. 62.402. Determination of Minimum Required Registration Period

- (a) The department by rule shall determine the minimum required registration period under federal law for each reportable conviction or adjudication under this chapter.
- (b) After determining the minimum required registration period for each reportable conviction or adjudication under Subsection (a), the department shall compile and publish a list of reportable convictions or adjudications for which a person must register under this chapter for a period that exceeds the minimum required registration period under federal law.
- (c) To the extent possible, the department shall periodically verify with the United States Department of Justice's Office of Sex Offender Sentencing, Monitoring, Apprehending, Registering, and Tracking or another appropriate federal agency or office the accuracy of the list of reportable convictions or adjudications described by Subsection (b).

Under Art. 62.403(b), a person with a single reportable adjudication or conviction may apply to the Council on Sex Offender Treatment for an individual risk assessment. Therefore, a second reportable offense that makes the Texas registration period longer than the Federal requirement would not be eligible for deregistration because there is no longer just a single reportable offense. [i.e. §§ 20.02, or 21.11(a)(2)]

Art. 62.404 allows a registrant who has requested and received an individual risk assessment to file with the trial court that sentenced the person for the reportable conviction or adjudication a motion for early termination of the person's obligation to register.

THE TEXAS OFFICE OF THE ATTORNEY GENERAL (OAG)

believes that children need love and support from both parents.

While you are incarcerated, do everything you can to show your children you love them, care about them and support them.

This booklet answers common questions that parents have about how to handle their child support case while they are incarcerated and what to do when they are released. The booklet also includes definitions of child support and legal terms. Terms in boldface type are defined in the definitions section starting on page 7.

The OAG welcomes questions from parents about their Texas child support cases. Please review the following two lists to see what information and services we can and cannot provide while you are incarcerated.

THE OAG CAN PROVIDE:

1. Basic information about your child support case.
2. The terms of the order (such as monthly child support payments and total arrears owed).
3. A review of your case to see if you are eligible for a child support modification (upon your request).
4. The address and phone number of the child support office handling your case.
5. Information on how to establish paternity for your child if you weren't married to the other parent when the child was born.
6. The state of Texas Child Support Guidelines (how the child support amount is calculated by state law).
7. In some cases, we may be able to forward one letter for your child to the custodial parent, if you do not know the custodial parent's address, and you have an open child support case. The custodial parent will be given whatever contact information you include in the letter.

THE OAG CANNOT:

1. Change custody or enforce visitation.
2. File a Termination of Parental Rights petition.
3. Give you the address of your children or the other parent.
4. Perform DNA testing if you signed an Acknowledgment of Paternity (AOP), or if there is an existing child support order.
5. Answer questions other than child support inquiries.
6. Obtain information from the court if you do not have a case with the OAG.

7. Transport you to court for a hearing or request a bench warrant on your behalf.
8. Lift a bench warrant.
9. Stop the interest on your arrears.
10. Provide legal advice or an attorney.

FREQUENTLY ASKED QUESTIONS ABOUT PATERNITY

What does paternity mean?

Paternity means legal determination of fatherhood.

For Married Parents...

When a baby is born to married parents, Texas law automatically recognizes the husband as the father. Married couples do not do anything to establish paternity.

For Unmarried Parents...

When a baby is born to parents who are not married to each other, Texas law does NOT automatically recognize the biological father as a legal parent. Biological fathers must establish paternity to become legal parents and gain legal rights to their children.

How can the paternity of a child be established?

When the mother and father agree, they can voluntarily establish paternity by signing an Acknowledgment of Paternity (AOP). An AOP establishes the father's legal relationship with the child when it is filed with the Texas Vital Statistics Unit (VSU).

How does a father's name get on his child's birth certificate?

Once paternity is established, the father's name can go on the birth certificate. If an AOP is signed at the hospital when a child is born, the father's name is automatically added to the birth certificate. If paternity is established after leaving the hospital, either through a court order or by signing an AOP, the Texas VSU has a process to request that the father's name be added to the birth certificate.

What if the incarcerated parent wants to sign the AOP?

If the incarcerated parent and the other parent both agree that they want to sign an AOP, the parent who is not incarcerated can contact staff at the local child support office, or call (866) 255-2006.

What are the legal benefits of establishing paternity?

Establishing paternity has many benefits for children and parents. The most important benefit for children is knowing that they have a father who wants to be in their life. Once paternity is established, the legal father has all the parental rights and responsibilities of a father who was married to the mother. Also, the legal father may be listed on the child's birth certificate, giving the child a sense of identity. Establishing paternity also gives children, if eligible, the opportunity to receive Social Security, military and health insurance benefits from both the mother and the father.

How do you change the child's last name to the father's last name?

If paternity is established for a very young child through the completion and filing of an AOP, a name change may be possible through a process with the VSU. If paternity is being established through the court, parents can ask the court to change a child's last name to the legal father's last name when the paternity order is finalized. Otherwise, parents may submit a separate petition (request) to the court to change the child's name.

What if I change my mind after I sign the AOP?

It can be very difficult for an incarcerated parent to rescind or challenge an AOP.

Depending on the situation, a person may be able to follow a very specific and time-sensitive process to rescind (take back) the AOP or challenge the AOP in court. If you have been recently released and wish to find out more about how to rescind or challenge an AOP, visit texaslawhelp.org, click [Families and Kids] and then click [Paternity].

What if I'm not sure who is the biological father of the child?

If either parent has a doubt about who is the child's biological father, neither should sign an AOP. Parents should get a genetic test to confirm who is the biological father before signing an AOP. Once parents get the results of the genetic test, they may then complete an AOP or go to court to establish the biological father as the legal father of the child.

In many instances, if paternity has not already been established, genetic testing may be provided at no cost by opening a child support case with the Office of the Attorney General. The OAG will not provide genetic testing to parents who have already established paternity through a court order or by completing an AOP. Parents who can access genetic testing through an accredited private lab or over-the-counter kit from a pharmacy may be able to identify the biological father without opening a child support case.

FREQUENTLY ASKED QUESTIONS ABOUT CHILD SUPPORT

Can I open a case with the Office of the Attorney General?

The OAG accepts applications from mothers, fathers and other individuals who request services. OAG attorneys represent the state of Texas in providing child support services and do not represent either parent in the case.

We think of ourselves as still being together as a couple, so why do I have a child support case?

A child support case was opened because the other parent and your children do not live with you. If the custodial parent (CP) applies for Temporary Assistance for Needy Families (TANF) or Medicaid, the state may proceed with a child support case even when the CP does not want child support.

What should I do if I have a child support case when I enter prison?

If you have a child support case, provide the office that is handling your case with your current address. By doing this, you will receive monthly updates that show how much you have paid and how much you owe in past-due support. If you want to try to lower your monthly child support payment, send in the form on page 9 of this booklet, or contact your local child support office and ask for a review and adjustment packet.

Remember: If you are able to send in all or some of your child support payments, send them through the State Disbursement Unit. Do not send child support payments directly to the other parent.

If I am in prison, I cannot work. Why doesn't my child support order change automatically?

The OAG cannot automatically change your child support; only the court that has jurisdiction in your case can change the amount of child support you are required to pay. The court will consider changing the child support amount after the correct legal papers are filed. The court also must allow the other parent to present evidence that can affect the court decision.

How can my child support order be changed?

If you want the court to change your child support order while you are in prison, legal papers must be filed in court. One way to see if the court will change your order is by completing the OAG's Incarcerated Noncustodial Parent Affidavit of Income/Assets form and returning it to our office. You may be asked to provide financial information and a notarized statement that can be given to the court for evidence. The completed forms do not guarantee that your child support will change, but they will help the court make a decision. You also can hire a private attorney to file papers with the court.

Remember that the amount you owe doesn't change until the court makes a ruling. Also, interest is added to child support that goes unpaid while you are in prison. If you are able to pay any child support while you are incarcerated, it will help you and your child.

What happens to my child support payments while I'm in prison?

If you are the custodial parent and you do not contact the OAG, payments will continue to be sent through the payment method you selected: by direct deposit to a bank account or debit card, or by mail to the address previously provided. The OAG will continue to send your child support payments to you unless a court order redirects them to another person. For example, the court may order that payments go to the person with physical custody of your children while you are incarcerated.

While I'm in prison, can the child support I receive go to the person who is taking care of my children? If so, what should I do?

Yes, your child support can go to the person caring for your children. There are two ways to redirect child support to a child's caregiver. One way is by completing an "Authorization for Release of Information and Payment" and returning it to the OAG. Include the name of the person who is to receive the payments.

A second way to redirect payments is for the person with physical custody of the children to apply for child support services. Then, the OAG will seek a child support order to redirect the child support payments to that person. Caregivers must provide proof that the children live with them before the OAG can file a legal motion to redirect child support. Examples of proof include children's school or daycare records, or an affidavit of possession.

Where can I get help with my child support or information about my child support case?

If you are incarcerated, the law library is a good place to start. The law librarian can give you the "Child Support Inquiry Form for Incarcerated Parents."

All requests for information about child support or your child support case must be made on this form. Please allow 60-90 days for a response.

FREQUENTLY ASKED QUESTIONS ABOUT CUSTODY AND VISITATION

Does the OAG handle custody and visitation problems?

The Office of the Attorney General is not authorized to handle custody or visitation disputes. After incarceration, the Access and Visitation Hotline can provide parenting time (visitation) resources that may help reunite and resume parenting time with your children. The hotline number is (866) 292-4636. The hotline is answered in English and Spanish, Monday–Friday, 1–7 p.m.

Are fathers treated differently from mothers in child support matters?

No. Texas laws about support, custody and visitation do not mention the parent's gender. Texas law focuses on the best interest of the child.

What should I do if I believe my child is being abused?

Call the Department of Family and Protective Services at (800) 252-5400. If you do not have access to a phone, ask someone else to make the call for you.

FREQUENTLY ASKED QUESTIONS UPON RELEASE FROM INCARCERATION

Most people need time to get on their feet after leaving prison. The OAG may be able to temporarily delay certain enforcement actions when parents provide evidence that they are looking for a job and making some child support payments. It's important to make an appointment with a child support office upon release from prison. Request a review of your court order when you return to work, or if you reunite with your child's other parent.

Are there any services available to help me get a job so I can pay my child support?

You can go to the Texas Workforce Commission's local workforce development board for job search help, skills training and employment support services. You also may dial 211 or search the Internet for referrals to educational, literacy or parenting classes, or referrals to substance abuse counseling. In some cases, the court may order a noncustodial parent who is behind on child support payments to take part in one or more of these services.

What can I do about my child support case once I am released from prison?

- Contact the child support office handling your case and provide your new phone number, address and employment information. If you are living in transitional housing, let the office know how much of your income is deducted to cover the expense. Remember that the more information you provide, the easier it is for the child support office to make informed decisions about your case.
- Pay child support regularly while you are looking for work. Even if you can't pay the full amount, pay what you can.
- Stay in touch with the child support office handling your case about your job search efforts, and find employment before an enforcement action is taken.
- Notify the child support office as soon as you get a job, so that the office can send an order to your employer to automatically deduct child support from your pay check and send it to the Texas State Disbursement Unit.

- Request referrals for parenting classes, job help or other social services.

My child support order was modified during my incarceration. Now that I am out, will my monthly payment change?

If your child support order was lowered while you were in prison, the court will consider your release from prison as a reason it can change your child support order. After your release from prison, the amount you pay in child support will likely increase to reflect your actual earnings or your earning capacity.

Do I have to go to court to get my child support modified when I get out of prison?

Not always; in some cases you may be eligible for the Child Support Review Process (CSRP), which is one way to handle legal issues on your child support case without going to court. In CSRP, both parents are given the opportunity to meet with a child support officer at a local child support office to establish a legal order. Ask at the child support office if you are eligible.

How does the court decide how much child support I will pay?

Texas law sets the following general guidelines for child support payments. The percentage is applied to the net resources of the noncustodial parent.

- 20% for one child
- 25% for two children
- 30% for three children
- 35% for four children
- 40% for five children
- Not less than 40% for six or more children

Special rules apply if you have children in more than one household.

I have remarried, and my spouse makes a very good living. Will the child support office take my child support out of my spouse's earnings? Will my spouse's income be counted when my child support amount is calculated?

No. Child support cannot be taken out of a spouse's check or earnings. A new spouse's income will not be added to your net resources when calculating the amount of child support to be paid.

I have children with different mothers. How will the court determine the amount of child support that I pay?

When you have children in different households, the court uses a multiple household formula to determine the amount of support you must pay. It is important that you let the judge or child support review officer know that you are legally responsible to support other children who have a different mother.

SECTION 2: (Requires dates and supporting documentation)

This section is for explaining and documenting why you did not register with Selective Service. This section consists of five different parts. You must complete and submit documentation for any and all parts that apply to you.

Military:

To obtain proof of military service (DD-214, Official Military Personnel File) write to: National Personnel Records Center, GSA, Military Personnel Records Center, 9700 Page Blvd., St. Louis, MO, 63132. Or visit <http://www.archives.gov/veterans/military-service-records>

For each instance, provide type of confinement, dates of confinement, and supporting documentation.

Non-Citizen / Non-Immigrants:

If you entered the United States for the first time after your 26th birthday, you must provide documentation to support your claim. Valid documentation includes: entry stamp in your passport, I-94 with entry stamp on it. If you entered the United States illegally after your 26th birthday, you must provide proof that you were not living in the United States from age 18 to age 26. Please note: your Resident Alien Card (Green Card) is not proof of entry to the United States.

If you entered the United States as a valid non-immigrant, and remained in that status to your 26th birthday, you must provide documentation to support your claim. For example, if you entered the United States as an F-1 student, and remained in that status until your 26th birthday, you would need to provide documentation indicating that you were admitted on an F-1 visa and attended school full-time as required. (Acceptable documents for this situation include copies of your I-20s or a letter from the school you attended indicating your full time attendance as a non-immigrant). The same thing applies for all non-immigrant statuses. You must explain, if at any point, you violated the terms of your visa, or overstayed your visa and became an undocumented immigrant.

You should provide as much information as possible. We will use the information you provide to determine your registration status. A list of documents to provide can be found at:

<https://www.sss.gov/Portals/0/PDFs/DocumentationList.pdf>

Reason why you failed to register with Selective Service upon reaching age 18 and before reaching age 26:

Provide a written explanation for not registering with Selective Service.

SECTION 3:

Sign and date the letter (required).
